HOUSE KILLS OCD FRIVOLITY, LIMITS SCOPE

Debate Centered on Mrs. Roosevelt.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Putting Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, definitely on notice that congress is determined to eliminate "frivolity" from the office of civilian defense where she is assistant director, the house today roared its approval of an amendment banning the spending of government funds on dancing, fan dancing, street shows, and theatrical performances in the OCD.

Donald Duck in scene from income tax movie.

Leaders waived a formal roll call vote but the lineup in the chamber on the issue was shown when the members voted, 259 to 112, to knock out of the pending bill an $80,000 item for the production of a Walt Disney moving picture intended to persuade the nation to pay its income taxes cheerfully.

"Not a Buck for Duck."

"Billions for defense but not one buck for Donald Duck!" was the slogan which inspired the statesmen to turn the film down.

In doing so, however, the house found itself in sharp disagreement with the treasury department on the value of Donald Duck as a promoter. Half of the $80,000 was to pay Disney for production expenses and the other half to pay for prints of the film which is already being shown in theaters thruout the country.

Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, commenting on the house action, said:

"I still think the Donald Duck was one of the best investments the treasury ever made. If I had it to do over again, I would repeat it."

Futile Struggle by Leaders.

Tentative approval of the "fan dancer" and "Donald Duck" amendments had been voiced last Friday. Leaders strove futilely over the week-end to round up enough Democrats to overturn these votes. Instead, they barely averted a move by a prominent Democrat to write into the measure a demand that Mrs. Roosevelt get out of the OCD and "take her friends with her."

The debate and voting today again centered about Mrs. Roosevelt and her activities. The OCD, given $100,000,000 in the bill approved after adoption of the amendments, is supposed to protect the civilian population from bombing attacks and other war hazards. Congressmen wanted to know why Mrs. Roosevelt was appointing such glamorous figures as Melvyn Douglas, screen star, and Mayris Chaney, night club dancer, to high ranking posts in the organization.

Limited to Protection.

While the debate was going on Mrs. Roosevelt told her press conference that she hoped her congressional critics would give her "the courtesy of appearing and discussing the matter."

"They have offices and I have feet," she said.

Toward the close of the discussion, Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], high ranking member of the appropriations committee, gave a pledge to members that the committee would oppose any future appropriations for OCD activities not directly concerned with the protection of the populace.

"I hope we don't work ourselves up into too much of a lather," he remarked, "because this bill is not the proper measure upon which to base our discussion. In a short time, the OCD will be in for funds for administration expenses. I, myself, doubt the wisdom of much that is being done in the OCD and I can assure you

600 Homeless in $50,000 Fire on South Side

(Pictures on pages 2 and 8.)

A $50,000 fire swept the Kenwood Garden apartments at 5519 Kenwood avenue late yesterday, ruining the interior of more than half the 250 apartments and leaving most of the 600 residents homeless.

Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan and Chief Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney personally directed their firemen, who brought to the scene 60 units of fire fighting apparatus, including two aerial water towers and a light wagon used to floodlight the building when darkness fell.

Fire Starts in Boiler Room.

The fire started in the boiler room of the six story building, which was one of the landmarks of the World's Columbian exposition of 1893. The flames quickly spread thru the north half of the structure.

Tenants began fleeing at once, but a number of them remained to throw valuables out the windows. Firemen found a number of aged or sick persons trapped in their apartments and carried them down fire escapes and ladders to safety.

Among the 50 rescued were Mrs. Ada McAllen, 79 years old; Mrs. Minnie Bell, 65; Mrs. Elaine Parbacz, 19, a bride of a week; Mrs. Clara Hughes, 44, and Miss Anita Mumoz, 22, who was ill.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 watched the firemen fight the blaze from the interior of the building, the ground, and the roof of a four story building to the north, which is a few feet from the busy 55th street commercial district.

Bursting Hose Hampers Work.

The firemen were hampered by the bursting of a number of hose lines. Chief Marshal Mullaney said, however, that thousands of feet of hose were in use and that the trouble with the lines, often caused by water pressure, were not more than normal.

Coast guard training students housed at the University of Chicago aided in fighting the flames.

Firemen and the residents of the building who were driven out into the bitter cold and snow were given hot coffee in the Red Cross office on the first floor of the building.

Defense Workers Assist.

Civilian defense workers took charge of providing homes and food for the refugees under the direction of George X. Rosenthal, Hyde Park community defense commander. The workers and officials of the Hyde Park Neighborhood club at 1364 East 56th street cooked hot suppers for the homeless.

The University of Chicago Institute of Military Studies provided cots and blankets, which were installed in the club for 100 persons who had no other place to sleep. John G. Guinnessy is director of the club.

The St. Thomas the Apostle convent gave sleeping accommodations to 100 of the homeless. Some of the block defense captains threw open their homes. Among the captains cooperating in relief work were Mrs. John L. McDonald, J. Alton Lauren, Sheldon Tefft, Louis Miller, George N. Simpson, and John A. Lau.

MEIGHEN, CRITIC OF CANADA VOTE ON DRAFT, BEATEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 9.—W. L. Mackenzie King's Liberal government of Canada today received what is regarded as public endorsement of its much criticized proposal for a national plebiscite on conscription for overseas service. Liberal candidates were elected to the house of commons in three by-elections. Former Premier Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader and chief critic of the plebiscite, was defeated in his attempt to win a seat.

Among Liberal victors was Humphrey Mitchell, new labor minister, who defeated the anti-plebiscite independent, J. Douglas Watt, by approximately 2,000 majority in Welland, Ont.

Meighen, who was recently reëlected as Conservative leader, was defeated by about 4,000 votes by a Canadian commonwealth federation candidate, Joseph Noseworthy, in the traditionally Conservative South York, Ont., district. Noseworthy campaigned for conscription of wealth as well as man power.

Newly appointed Justice Minister Louis St. Laurent won by about 3,000 votes over a Canadian party [anti-conscription] candidate in a Quebec city district.

No-Limit U. S. Debt Studied by Morgenthau

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 [Special]. — Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today said he soon would have to ask congress either to raise the national debt limit to 110 billion dollars from its present 65 billions or to remove it altogether.

The debt now is slightly more than $60,000,000,000, and at the end of the week $1,500,000,000 more of new money securities will have been sold.

The budget bureau has estimated that the debt would reach 110 billons by the end of the next fiscal year, June 30, 1943, increasing by almost 22 billions during the current fiscal year and by 40 billions in 1943.

Figures are Analyzed.

The Federal Reserve board today pointed out, however, that treasury investment of social security and other trust funds and retirement of guaranteed obligations would make the increase in the total amount of privately held direct and guaranteed government securities about $9,000,000,000 less than the increase in the gross debt estimated for the fiscal years 1942 and 1943.

Some of the increased debt will be provided for by the sale of non-marketable issues, such as savings bonds and tax anticipation notes.

Defense Sales Boom.

The budget bureau did not estimate receipts from sales of savings bonds and tax notes, but in the first six months of the current fiscal year net sales of savings bonds amounted to $1,800,000,000, and in January they skyrocketed, bringing the total for the seven months of the present fiscal year to date to $2,718,597,400. Net sales of tax notes totaled $2,500,000,000 for the past half year.

Debt in the form of direct and guaranteed obligations of the government in the hands of the public increased by about $11,000,000,000 in the calendar year 1941, compared to an increase of $2,500,000,000 in 1940.

Special efforts were made in 1941 to sell government securities to investors other than banks with a view to preventing credit inflation.

As a result, whereas during 1940 and the latter half of 1941 about two-thirds of the increase in privately-held direct and guaranteed government debt was accounted for by the growth of bank portfolios, holdings of investors other than banks absorbed about four-fifths of the increase in privately-held debt in the latter half of 1941.

DIVE BOMBERS AID JAPS' PUSH ON TOWARD CITY

SINGAPORE, Feb. 10 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Under extreme pressure by Japanese invasion forces, British troops have executed a further withdrawal on Singapore Island, it was announced officially today.

A communique from British headquarters said the withdrawal was forced yesterday afternoon under the weight of Japanese dive bombing and artillery bombardment and the menace of infiltrating ground forces.

Thus the first invaders ever to set foot upon this outpost of empire in the 123 years of its existence widened the foothold they established on a 10 mile stretch of the northwestern part of the island late Sunday night and Monday morning.

Strong Enemy Attacks.

The struggle serged thru thick mangrove swamps and rubber plantations, the latest blow to the British fortunes coming after it had seemed that the defenders had absorbed the first shock and were in a good position.

British headquarters issued the following communique at 10 p. m. last night [10 a. m. Chicago war time]:

"Strong enemy attacks which have developed from the landing on the west coast have been supplemented by dive-bombing and machine gunning from the air thruout the day and by heavy enemy artillery bombardment.

Some Stubborn Fighting.

"As a result of this pressure and enemy infiltration, there has been some further withdrawal of our troops after stubborn fighting."

After several shells fell yesterday morning in the city of Singapore, one of them in a residential area, the city was untouched thru the day by the battle surging within 15 miles of the downtown district.

There were several alerts, but the Japanese devoted the full punch of their high-level and dive-bombing attacks against the men fighting the invasion forces or manning defense positions along the Strait of Johore.

Australians in Front.

The Australians, into whose positions the enemy had thrust under artillery fire in the darkness, held the forward British sectors. Their commander, Maj. Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, thus summed up developments late in the day:

"The situation is well in hand.

"We have taken a stand on a strong line and are organizing an attack which it is hoped will recover as much as possible of the lost terrain."

The day and hour were fateful. The great necessity of the defenders was to cut up these first Japanese invading forces lest others be landed before another dawn.

Favored by Darkness.

The enemy had landed from especially equipped boats on the northwest coast of the island between 11 o'clock last night and 1 o'clock this morning. He was favored by almost utter darkness; the half-moon did not rise until 1 a. m.

Using the same infiltration tactics with which he had taken the whole of the Malayan peninsula in the weeks preceding this last showdown for Singapore, the invader had strewn his forces in the area from the mouth of the Kranji estuary along the northern shore down to Pasir Laba along the west coast.

[Roundabout Tokio broadcasts claimed that Japanese parachutists participated in the invasion. They also stated that Japanese warships were preparing to join in an assault upon the island.]

Death or Victory!

All over the island, the British positions were simultaneously under dive-bombing attack. British Hurricanes, rising against this serious challenge, shot down at least three Japanese craft during the day, reported the probable destruction of three others and damage to at least 13.

For the defenders this was the test of tests. Alternatives were simple and unqualified: Death or victory.

The enemy's assaults were concen-

HERE'S DIGEST OF THE WAR NEWS FROM ALL FRONTS

Latest developments on all fronts:

The guns of the Manila bay forts located and scored direct hits on several of the concealed Japanese batteries which have been shelling them, Gen. MacArthur reported to the war department. While dive bombers again were active over his defense lines, the American army beat off several attempts to penetrate its positions.

On Singapore Island the British acknowledged a further withdrawal under the weight of Japanese dive bombing and artillery bombardment and the menace of infiltrating ground forces. The invaders, who landed on a 10 mile stretch of the western shore of the island, hold footholds from the mouth of the Kranji estuary along the north shore to Pasir Laba on the west coast. It was the first time a foe had set foot on Singapore Island in 123 years. The British said they retreated after stubborn fighting.

Batavia Streets Raided.

On the Dutch East Indies front, the Japs continued their air attacks, this time resorting to low flying machine gunning rather than dropping bombs. The streets of Batavia were shot up and passenger as well as military aircraft at two airports were damaged by machine gun fire. One and possibly two of the Jap raiding planes was shot down, the Dutch reported.

On the Burma front the American volunteer flying force shot down their 101st plane, Robert Keeton, a former Colorado football star, having the honor of beating the 100 mark. The British were still holding their positions along the Salween river, where the Japs are concentrating for a drive on Rangoon. Chinese took over a sector of the front.

Russians Take More Towns.

The Russians reported hurling the Germans back on both ends of the 1,500 mile eastern front. The principal gains were made in the Donetz basin, where the German retreat was said to be taking on the proportions of a rout. Northwest of Moscow 30 villages have been liberated in the last few days, Moscow said.

In Africa the British returned to offensive tactics, sending out mobile columns west of Tobruk to feel out the German infantry and artillery. The RAF was said to have blasted the axis lines and three hits were made on shipping in the harbor of Tripoli.

FIRMS WITHDRAW CARGO INSURANCE IN PACIFIC ZONES

New York, Feb. 9 (AP).—Marine underwriters announced tonight the withdrawal, effective tomorrow, of quoted cargo war risk insurance rates to the Netherlands East Indies and Burma areas "in view of the increasing seriousness of the far eastern situation."

The charge for such insurance had been $10 per $100, covering cargoes moving between western hemisphere points and ports east of Calcutta, India. Rates still will be quoted, the underwriters said, but only on application.

War risk insurance on cargoes for Australia was continued at $6 per $100 for trans-Pacific voyages and $5 per $100 for voyages via the Cape of Good Hope.

1,500 FLEE SHIP WHILE FLAMES RACE THRU HULL

128 Persons Injured, One Fatally.

BULLETIN.

New York, Feb. 10 (Tuesday) (AP).—The $60,000,000 former French liner Normandie, her upper decks ravaged by fire and the huge vessel abandoned as a safety precaution, toppled over at her Hudson river pier at 1:45 a. m. (Chicago war time) today. With a gentle roll and a crunching noise as her superstructure struck the ice-coated surface, the giant ship gave way to the incoming tide as the navy had feared when it ordered all hands off the ship and away from the pier.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

New York, Feb. 9.—One man died and 128 sailors, coast guardsmen, and civilian workers were injured today when a disastrous fire swept thru the former French superliner Normandie at her berth in New York harbor.

The fire was under control tonight, but the giant hulk of the vessel with three decks virtually burned out was listing heavily on one side as a result of the water pumped in to quench the flames. Water was pouring over the port rail like the stream from some giant tilted dipper and there was fear the ship might capsize.

Work was under way to convert the Normandie into a naval auxiliary, renamed as the U. S. S. Lafayette, but it will be many months before the big vessel will be ready to sail again on any kind of voyage.

Blamed on Carelessness.

Carelessness—and not wartime sabotage as first suspected—caused the fire in the opinion of navy officers. The blaze was one of the worst in the history of the New York waterfront. Apparently sparks from a workman's oxyacetylene torch started the flames which raked the ship from stem to stern and gutted the interior.

Possibility of fifth column work was dismissed by Rear Adm. Adolphus Andrews, commanding the 3d naval district here. The admiral issued a formal statement on the origin of the fire as follows:

"The fire started at about 2:45 p. m. on the salon [promenade] deck, when a civilian worker employed by the Robbins Dry Dock company was using an acetylene torch to remove an ornamental lamp from the salon wall. A spark from his torch apparently leaped into a pile of [kapok] life preservers, igniting them. The fire then spread thru the salon, and thence to other decks."

Shout Warning to Workers.

The flames shot up the pile to the ceiling and then, whipped along by a stiff west wind from across the Hudson river, they leaped from one pile of material to another. A hoarse voice began to cry over the public address system:

"Get off the ship! Get off the ship!"

There were 300 sailors, 400 coast guardsmen and 800 workmen aboard at the time. All began scrambling for safety thru the thickening, choking clouds of black smoke.

Hundreds ran down the gangplanks but others were cut off from this exit by the flames.

Escaped to Elevated Highway.

Firemen, on the scene summoned by a four-eleven alarm, placed a 90 foot extension ladder from the railing of the west side elevated highway, which runs along the piers, to the uprearing tip of the Normandie's flaring bow.

Sailors, boys in the coast guard, and workmen helped each other scramble across this precarious pathway to safety.

An emergency hospital was set up inside the pier and from this hastily improvised unit stretcher bearers emerged thru the pall of smoke during the afternoon and evening bearing cases to waiting ambulances which took the victims to nearby hospitals. The man who died was Frank Trenta-Costa, 36 years old, a workman living in Brooklyn. Among the injured coast guardsmen was John Churillo, listed as from Chicago.

It was reported that more than 40 men were seriously injured, and Roman Catholic priests from west side churches gave the last rites of the church to those of their faith who were in the worst condition.

The fire, meanwhile, kept burning fiercely, and was not pronounced under control by Fire Chief Patrick J. Walsh until 7 p. m. Walsh said the three upper decks of the lurching 83,423-ton sea queen had been "practically burned away."

Outside, the metal hull, daubed over with its war paint of dull gray, appeared to withstand the conflagration. The Normandie looked like a big furnace, with red tongues of flame darting out of some openings and the bright glow of red-hot embers showing thru other breaks in the vessel's hide.

The unofficial damage estimate ranged up as high as $5,000,000.

Great clouds of black smoke swirled upward around the three big funnels on the Normandie's superstructure and then spread out like a black rug over the neighborhood, covering an area nearly two miles square. The smoke at the pier added to the difficulty of fire fighting.

The alarm summoned not only the regular fire and police apparatus but also several units of all the various first aid and air raid organizations which have sprung up here since the war.

It was a scene of utmost confusion, with Red Cross and American women's voluntary service workers dashing to and fro along with the firemen, police, sailors, a contingent of Negro soldiers, who were on guard with rifles, naval officers in gold braid, and hundreds of spectators, who burst thru the police lines. Underfoot there was a maze of hose lines. Ambulances and fire trucks were parked all over the area.

Fireboats Scurry in Harbor.

Fireboats scurried across the harbor surface like water bugs and began pumping streams of water over the aft end of the stricken ship. The fire engines on shore could not reach the stern and the fireboats had to take care of the flames there.

Tonight several fireboats pressed against the port side of the listing ship, giving some support against the feared capsizing. The water from the decks above spilled over on the fireboats, making a sparkling cascade in the glare of the searchlights playing on the scene.

Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, who dotes on running to fires anyway, was an early arrival, sloshing around over the tangled hose lines in a black hat and corduroy collared raincoat. District Attorney Frank Hogan sped to the fire on hearing the first report of possible sabotage. Agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation were also on hand.

Caught in U. S. By War.

The Normandie was caught here on Sept. 3, 1939, when France entered the war and here she has remained ever since.

United States coast guardsmen boarded the Normandie on May 15 of last year and placed the vessel under "protective custody." The skeleton French crew was allowed to remain aboard.

Last Dec. 12 the French tri-color was hauled down.

Built at St. Nazaire, France, the Normandie was launched in 1935. The ship was France's bid for the mythical "blue ribbon of the Atlantic," which in peacetime went to the liner which made the crossing between Europe and the United States in the speediest time.

On her maiden voyage on June of 1935, the Normandie completed the crossing from Havre in the record breaking time of 4 days, 11 hours, and 33 minutes at an average speed of 29.68 knots. She negotiated an eastbound run in August of 1937 in 3 days, 22 hours, and 7 minutes, making the fastest ship crossing of the Atlantic at an average speed of 31.20.

However, the following year the Queen Mary, pride of the British merchant marine, completed an eastbound crossing in 3 days, 20 hours, and 42 minutes, averaging 31.69 knots.

The conversion job began with the removal of two million dollars worth of art objects and furnishings. Silverware valued at $150,000 was taken off and 10,000 cases of choice liquors, including vintage champagne, was stored away for the duration.

With an overall length of 1,029 feet, the Normandie had a passenger capacity of 2,170. Features included a hospital, library, drug store, theater, church, and a variety of Parisian shops.

DENY NEW TIRES TO LAUNDRIES AND CLEANERS

Home delivery of clean shirts is not considered essential to the defense program, tire rationing boards from the metropolitan area learned at a meeting last night in the city council chambers.

So, when the pinch of the tire rationing program is felt, Chicagoans can plan on sprinting for the laundry with extra shirt under arm. Regulations now will not allow new tires for laundry trucks delivering to the householder. The trucks of cleaners and dyers won't get tire certificates, either.

These and other matters came to light at a question and answer program, presided over by Michael Mulcahy, metropolitan area tire rationing administrator.

Mayor Kelly reported that he had a report from the federal bureau of investigation that tires are being sold in Chicago for $100 per set. The mayor said that the cheaters would be caught and punished.

FACTS ON WOOL: BOTH SUPPLIES AND NEEDS HUGE

U. S. Commercial Stocks at Record Level.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Huge military requirements for wool must be filled in the next two years and, as one of the first moves to conserve stocks of raw wool, textile mills have been ordered by the government to limit production.

The measures adopted so far have not been felt by consumers. However, many persons are stocking up on woolen goods in the anticipation that civilian consumption will be curtailed severely by the government.

Results of a survey by THE TRIBUNE of factors affecting wool supplies and consumption are presented in this article. Other commodities, in which shortages have been suggested, will be taken up in subsequent articles.

USE IN PEACETIME

Nation Consumes 500-700 Million Pounds in Year

Consumption of apparel wool in the United States in peacetimes is between 500 and 700 million pounds a year. Domestic production fills most of the needs. Some foreign wool, however, is required to supplement domestic supplies.

Imports in normal times are not large. From 1930 thru 1935 the United States used less than 50 million pounds of foreign wool a year. Domestic production in that period ranged from 400 to 500 million pounds annually.

Consumption Increases Sharply.

Consumption increased sharply in 1935 and imports in the following two years exceeded 100 million pounds, but fell off again in 1938 and 1939. In 1940, after the outbreak of the war in Europe, the United States again became a big buyer of foreign wool, imports for the year reaching 222 million pounds. The imports that year were the largest since 1923.

In 1941, with the United States equipping its own army, imports soared again—to 593 million pounds, exceeding domestic production for the first time since the period of the first World war. This year's imports are expected to exceed 1 billion pounds.

EACH SOLDIER'S NEED

Requires 279 Pounds of Wool in Year; Clip from 10 Sheep

By American army standards each soldier requires 279 pounds of wool a year for his uniform and necessary replacements. This is the equivalent of a year's clip from 10 sheep. This equipment enables an American soldier to withstand winter climates such as prevail in the northwestern states.

Germany's lack of wool is regarded as one of the main causes of the winter retreat of the German armies in Russia.

"Hospitals in Germany and the countries allied with her are filled with soldiers who have lost arms or legs or both in the bitter sub-zero weather," the American Woolen council says.

Lack Is Acknowledged.

"Behind the military forces are shivering, inadequately clothed civilians, not only in Germany, but in all parts of conquered and ravaged Europe. The desperate lack of wool is acknowledged in the frantic appeals to the people of Germany to contribute every possible shred of woolen clothing for the use of the army. The situation there cannot possibly improve or even remain static because the world's wool supplies are firmly held by North and South America and Great Britain. Over 90 per cent of all the wool in the world is grown in Australasia, South Africa, and North and South America."

Germany's reserve of raw wool at the beginning of the war was estimated at 500 million pounds, in addition to stocks of uniform materials. At that time 30 per cent of the uniform of a private in the German army consisted of substitute materials. The proportion has since increased.

COMPARISON FAVORS U. S.

Domestic Production Large; Other Stocks Available

By comparison with Germany, the United States is favorably situated. Its domestic production is large and it has access at present to ample stocks in South America, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. Against this are the tremendous requirements of equipping a rapidly growing army.

The war production board estimates that the United States will need 1 billion 750 million pounds of wool this year to equip its army and provide for civilian requirements. Of this total 1 billion 250 million pounds would be reserved for military needs, leaving 500 million pounds for civilian requirements.

Large Stock on Hand.

The United States began 1942 with large stocks of wool. Commercial supplies were estimated at 400 million pounds, the largest on record. In addition, the government owned an emergency reserve of 500 million pounds, part of which was acquired from British owned wool reserves stored in this country.

The combined commercial and government stocks, plus estimated 1942 domestic production of 500 million pounds, are 350 million pounds short of indicated consumption, if wool available for import is not considered. Furthermore, the government indicates that it will seek to avoid dipping into emergency reserve and will maintain commercial supplies at a high level. The situation may be summarized as follows:

	Million Lbs.
Commercial stocks Jan. 1	400
Gov't. Emergency Reserve	500
Est. Production—1942	500
Available for import— From South America	600
Australia, N. Zealand and South Africa	1,400
Total available supplies	3,400,000
Estimated consumption	1,750,000

The war board's estimate of military requirements takes account of the army policy of purchasing sufficient material to equip each soldier, plus an additional amount for replacements and reserves.

Estimate by Army Official.

Brig. Gen. C. L. Corbin, chief of the supply section of the quartermaster's department, has estimated that it will take 450 to 500 million pounds of wool to equip the 2 million men who will be inducted this year. With the induction of another 2 million men in 1943, another 850 million to 1 billion pounds would be needed for all military requirements next year, he said. Gen. Corbin's estimate differs from that of the war production board because he budgets over two years the military consumption lumped by the board's statisticians under 1942 requirements.

On the basis of Gen. Corbin's figures the requirements for both military and civilian requirements approximate 1 billion pounds this year. This would be covered by domestic production and imports from South America without depleting commercial stocks or the emergency reserve.

How much wool this country will actually get from the available supplies in Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa is not known. Import figures are no longer published but wool from these areas still is coming in.

Supplying the wool needs of the nation beyond 1942, wool authorities state, reduces itself to a problem of transportation. Involved are the wartime hazards to shipping, the amount of cargo space available, and the possibility that sources of supply may be cut off by enemy action.

SUPPLIES FOR CIVILIANS

Stocks Called Adequate to Meet Needs Thru Next Fall

F. Eugene Ackerman, executive director of the American Wool council, says that garments, fabrics, and other products now in the hands of manufacturers, distributors and retailers will meet civilian needs thru next fall. After that supplies for civilian use will depend on the amount of wool received from foreign sources and the policy of the government toward the use of stocks now on hand.

The 500 million tons allocated for civilian use in 1942 by the war production board is about 26 per cent less than the 1940 consumption of 682 million pounds. The consumption last year, swelled by the demands of the military forces, was estimated to have approached 1 billion pounds. In the preceding decade, however, domestic consumption varied between 381 million pounds in 1934 and 748 millions in 1935.

Reflect Changing Styles.

Year.	Domestic production.	Net imports.	Consumption.

Early this year textile mills curtailed production by government order to 80 per cent of the rate at which they operated in the first six months of 1941. Even at this reduced rate, according to the department of agriculture, mills are turning out more goods than the average rate of consumption in the years 1935-'39.

WIFE OF DOCTOR ACCUSES WRONG MAN IN ASSAULT

For several hours last night Ray Baich, 20 years old, 5938 South Kostner avenue, protested to Chicago Lawn police that he wasn't a robber in spite of an identification by Mrs. Jeanette Coppock, 2038 West 67th place, wife of Dr. Orion O. Coppock.

Baich had been arrested with Tony Strejc, 21, of 5811 South Kenneth avenue, and Mrs. Coppock identified both as the pair who had struck her with a pipe and a bat in an unsuccessful holdup attempt Dec. 12. Both men denied the accusation, and Baich in particular said Mrs. Coppock must have mistaken him for some other man who resembled him.

He mentioned a name and Detectives William Dooling and Joseph Leonard seized Dominic Fantozzi, 22, of 5441 South Kenneth avenue, who, they said, resembles Baich. Mrs. Coppock was called back to the station. This time she exonerated Baich and identified Fantozzi. Police said Fantozzi and Strejc will be investigated further but that Baich will be cleared.

2,000 OF CITY'S ENEMY ALIENS REGISTER AGAIN

Approximately 2,000 of Chicago's 50,000 enemy aliens applied for certificates of identification yesterday, the first day of alien re-registration, Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen estimated.

Kruetgen expressed satisfaction with the number, and said that at this rate all 50,000 probably will have filed applications by the Feb. 28 deadline. Those who fail to do so face internment for the duration of the war.

About 500 of yesterday's applicants came to the new post office or the old post office annex. The other 1,500 appeared at eight branch post offices where applications are being taken.

All German, Italian, and Japanese nationals 14 years of age or over who have not fully acquired United States citizenship must apply for the identification cards. Printed application forms, available at post offices, must be filled out and turned in with three full face photographs two inches square, and with the names and addresses of all the alien's close relatives.

GREEN PRAISES SEN. BROOKS AT LINCOLN DINNER

G. O. P. Leaders of State Hear Message.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Gov. Dwight H. Green last night departed from his prepared manuscript to praise Sen. Wayland Brooks before a crowd representing republicanism in all parts of Illinois.

The two were the principal speakers at a Lincoln day celebration in the ballroom of the Hotel Sherman under the auspices of the Republican state central committee. Congressmen, state officials, assemblymen, local officials, and party organization leaders were there, anxious to hear what the governor would say about the senator. Green has not declared himself on Brooks' candidacy for renomination.

Cheer Praise of Senator.

The crowd cheered wildly when the governor praised the senator and the words were taken as an indication that Brooks would have the support of the Green forces thruout the state.

Double significance was seen in the governor's words because State Treasurer Warren Wright, who has announced he will run against Brooks, sat only three chairs away from the center of the speakers' table.

The dinner was a nonpartisan, patriotic celebration of Lincoln's birthday. The two Democrats holding state office, Edward J. Hughes, secretary of state, and Edward F. Cullinane, clerk of the Supreme court, were among the guests of honor, and Hughes spoke briefly. If it had not been for the decision to keep the speeches nonpolitical, it was believed Green might have said more than he did.

Mentions Statesmen Heroes.

He spoke of statesmen heroes of the past, mentioning William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt, and alluding to the members of congress and to state legislators who were in the World war. Then he diverted from his prepared text.

He mentioned Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross and Treasurer Wright as having been in that war and spoke of State Auditor Arthur Lueder's service in the Spanish war.

"And in the United States senate now," he continued, "we have a man who in April, 1917, in the first month of that war, enlisted in the marines and won the Distinguished Service cross, the Navy cross, the Croix de Guerre and other honors, a man who served with bravery to the end of that war, our distinguished United States senator, C. Wayland Brooks."

Pleas for National Unity.

The speeches of both Green and Brooks were fervent declarations that national unity must and will prevail, but, with the applauding approval of the two Democratic guests, they also pleaded for the maintenance of the two party system.

"We are fighting the war, not as Republicans, not as Democrats, but shoulder to shoulder as loyal, patriotic Americans willing to die if need be," said Gov. Green.

Brooks placed before his hearers a picture of the immensity of the struggle in which the nation is now engaged. He told them that victory will require mastery of the Atlantic, control of the Mediterranean, and domination of the Pacific with distances involved ranging as high as 12,000 miles across which warships, troops, supplies, and munitions must travel. He also discussed the billions of dollars of costs.

Greatest Task in History.

"This is without question the greatest undertaking on the most elaborate scale ever attempted by any nation within the history of man.

"Many will have to bear burdens that today they do not contemplate, burdens they cannot even conceive. It will be their contribution and their sacrifice in the cause of freedom. We must steel ourselves as quickly as possible to these responsibilities and lend our every effort, our entire energy for national unity and a victorious conclusion of the war."

OFFICIAL OUSTED BY LA GUARDIA IS RESTORED TO JOB

New York, Feb. 9 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia reinstated one member of his municipal civil service commission and reserved decision as to two others after a 90 minute hearing in his office today on ouster proceedings begun by him last week against the entire commission.

The hearing was featured by an attack on the mayor for surrounding himself with "fawning, new political friends" to the detriment of his administration by Paul J. Kern, 33 year old president of the commission and for 12 years a close friend and protégé of the mayor. Altho the mayor's attitude was conciliatory, Kern renewed charges against the city law department which precipitated the break.

The mayor suspended the three commissioners last week when the commission went to court to force the corporation counsel to appeal against retaining "four political appointees" in the city register's office. Kern and Wallace S. Sayre remain under suspension pending a ruling by the mayor. Commissioner Ferdinand Q. Morton, a Negro, was reinstated.

FINED ON VAGRANCY CHARGES.

Albert Walker, 31 years old, 3245 North Neva avenue, was fined $200 yesterday by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in South State street court on vagrancy charges. Walker admitted accosting two young women on the north side.

STEPHEN A. DAY SEEKS TO RETAIN CONGRESS SEAT

Stephen A. Day.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9 (AP).—Stephen A. Day of Evanston, Republican congressman at large, filed petitions today as a candidate for renomination for a second term in the primary April 14.

Day was the first candidate of either party to file for the single congress at large seat at stake in this year's election. He personally presented petitions bearing about 7,000 names at the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes.

"We must win this war for the preservation of the United States of America. To that end I have pledged my whole devotion and my every energy just as I pledged myself to oppose our entry into the war before I was elected to congress. I kept that pledge. I have voted in congress for every measure calling for a vigorous prosecution of the war and for complete national defense."

Urges "Exposition" Party.

Day said national unity in prosecution of the war was essential, but that political unity would destroy the two-party system, and added "we need a patriotic and constructive party of exposition in the senate and the house."

William J. Baker or Chicago, who has unsuccessfully run for senator three times and for congressman at large once in the last 10 years, today filed as a senate candidate. Senator C. Wayland Brooks and State Treasurer Warren Wright are avowed candidates.

Montgomery B. Carrott, Quincy, became the first Democratic candidate for congress in the 15th district, where Rep. Robert B. Chiperfield, Republican incumbent, is thus far unopposed.

Miss Sumner Files.

Miss Jessie Sumner of Milford and C. W. Bishop, Carterville, added their names to the list of present congress members seeking renomination. Both are Republicans.

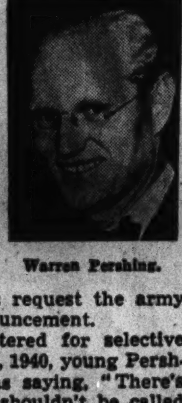
PERSHING'S SON, 32, ENLISTED IN ARMY ON FEB. 4 AS PRIVATE



Warren Pershing.

New York, Feb. 9 [Special].—Warren Pershing, 32 year old only son of Gen. John J. Pershing, is an army private at Fort Belvoir, Va., it was revealed here today. Married and the father of a year old son, young Pershing enlisted Wednesday in New York and was inducted at Fort Dix, the recruiting office here said. At his request the army sent out no announcement.

When he registered for selective service in October, 1940, young Pershing was quoted as saying, "There's no reason why I shouldn't be called up and there certainly is no reason for me to get a good job out of it. I really don't know anything more about being a soldier than the average man of draft age." At that time Pershing said he was willing to do anything, including kitchen police, if and when he should be called for duty.

CHARGE DELAY IN FIGHTING BIG CHURCH BLAZE

Members Demand Probe; Hydrant Failure Told.

An inquiry into causes which allegedly delayed firemen in extinquishing a roaring fire shortly after dawn yesterday in St. Paul's Union church, 9354 South Winchester avenue, was demanded by church members and residents in the neighborhood.

The neighbors and church members charged that no water was applied to the burning structure for at least half an hour after the first company arrived because hydrants failed to function and hoses burst. Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney, denying that long a delay, asserted that firemen were inside the church turning hoses on the blazing roof within five minutes after the company's arrival. Twenty-five pieces of equipment were sent to the scene.

Physician a Complainant.

Dr. Maurice M. Hoeltgen, a physician living at 9401 South Winchester avenue, said that the complainants were not attempting "to lambast the fire department."

"We all stood there unable to do anything while the church burned and the firemen were having a terrible time trying to get water," he said. "It wasn't the fault of the fire department, but we think that something should be done to prevent such a thing happening elsewhere."

According to the reports of Dr. Hoeltgen, William Fuka, who took colored moving pictures of the fire, and Mrs. William Iliffe, 9340 South Winchester avenue, wife of the pastor, this is what occurred:

Mrs. Iliffe noticed smoke pouring out of the windows and notified the fire department, the first alarm sounding at 7:16 a. m.

Report Hydrants Fail.

The first company to arrive attached a hose to the hydrant at 94th street and Winchester avenue, but the hydrant was defective. Another alarm was sounded at 7:29 and other companies, squads, and engines began arriving. When the firemen tried to use the hydrant a block north, it, too, failed to work. At 95th street and Damen avenue the hydrant functioned, but when the water began to rush forth the hose burst. It was more than 30 minutes before other hydrants were put to work, and by that time the church was nearly all burned.

The fire was struck out at 8:43, less than an hour and a half after the first alarm, Mullaney said.

"That's good time for that type of fire," he noted. "I'd say the fire was fairly well handled." He said a hydrant in front of the church was the only one that failed to work.

Mullaney estimated the damage at $50,000 and blamed an overheated furnace. The Rev. Mr. Iliffe said it would cost about $125,000 to rebuild the structure.

Two firemen were injured in a fire in a storeroom of the Morrison hotel. Those hurt are William Sagert, 45 years old, 3627 South Seeley avenue, a fractured rib, and Edward Sheehan, 31, of 4847 Quincy street, overcome by smoke. Both were taken to Henrotin hospital. The damage was estimated at $30,000.

FILE SUIT TO END TIEUP ON NORTH SHORE RAILROAD

Petition Seeks Action by U. S. Court.

A petition for court action to end the disruption of service on the North Shore electric lines because of a dispute over dues by rival unions was filed yesterday in the federal District court.

The suit, brought by a group of creditors of the Rapid Transit [elevated] lines, asks the court to direct receivers of the North Shore line to sue for compensatory damages against local 308 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employés of America. This union, since Jan. 31, has refused to allow North Shore trains to operate in Chicago on the "L" lines.

The court also is asked to require the union to show cause why it should not be held in contempt of court, and to force the union to abide by a contract requiring it to submit grievances to arbitration.

The petition, filed by Attorney Lewis F. Jacobson, charges that the nine day old service disruption amounts to a strike, has inconvenienced the public, and has hampered national defense efforts.

As a result of the tieup, the petition asserts, many Chicago workers and soldiers, sailors, nurses, and civilian workers at Fort Sheridan and the Great Lakes Naval Training station have encountered inconvenience, delay, and inadequate transportation to and from their wartime duties.

"Such delays are irreparable to national defense," says the petition. "It has been estimated that such losses in working hours exceeded 100,000 man hours of work per day; over 700,000 man hours per week [including overtime], and over $700,000 in loss of wages per week."

The North Shore lines also have suffered "irreparable loss," since traffic has dwindled 75 per cent on the Shore route and 25 per cent on the Skokie route, the petition continues.

The suit recognizes the dispute between local 308 and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which precipitated the tieup. Local 308, made up of "L" employés, accuses the Brotherhood of stealing members from 308's sister local, division 900, made up of North Shore employés. If this situation exists, the Brotherhood should be enjoined from such tactics, says the petition.

The Brotherhood also entered the court fight by filing an answer thru Attorney Leo J. Hassenaur to previous court action. In this answer the brotherhood demanded that the court instruct the "L" officials to order their towermen to pass North Shore trains in and out of the city on the ground that failure to so order interferes with an interstate carrier. Judge Michael L. Igoe will hear the arguments this week.

HERE AND THERE IN BATAAN WITH A WAR REPORTER

He Gets Around and Sees Some Dead Japs.

BY CLARK LEE.

WITH GEN. MacARTHUR ON THE BATAAN PENINSULA, Feb. 7 [Delayed] (AP).—Sightseeing on Bataan peninsula, where the main music is the whine of artillery shells and the screams of dive bombers:

Maj. Johnny Pugh shows an arsenal of captured Japanese weapons starting with a tiny, hand fitting .30 caliber revolver. It is English made. A rifle fires .256 caliber bullets and is about 8 inches longer than the American Springfields.

A sub-machine gun, modeled after the Bren, fires .22 caliber bullets. A light machine gun with bipod handles fires 25.6 caliber ammunition and a heavy machine gun fires .52 caliber shots. A service pistol of the Luger type carries .32 caliber bullets.

The guns, when tested, were found to be effective, but not as well made as American arms.

A prize piece on exhibit was a mortar with a stand which fits the user's thigh. It throws a projectile up to 650 yards.

General Praises Filipinos.

Maj. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright hits a bamboo table and a constant stream of orderlies, messengers, and aides give him data and get their orders. Wainwright is a cavalry officer who commanded the northern Luzon forces during their withdrawal to Bataan peninsula from Lingayen bay. Associates say he handled the divisions like so many troops of cavalry.

The general has just received the distinguished service cross for repeated acts of bravery in dangerous positions. He has personally been at the firing line many times.

"These Filipino boys are toughening into real soldiers," he said. "With 40,000 trained troops—either Filipinos or Americans—we'd chase the Japanese right into the China sea."

He said the Japanese were good soldiers, but that their effectiveness often was lowered by unnecessary expenditure of life.

In Sniper Territory.

American 155s open the evening concert by pounding the roads behind the Japanese lines. Tremendous flashes are visible for 30 miles. With the guns firing from behind us, the noise seems to burst directly overhead.

Col. Frank Nelson of Gen. Wainwright's staff provides a cot, plenty of blankets and shares his shelter tent. He gives me a command car next morning to take me to the battle area.

I turn into a narrow road where a Japanese landing party of about 300 men was cornered many days ago and are now battling against annihilation.

This is sniper territory, and Nat Floyd, New York Times reporter, and I each promise to write the other's obituary if we're hit.

Tank Guns Firing.

Bearded Capt. Horace Greeley's command post is a box of hand grenades and a tall tree with telephone communications. Capt. C. A. Crome's outpost is 300 yards ahead.

American tank guns and 50 caliber machine guns are firing intermittently, and now and then I hear an inoffensive crack of a Japanese rifle.

Brig. Gen. Clinton A. Pierce limps in with a boot on one foot and a toeless shoe on the other. A sniper shot off his toe. Gen. Pierce sets off and Floyd and I follow, reaching Capt. Crome's outpost just as the tanks arrive. The crews drink thirstily from their canteens, light cigarets and report that the majority of the trapped Japanese are dead in their fox holes and trenches. A few survivors were driven to the cliffs.

Slain Japs Inspected.

Crome's troops surrounded and captured some Japanese along with grenades, rifles, machine guns, and land mines.

With Pierce, Floyd and I walked into the littered battlefield and began inspecting corpses. Two shots from a sniper crack and pass overhead. Floyd remarks to Pierce:

"Sir, you're the second brigadier general I've almost had shot from under me in the last two days."

We look at the torn bodies of husky Japanese farmers, fishermen and factory workers while American soldiers search for documents and diaries containing military information.

The horror of the scene finally drives Floyd and me away.

CHICAGOAN NOTIFIED OF SON'S DEATH IN PEARL HARBOR RAID

H. A. Dreesbach.

Arthur W. Dreesbach, 1520 Lorel avenue, said yesterday he had received official notice of the death Dec. 7 of his son, Herbert A. Dreesbach, 24 years old, in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Dreesbach, a private first class in the marines, was stationed on the battleship Arizona, which was sunk. He enlisted Oct. 8, 1940.

Dreesbach was a machinist in civilian life, and a former carrier boy for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. He was a graduate of Foreman High school. Surviving, in addition to his father, are his mother, Mrs. Ella Dreesbach; a brother, and a sister.

Memorial services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in St. Peter's Evangelical church.

WOUNDED DURING TARGET PRACTICE.

William Lundry, 32 years old, 10528 Oglesby avenue, a laborer, was shot above the heart yesterday when the rifle with which he was shooting at a target fell and discharged. He was taken to South Chicago hospital, and later to Bridewell hospital.

U. S. SEEKS BIDS ON RUBBER DESK MATS, CUSHIONS

Altho the public no longer can obtain many kinds of rubber goods, the government is calling for bids on chair mats containing 16 pounds of rubber and on soft, resilient chair cushions that require about one pound each.

Chicago manufacturers of such articles have had requests for these bids from the treasury department procurement division, it was disclosed yesterday. The manufacturers said that as a rule they must base their estimates on orders of the last six months, when 3,000 of the 16 pound chair mats and 50,000 of the seat cushions were purchased.

A chair mat is an inch thick slab of rubber that permits a chair to slide smoothly and saves wear on the carpet or the floor on which it is laid.

The most recent order for chair mats was for $11,000 worth, about 50,000 pounds of rubber. Many of both the mats and cushions have gone to the army and navy department quartermaster depots, the Chicago business men said.

Bids on newly requested articles were to be opened in Washington Feb. 12.

LINE WORKER ELECTROCUTED.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 9 [Special].—George Mardaus, 38 years old, of El Paso, was electrocuted today while working on a rural electrification line near Eureka. His body was found dangling from a pole by the safety belt.

BATAVIA STREETS MACHINE GUNNED BY JAP FLYERS

Grounded Planes Wrecked at Dutch Airports.

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, Feb. 9 (AP).—Japanese planes, making their first invasion stab at this Netherlands Indies capital today, inflicted "some damage" on grounded aircraft and wounded 11 civilians, but failed to pierce a heavy barrage thrown up over the vital harbor area, the Dutch command said.

At least one and possibly two of the six or eight raiders were reported shot down, while two Dutch passenger planes and some military aircraft at the Kemajoran and Tjililitan airports were damaged by machine gun fire.

The capital's streets and suburbs were machine gunned, but no bombings were reported. Casualties were light compared with the reported toll of 51 persons killed and 54 wounded in Sunday's attack on Surabaya.

City Takes Raid Calmly.

Both Batavia and Surabaya in Java, where the united nations' supreme command is established, are prime objectives of the Japanese now holding coastal areas on both sides of Borneo. The attack on this capital apparently came from Japanese occupied Pontianak, west Borneo base only 440 miles away.

Dutch fighter planes roared aloft shortly before the raiders appeared at 1:30 p. m. The all clear sounded an hour and a half later.

An Aneta news agency correspondent, J. P. Bouwer, said he saw two columns of black smoke in the sky near the center of the city after the attack, and added:

"The great calmness prevailing everywhere was remarkable, and to a large extent it was undoubtedly due to the fact that the raid had been expected for so long that when it finally came it caused almost a feeling of relief."

Palembang Again Bombed.

Japanese aerial activity was reported from other parts of Java and Borneo, and in Sumatra, where the big oil center of Palembang was bombed again. No allied losses resulted, the communique said.

In Borneo, Japanese patrols were said to be pushing south from the charred oil port of Balik Papan on the eastern coast "apparently planning to reach Bandjermasin," an important trade center on the south shore not far from Macassar strait.

Dispatches from Macassar said the Celebes capital was a city without women. Nearly all civilians have been removed and the streets are alive with uniformed defense forces. The city has been sporadically attacked by Japanese planes, but the spirit of remaining residents was said to be excellent.

Japs Claim 50 Planes Smashed.

TOKIO, Feb. 9 [From Japanese Broadcasts] — (AP). — More than 50 planes were destroyed in raids over Sumatra Saturday, dispatches said today when Japanese bomber and fighter formations attacked "in complete defiance of the NEI air force" at Pelembang and Pakanbaroe.

CHIANG IN INDIA FOR CONFERENCES WITH THE BRITISH

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 10 [Tuesday] (AP).—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has arrived in India with his staff officers for consultations, and his meetings with the British and India officials was hailed by the viceroy as one "which bodes our enemy no good, and this they will soon learn to their cost."

"This meeting sets the seal upon the comradeship in arms of two great nations which between them number 800,000,000 souls, one third of the world's population," Viceroy Lord Linlithgow told Chiang at a reception.

In reply the generalissimo referred to the movement of Chinese troops to the defense of Burma and India and added: "We pledge to our valued ally, who occupied an important and unique position, our friendship and coöperation in defeating the common foe, prepared to defeat aggression and insure victory for the democratic front."

Chiang said he had come for talks with the government and especially the commander in chief. Chiang is the united nations' supreme commander in the Chinese theater of war.

Dutch to Continue to Pay Cash for U. S. Material

BATAVIA, Feb. 9 (AP).—The United States lease-lend arrangement is being used by the Netherlands East Indies to facilitate delivery of material, but the Dutch government intends to continue paying cash for defense materials from America. The people's council, in a statement today, said paying cash is feasible and other arrangements would not be made unless the exchange position changed in the future.

WOMAN SLUGGED WITH PISTOL.

Mrs. Vernon Thompson reported to police last night that she was stopped near her home at 13200 Brandon avenue by a man in an automobile, and when she resisted his demand to get into the car with him he struck her over the head with a pistol.

BRITISH REPORT NEW RETREAT ON SINGAPORE ISLE

Dive Bombers Used by Japanese.

trated in the western section of the island, where the more vulnerable points were protected by barbed wire mazes and other such obstacles.

The scene of the main enemy landings was along the coast running west from Kranji estuary. Just below the head of the estuary lies Tengah airdrome.

New Landing Claimed.

BERLIN, Feb. 9 [From German Broadcasts] (AP).—A DNB news agency dispatch from Tokio declared today that the Japanese had made new successful landings on Singapore Island from Ubin Island at the eastern mouth of Johore strait. It gave the Domei news agency as its authority.

Rome Tells of Jap Advance.

ROME, Feb. 10 [Tuesday]—(AP)—[From Italian Broadcasts].—Stefani broadcast a report from Tokio today that Japanese forces on the island of Singapore had encircled Bukit Timah village, which it described as the largest village on the island and a junction of communications routes.

[Bukit Timah is about five miles northwest of the center of the city of Singapore. It is some eight miles south of the Kranji estuary, on the strait of Johore, where one of the Japanese landings was made Sunday night. It is the junction point of roads which connect the western part of Singapore Island with the city of Singapore and other highways which fan out to north and south.]

Claim Capture of Airport.

TOKIO, Feb. 9 [From Japanese broadcasts] — (AP). — Japanese forces commanded by Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita in a full scale assault on Singapore Island were reported tonight to have captured Tengah airport, one of their first objectives, 10 miles northwest of Singapore City.

British forces are fleeing along the island roads toward Singapore's suburbs closely pursued by Japanese troops and newly landed tank units, Domei news agency dispatches said.

Other forces which penetrated deeply in the northwest part of the island were reported by Domei to be attacking from the rear the British positions which had been arranged to defend the Singapore end of the Johore Bahru causeway, breached when the British withdrew into the island.

The naval base on the north shore also was reported under attack, and three gun emplacements and pill boxes were said to have been captured near the mouth of the Kranji river, just west of the causeway.

Claim Steady Advance.

Japanese troops which landed during the night, paving the way in hard fighting for tanks, were said to be pressing steadily toward the interior.

"The Japanese full dress offensive against the mighty British far eastern base got under way with a thunderous start late last night when Japanese artillery barrage paved the way for landing operations," said a Domei correspondent.

"The first indication to watchers that the advance detachments were in contact with the island came at 12:16 a. m. when a green flare shot skyward," he said. "Just four minutes later a red flare signaled completion of the first landing operations, and nine minutes later came signals from other forces which had completed landings at another place.

"Since the early morning of Feb. 5 the roar of Japanese gunfire had continued to become fiercer and fiercer and reached its pitch early yesterday morning, while waves of army planes roared over Singapore raining high explosives and defying an intense enemy anti-aircraft barrage."

Reports Defenders Menaced.

Twenty-eight out of 38 naval oil tanks were set aflame, and their spouting columns of black smoke and fire further menaced the defenders, estimated at only 20,000 men, the dispatch said.

A war correspondent of the newspaper Yomiuri sent back this account of the Singapore landing:

"In the darkness of the night Japanese troops crouching in the bottom of iron boats could be seen stealthily approaching Singapore Island as terrific blasts of cannonading from both sides vibrated overhead.

"It was about midnight when the glare of enemy [British] illumination lights was seen and night seemed to turn into day. Simultaneously, from rubber plantations enemy artillery seemed to have gone mad. Enemy shells rained steadily for one, two, four hours, but our gunfire kept blasting the enemy fortifications.

"Little by little our boats could be seen nearing Singapore's shores. The enemy cannonading became more intense, but suddenly the roar of Japanese planes was heard raining bombs upon enemy positions despite fierce anti-aircraft barrage.

"Amidst a breath taking scene of gunfire and explosions the signal of the successful landing was seen. The time was 12:16 a. m."

CHINA CLAIMS SEIZURE OF WAICHOW; REPORTS 1,000 JAPANESE SLAIN

CHUNGKING, China, Feb. 9 (UP).—A smashing Chinese counter-offensive against Japanese positions in Waichow, in Kwangtung province, has resulted in the recapture of the east river port city, a high command communique announced today. More than 1,000 Japanese defenders of the heavily contested city were killed and much Japanese material seized, the communique added.

Claim Town's Capture.

TOKIO, Feb. 9 [From Japanese Broadcasts] (AP).—Japanese forces in southern Shantung province occupied Yuanli, 25 miles northeast of Ishui, yesterday afternoon, a Japanese North China base reported today. The Japanese said Yuanli had been headquarters of the 113th Chinese division under Gen. Yu Hsueh-Tsung.

By this report the Japanese acknowledged that the Chinese had hitherto maintained a divisional headquarters within 120 miles southeast of Tsinan, capital of one of the most strongly occupied provinces of China.

M'ARTHUR'S GUNS DESTROY HIDDEN JAP BATTERIES

Infantry Beats Assaults on Peninsula.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—The guns of Manila bay's forts and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's land forces jolted a renewed Japanese effort to crush the stubborn defense of the Philippines, the war department reported today.

Heavy artillery of Corregidor and other offshore island fortifications put out of action several hidden batteries of enemy siege guns, while MacArthur's men repulsed in heavy fighting a series of Japanese assaults on the Bataan peninsula.

The forts scored direct hits, a communique reported, on several of the concealed batteries which from the south shore of the bay had been pounding at harbor defenses for three days.

Defeat Infiltration Attempt.

On the peninsula front, where Japanese attacks have been frustrated repeatedly for the last month, the little American-Filipino army beat off several attempts at penetration and infiltration such as have often preceded mass assaults.

Hostile dive bombers were active over the defense lines, the war department said, without mentioning the guerrilla force of American fighter planes which have scored several aerial victories.

Destruction of the enemy siege batteries appeared a substantial triumph in the duel which has been developing since enemy guns on the shores of Cavite province loosed their initial heavy bombardment on Saturday.

Three Day Bombardment.

For three hours that day the Japanese artillery concentrated its fire on Fort Drum, the battleshiplike concrete fortification on El Fraile Islet a scant two miles off shore. Some shots were directed against Fort Mills, on Corregidor Island, and against nearby Fort Hughes. In a two hour bombardment yesterday shells were hurled also against Fort Frank, southernmost of the string of fortifications.

The resultant damage was not serious, but the new Japanese tactics raised the question of how long the forts could withstand a siege battering.

PUERTO RICANS TELL MacARTHUR OF ADMIRATION

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Puerto Rican senate dropped its differences over the proposed removal of Rexford G. Tugwell as governor momentarily today to send the following message to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines:

"History has afforded you the privilege of a part in this great battle in which the outstanding heroism and spirit of sacrifice with which we have to struggle for the preservation of liberty and democracy in the world has been shown. Please convey the sentiments of admiration and solidarity of the people of Puerto Rico to the armies under your command and to the virile Philippine people."

Colorado Football Star Brings It Down.

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 9 (AP).—The 101st aerial combat victory for the American volunteer group over Burma was confirmed today, and afield it appeared that the British, aided by Chinese and Indian reënforcements, had stabilized their front along the Salween river and still were holding the Japanese invaders in check 100 miles short of their major objective of Rangoon.

Robert Keeton.

Proof that the Americans had shot down more than 100 raiders came in the discovery of a smashed bomber which Robert Keeton of Manzanola, Colo., had attacked Feb. 3 without being certain of results.

Hits Jap Coming Down.

Keeton, a former Colorado college full back who left a naval bombing patrol assignment at San Diego to join the AVG, bagged this 101st plane in a spectacular flight.

At an upcountry flying field during a Japanese raid, Keeton took up a Tomahawk plane with the intention of saving it. Cruising at high altitude without helmet or oxygen equipment, he had to descend to avoid losing consciousness. Streaking downward, he spotted a remaining Japanese bomber, on which he opened fire with all his guns.

Squadron Commander Killed.

During the day Bob Neale of Seattle took command of an AVG squadron in succession to R. J. Sandell of San Antonio, one of a group of Texans who have become almost legendary. Sandell was killed two days ago in an accidental crash.

A communique from imperial headquarters mentioned no change in the position along the Salween river and made it clear that British forces not only were breaking the invader's attempt to force crossings in heavy force, but still occupied the east bank in the Paan area, 30 miles north of fallen Moulmein.

Enemy bombing attacks on the Paan positions were reported.

Chinese Take Over Sector.

The Chinese troops who have come to Burma assumed the entire responsibility for a certain section of the front under their own formation commanders, Lieut. Gen. T. J. Hutton, British commander in Burma, said.

"The bulk of them are stationed in the southern Shan states fronting on Indo-China and northern Thailand, an area which is unlikely to remain quiet indefinitely. Either the enemy will do something or we shall," he added.

"The Salween is a sound line with reasonably good communications.

"We must expect and be prepared for Japanese landings along the Gulf of Martaban and the Rangoon delta, and hope by profiting from the lessons in Malaya to defeat the landings here."

Parents Not Surprised.

Manzanola, Colo., Feb. 9 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Keeton, the parents of Robert Keeton, 27 year old "Flying Tiger" pilot in Burma, heard without surprise today the story of Robert's first combat victory.

"Whenever Robert starts anything," said his mother, "he never quits until he's accomplished what he planned."

River Crossed, Says Tokio.

TOKIO, Feb. 9 [From Japanese Broadcasts] (AP).—The Tokio radio reported tonight that Japanese forces in Burma made a new crossing of the Salween river and "now are advancing westward toward Rangoon."

Flag at Half Staff

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Flag atop Tribune Tower at half-staff in honor of Richard Graff.

Military memorial services for Private Richard Graff, who was killed in action in the Philippines, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Cecilia's church, Wells and 45th streets. Members of Stockyards post of the American Legion will furnish the guard of honor.

Private Graff, a radio operator and tank driver, was killed a week ago today, according to word from the war department received Sunday by his mother, Mrs. Fanny Graff, 4354 Princeton avenue. He leaves, in addition to his mother, his widow, Cecilia, of 4356 Princeton avenue; his father, Frank; three brothers, and one sister. He was 28 years old.

He was the first of Tribune employés to fall in action. In honor to his memory the flag atop Tribune Tower was flown at half staff yesterday. Graff had been a Tribune employé since October, 1929. At the time of his enlistment a year ago last month he was employed as an advertising order clerk in the public service department of this newspaper.

JAP PEACE OFFER TO DUTCH SEEN; SEEK INDIES OIL

Nippon Bombers Pass Up Sumatra Refineries.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, Feb. 8 [Delayed].—The Japanese military onslaught against the Netherlands East Indies soon may be accompanied by a diplomatic offensive in which these islands will be offered separate peace, some informed circles here believe.

This additional leaf out of the Nazi war book would mean an attempt to gain undamaged the immense wealth in natural resources which, thru the Dutch scorched earth policy, are left in ruins wherever it is necessary to fall back before the enemy's superior forces.

In Need of Oil.

In a long range war, the Japanese will need oil from southern Sumatra, and there seems little likelihood of their getting it by military means, since preparations have been made to destroy the installations there, just as in Tarakan and Balik Papan.

These reports gain credence here with each raid on Palembang, Sumatra, during which refineries are conspicuously bypassed by bombers. Six bombers strongly escorted by fighters attacked Palembang again today, destroying an unstated number of aircraft, but, according to oil circles here, not attacking oil centers.

The Japanese are not in a position to offer terms presently, since the Netherlands East Indies are still in a strong position, and likely will continue to be as long as Singapore holds out. There also is no inclination on the part of the Netherlands East Indies to accept any Japanese proposal, but it is pointed out that this would not prevent Japan from offering one.

Would Guarantee Integrity.

It is presumed that any peace proposal by the Japs will include the offer of independence from the mother country and a guarantee of integrity as a separate nation in return for the total output of oil, quinine, and other resources, and Japanese bases in the outer islands.

It is said here that the Dutch know the Japanese too well to enter any agreement permitting them to establish bases in these waters.

MacArthur-for-President Draws Applause in House

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—A suggestion that Gen. Douglas MacArthur "would make a wonderful President for the United States of America" drew a burst of applause today in the house. It was made by Rep. Charles I. Faddis [D., Pa.], who referred to the commander of the United States forces in the Philippines as "the finest leader the united nations have."

ONLY PART OF ALLIED FORCES FIGHTING IN PACIFIC, SAY DUTCH

BATAVIA, Feb. 10 [Tuesday] (AP).—The Netherlands Indies naval department information chief predicted today that if the allies do not soon regain naval dominance in the southwest Pacific they will suffer heavy blows.

In a communication headed "Lesson for the Netherlands East Indies," he said a considerable part of the allied forces is busy with work which has no direct connection with fighting. No further explanation of this statement was given. He said the remaining part of the allied forces will have to be strongly reënforced. He cited the fact that only two British destroyers were used to attack a Japanese naval squadron which was covering a landing attack on the east coast of Malaya.

PRAISES WORK OF NEWSMEN ON ALL WAR FRONTS

American newspaper correspondents on the various war fronts have done a "superb job" presenting the truth to their readers, according to Dean Kenneth E. Olson of the Medill School of Journalism in a talk last night in Scott hall, Northwestern university.

"Every day this devoted corps of men and women correspondents risk their lives to get the news for American readers," said Dean Olson. "The result is that Americans more than any other people, know what is going on in the world."

News is a major weapon of modern war, Dean Olson said. It has been used by the Nazis and is now being used by the united nations. Among the results of this weapon, is the fact that statesmen and generals must heed public opinion. Another speaker was Dr. Irving J. Lee of the Northwestern School of Speech.

CHINESE PRICES RUN WILD; SHOES $25, COFFEE IS $5

U. S. Cigarets 15c Each; Office Worker Hit.

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

CHUNGKING, China, Feb. 9.—In Chungking, commodity prices keep rising. While laborers, artisans, and shopkeepers can keep pace by raising their own rates and prices, white collar employés with fixed salaries are in almost desperate straits.

Give Rice Equivalent.

To compensate for the rise in prices the government and larger companies give employés what is called a rice allowance. This helps, but is not near enough. Many employés are forced to borrow and are going heavily in debt. Nevertheless, it is considered unpatriotic to quit a government job to get more money.

Imported articles are selling at fantastic prices. A package of popular brand American cigarets costs 60 Chinese dollars, the equivalent of 3 American dollars, which means 15 cents of American money a cigaret.

A pound of American coffee costs 100 Chinese dollars. A box of cough drops, which at home costs a nickel, costs 35 Chinese dollars here. A fountain pen costs $900, a bottle of ink $60, and a portable typewriter 8,000 to 10,000 Chinese dollars.

Begin Relief Program.

The government has decided to start relief for those most affected, and the commodity production and distribution administration, recently established, is just beginning to function. The organization has unlimited government funds, and plans to take over all government factories, industries, and institutions and bring them under a single administration. Employés of government departments may petition the new administration for the establishment of coöperative stores with government capital. The stores will be stocked from government supply agencies with goods at cost.

The government also is making large purchases in neighboring provinces such as Kweichow, Kwangsi, and Yunnan, where prices are far below those in Chungking.

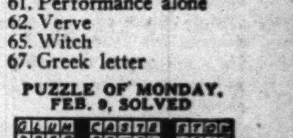
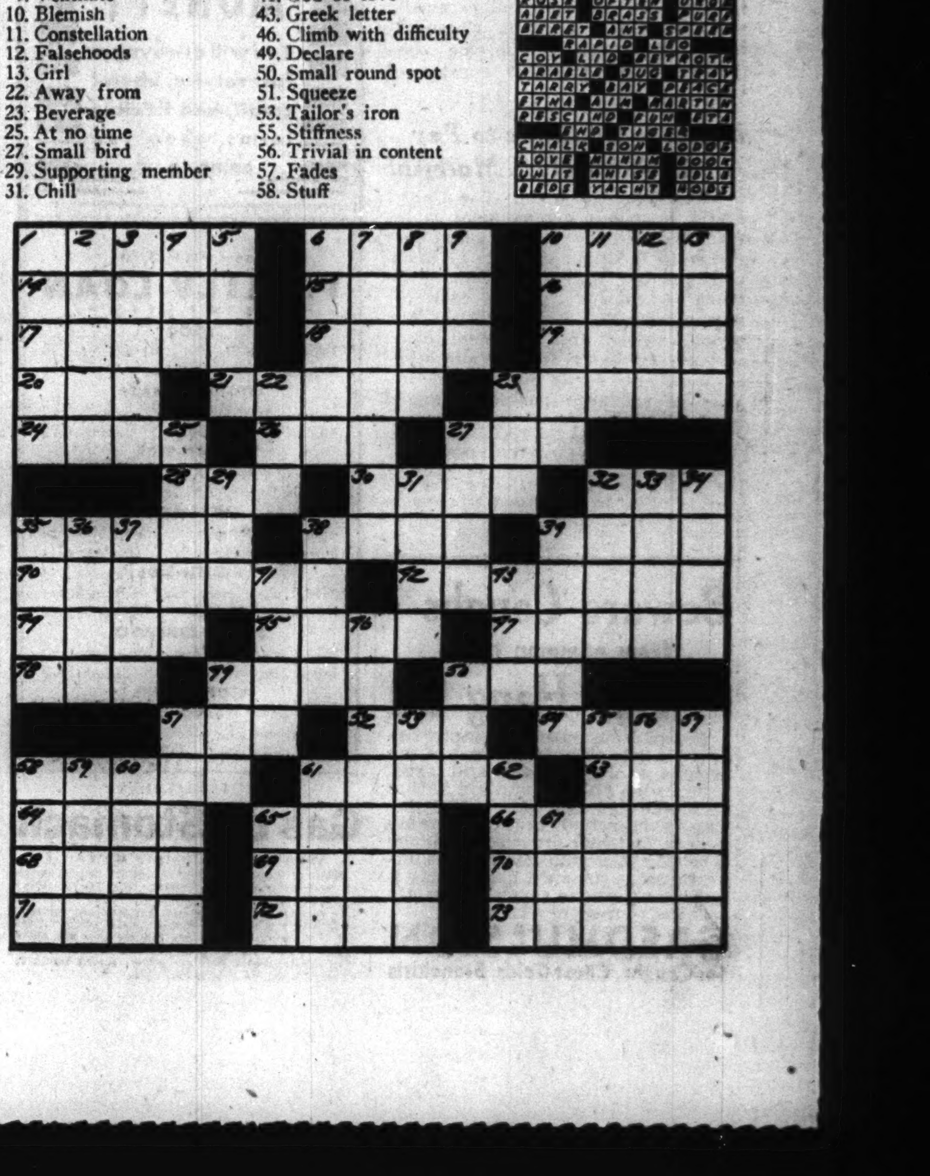
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, FEB. 9, SOLVED





BRITAIN CREATES PACIFIC COUNCIL; U. S. IS LEFT OUT

First Meeting to Be Held in London Today.

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP).—The government tonight announced the creation of a Pacific council composed of British, Australian, New Zealand and Netherlands representatives who will meet tomorrow and apparently act in concert with the military committee in Washington, D. C.

Representation in the council to deal with war problems will be on a "ministerial plane," the announcement said, and added that "other ministers and advisers will attend as necessary." Prime Minister Churchill will preside at tomorrow's session.

Explaining the absence of the United States from the council's membership, a highly placed informant said tonight the Washington government had expressd no desire to be represented, "since Britain and the United States realize their collaboration is so close that this was not necessary."

The Fewer the Better.

Both the London and Washington governments, he said, agreed that the fewer members on such a council the better.

This explanation came after the initial reaction was one of amazement that the United States was omitted.

The council, it was said, not only would be an advisory body but could take executive action "on subjects within the scope of the governments represented," and that on subjects involving other governments they would be consulted.

Besides Churchill, the members are expected to be Sir Earle Page, Australian representative in London; W. J. Jordan, New Zealand high commissioner, and Prof. P. S. Gerbrandy, Netherlands prime minister.

It was recalled that Churchill had told the house of commons Jan. 21 that such a council had been proposed to meet here.

Preferred Washington.

At that time, however, Churchill said Australia and New Zealand preferred that the council "should be in Washington where it would work alongside the combined chiefs of staff committee."

He said he had passed on the views of the two dominion governments to President Roosevelt, but that if the council was formed in London it could work with the Washington military committee.

"There is no question of the American view not being represented" in the new body, the parliamentary correspondent of the British Press association said, "as this will be coördinated with British and dominion views by the committee in Washington."

Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia announced in Canberra today that the council had been created.

Curtin said Australia was considering strengthening her representation in Washington to provide an adequate link with the military committee set up there.

Australian dispatches said the arrangement falls short of original Australian proposals which envisaged a Pacific war council set up in Washington where it could maintain direct contact with the chiefs of staff committee.

Plane Fired Upon

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Beverly Keith, 15 years old, passenger in plane riddled by bullets over Alton defense area. Her companion was wounded.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 9 [Special]. — Seventh corps area army headquarters here today described the shooting of a man in a low flying civilian plane near the Western Cartridge company plant at Alton, Ill., yesterday as a "regrettable incident," but said the plane committed an act "strictly in violation of a restricted area."

Delbert Henson, 21 years old, one of three persons in the plane, was wounded in the stomach and the hip by one of seven bullets that struck the ship. He is in a critical condition in a hospital in Granite City, Ill., where he received three blood transfusions.

A spokesman for the 7th corps headquarters said the bullets were fired by soldiers from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., who, with private police, guard the plant.

The spokesman added that "army sentries are under orders to guard against all sabotage attempts and to shoot if necessary. Since there is no way to challenge an airplane, they are under orders to shoot."

BELIEVE PLANES CARRIED TANKS TO AXIS IN LIBYA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Military circles here, attempting to explain the swift advance of German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in Libya, today admitted the possibility that "flying tanks are being used in that region—that is, tanks carried by large transport planes to the battlefield.

These circles recall that German aircraft landed light one man tanks by parachute in Crete. However, the tanks reported in Libya appear to be of a heavier design and in sections which can be assembled for battle within three hours after landing. It is estimated 200 troop and tank carrying transports have been used to reënforce Rommel.

Flying tank divisions are said to include an artillery unit equipped with 75 millimeter mountain cannon. Every soldier is reported equipped like the parachutists—with weapons of three times the fire power supplied to infantrymen.

BRITISH COLUMNS BEGIN OFFENSIVE TACTICS IN LIBYA

Patrols Test Axis Forces West of Tobruk.

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 9 (AP).—Their desert lines finally stabilized after a 250 mile retreat, the British returned to offensive tactics today by sending out mobile columns to probe the area west of Ain el Gazala and about El Mechili.

The swiftly shifting forces of the British engaged infantry and artillery units as far as 12 miles west of Ain el Gazala and 52 miles west of Tobruk, today's communique said.

Other patrols were reported active in the El Mechili area, 60 miles southwest of Tobruk in the vital crossroads area which guards the short cut to the British rear as well as the German rear.

The communique did not make clear who holds El Mechili.

RAF Raids Tripoli Harbor.

The raid on Tripoli resulted in three hits on shipping in the harbor despite a newly developed smoke screen put up by the Italians, the RAF communique said.

Alexandria was raided last night for the first time since Dec. 6, but the interior ministry said only four bombs were dropped and these caused no casualties and practically no damage at the port city where a big British naval base is situated. A second raid alert was sounded this morning, but no bombs were dropped.

Striking blows at submarine bases from which the Germans have been attempting to break up the British fleet's blockade of the Libyan coast, the RAF made a long range attack on Salamis, near Athens, Greece, blasting the naval dockyard, munitions factories and submarine wharves, and also started fires at Menidi airdrome near Athens.

Torpedo planes also hit two axis merchantmen on the axis supply line across the Mediterranean.

Tobruk Seen as Anchor.

ROME, Feb. 9 [ANDI Agency to Associated Press] (AP).—Reliably informed Fascist circles said today they did not expect the axis advance in Libya to proceed beyond Tobruk and other positions held by the British before they launched their offensive last November.

"The main British aim was to retreat rapidly in search of a line of resistance to oppose the axis forces," these circles said. "Maybe the line chosen by the British is based on Tobruk. In that case the struggle will enter another phase."

Raiders on a Timetable.

VALLETTA, Malta, Feb. 9 (AP).—The bomb-wise populace of this British island fortress can almost set their watches now by the nighttime visits of axis bombers. Abandoning their mass raids at irregular intervals, the German and Italian raiders of late have been coming one at a time every hour. Apparently their aim is to keep the people in shelters.

From June 11, 1940, until yesterday 1,507 air raid alarms have sounded on Malta and during more than half of them bombs have fallen.

In the cases of Norway and Poland the consuls general, Daniel Steen and Victor Podowski, who have been functioning in Canada for a number of years, will be raised to the rank of ministers plenipotentiary.

CHURCHILL TO ACT ON SERVICE MEN'S PAY COMPLAINTS

Revision of Allotments to Families Expected.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Pay and allowances of the armed forces will be the subject of a statement by Prime Minister Churchill at the next sitting of the house of commons, it was learned tonight.

It is expected that there will be a reduction in the amount of the compulsory allotment now made by the soldier with dependents, that an extra six pence [about 12 cents] daily will be put aside by the government until after the war as a nest egg, and that the children's allowance will be increased by one shilling [about 20 cents] weekly.

Altho the new arrangement is admittedly a distinct improvement on the present position, some doubt is expressed whether it will satisfy men in the services.

Troops of Allies Better Paid.

The fact that dominion and American troops serving side by side with the British are much better paid fans the dissatisfaction of the British, it is said.

The lowest paid British soldier, it is pointed out, receives 2 shillings 6 pence [about 52 cents] daily with an additional 6 pence [about 12 cents] daily as proficiency pay after six months of satisfactory service, while the Australian soldier gets 8 shillings 6 pence [about $1.72] daily, the New Zealander 7 and 6 [about $1.52], the Canadian 5 and 10 [about $1.20], and the lowest paid American private in overseas service, 7 pounds 10 shillings monthly [about $32.20] after four months of service.

One of the main grievances is that after making the compulsory allotment of 1 shilling [about 20 cents] daily, the married British soldier is left with only 1 shilling 6 pence [about 32 cents] daily, and consequently is unable to save to help meet expenses when on furlough, or for any other purpose.

These allowances, service men and their families complain, are wholly inadequate in the case of children and wives with household responsibilities. What is required, it is said, is proper basic pay rate for the soldier himself, and allowances for his dependents sufficient to maintain them properly with some reasonable approximation to the pay of dominion troops and wages paid those engaged in industry at home.

RED CROSS FOOD RELIEF SEIZED BY NAZIS AT BENGAZI

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 9 (AP).—Foodstuffs sent to Bengazi by the American Red Cross to relieve the civilian population of that Libyan port fell into the hands of the German army when Bengazi was recaptured last month.

The food, including 100 drums of dried milk and flour, had been turned over to the British administration for occupied territories a week before the Germans reached Bengazi.

The biggest problem of the American Red Cross in the Mediterranean area now is getting food and clothing to the thousands of Polish civilians who arrived in Iran [Persia] from Russia in dire plight. There are about 200,000 other Polish civilians in southern Russia and negotiations are under way to get relief to them.

CRISIS BELIEVED IMMINENT IN U. S., VICHY RELATIONS

Welles Scans Report of Aid to Axis.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 [Special]. —A crisis is believed impending in relations between the United States and Vichy, France. Increasing evidence of collaboration between the Vichy government and the axis has led the state department to review its policy of limited coöperation with the administration of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, it was learned tonight.

The immediate cause of the reported crisis is said to be a report that Marshal Petain has allowed Germans to use French ships to supply axis forces in Libya and that his representatives in Indo-China are now negotiating with the Japanese to turn over French ships there for action against the united nations in the southwest Pacific.

New Policy Is Possible.

The negotiations with the Japanese are reported being carried on by Adm. Jean Decoux, Vichy's governor general of French Indo-China, whose public statements recently have been highly favorable to the axis. These negotiations are already in an advanced stage, it is said, and the United States is expected to make it clear that transfer of these ships to the Japanese will be interpreted as an unfriendly act that may result in a completely new United States policy toward Vichy.

The French embassy in Washington disclaimed any knowledge tonight of the transfer of French ships either to the Germans or to the Japanese, but Viscount Halifax, British ambassador, is reported to have taken an entirely different story to the state department this evening.

The precise amount of merchant tonnage in Indo-China is not known, but it is described in reliable quarters here as considerable.

Halifax Gives Details.

Lord Halifax is believed to have placed before Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, detailed evidence that French ships carried French war materials from French North Africa to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel for the counterattack against the British in Libya.

It is understood that Lord Halifax named the ships and gave details of the cargoes they carried. He is also believed to have discussed with Welles what action could be taken to prevent Adm. Decoux from turning over French ships to the Japanese for the large scale invasion of the Netherlands Indies, which is now clearly being prepared.

Earlier in the day Welles told the press that he had received certain information in reply to his request for an explanation of reports that French ships had been supplying Marshal Rommel. This information, however, was incomplete, he said, and would require elaboration before anything further could be said.

It is understood that the Vichy government did not deny that French ships had supplied the Germans in Libya, but explained that these ships had carried food.

Leahy Sees Petain.

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Feb. 9 (AP).—Marshal Petain received United States Ambassador Admiral William D. Leahy for an interview this afternoon in the presence of Vice Premier Darlan. It was the ambassador's first conference with the head of the French state since Feb. 2.

Informed sources assumed that British charges that reënforcements for the axis armies in Libya were moved thru French territory were discussed.

REQUEST TO SELL BOGUS STAMPS DENIED BY COURT

Attorney R. A. Bierdemann, representing the executrix of the estate of Rudolf [Greasy Dick] Thomas, aged stamp dealer who died last August, appeared yesterday before Probate Judge John F. O'Connell seeking permission to sell 9,988 stamps which an expert has determined are either counterfeit or have been altered to increase their value.

Bierdemann said none of the actual counterfeits was a United States stamp and they all were of value to collectors. Judge O'Connell, however, refused to allow the sale and ordered the counterfeits and other altered stamps turned over to Capt. Thomas J. Callaghan, Chicago secret service chief, for eventual destruction.

One hundred and 79 woodcut cancellation outfits and a machine for perforating stamps were found in the residence at 1418 Mohawk street after Thomas died. Thomas was recognized as one of the country's biggest stamp dealers.

Mrs. Josephine Haeusler, Thomas' housekeeper, was the beneficiary of Thomas' will and is the executrix.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

THE QUESTION.

Who is the most unforgettable character you have ever met?

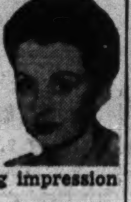
WHERE ASKED.

The Butler building, 162 North State street.

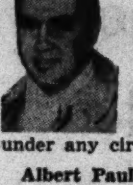
THE ANSWERS.

Hazel Fox, hostess, 4815 North Leavitt street—When I went thru the Lincoln memorial building in New Salem the guide did a very successful job of putting us all into the historical past. I couldn't believe my eyes when I looked up and saw a tall, gaunt man who was the very image of Lincoln. To me he was the real Lincoln.

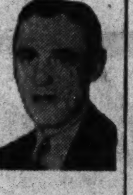
Bert B. Simon, salesman, 7536 Kingston avenue—No man has ever made such a lasting impression on me in such a short time as the speaker of the Illinois house, Elmer J. Schnackenberg. To look at him he's just a regular fellow, but he's one of the most brilliant conversationalists I've ever heard.



Kathleen White, waitress, 6358 Minerva avenue — One night as I was passing the side entrance of the Chicago theater Zasu Pitts walked out. I was thrilled to see a real celebrity and got her autograph. Because she was the first in that field that I'd ever seen in person she made a big impression on me.



Herbert Millstein, bacteriologist, 1307 Stoughton, Urbana—There aren't many individuals whom I can set aside as a pattern of what I'd like to be. But there was one university professor who will always be an inspiration to me. He had the remarkable capacity of being cheerful under any circumstances.



Albert Paull, furrier, 1633 Farwell avenue—About six months ago I met a victim of infantile paralysis. I saw him just once but he has been a constant example of good humor and optimism to me. I don't see how a man can be in the shape he is in and still have such a pleasant outlook on life.

R. T. McAntosh, elevator starter, 4011 Lake Park avenue—In a small camp near a lake in Ontario I met the prince of Wales. I was only 10 and just a helper in the camp but I'll never forget him. I admired him because a boat ride and fishing trip seemed to amuse him as much as it did me.

LAURA INGALLS WORE SWASTIKA, DOCTOR ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—Laura Ingalls, noted speed flyer, was variously portrayed in District court today as a propaganda agent trying to usher Hitler's "new order" into the United States and as an egotistical patriot conducting a one woman campaign of counterespionage against the Nazis. These conflicting pictures were given to a jury by prosecution and defense as Miss Ingalls, 38 years old, once the women's transcontinental speed champion, went on trial on charges of failure to register with the state department as an agent of the German reich.

M. Neil Andrews, special assistant to the attorney general, said Miss Ingalls was "an intense German sympathizer" and a "missionary for the Nazi cause." To back these statements, he produced two witnesses. One, Dr. I. Daniel Shorell, New York plastic surgeon, said that he operated on Miss Ingalls in New York last March. While she was in the hospital, he said, she wore a swastika pendant and called Hitler a "marvelous man." Dudley Steele, airport manager from Burbank, Cal., testified to a conversation along the same lines which, he said, had so impressed him that he made notes on Miss Ingalls' remarks for possible future use.

James Reilly, defense counsel, declared that Miss Ingalls' aim was not to benefit Hitler but thwart him. Three times, he said, she tried to convince the FBI that it ought to give her work as a counter-espionage agent, and when she was turned down, she decided to do it on her own.

REVEAL HAWAII REPORT MADE BY GESTAPO AGENT

Found in His Effects After Death in Traffic.

New York, Feb. 9 [Special]. — A Gestapo agent's detailed report, believed to have been drawn a year ago, of the military and naval defenses of Pearl Harbor and the Island of Oahu today became the government's prize exhibit in the case against six men and a woman accused of conspiracy to violate the federal espionage law.

It carried the notation: "This will be of interest mostly to our yellow allies." The report, said by the Federal Bureau of Information handwriting expert to be in the labored Germanic script of Capt. Ulrich von der Osten, alias Lopez, detailed Oahu's military roads minutely.

It described a length Pearl Harbor and its defenses, including the destroyers stationed there. "Some of them are outmoded," the report noted.

Even then, the report noted, there were "few planes in the air," tho the few there were assigned to both day and night patrols. The forts guarding the harbor, the report said, were strong.

Tells of FBI Group.

The letter, which in places was not entirely clear, revealed that "56 FBI officers are in Oahu alone" and set forth that "questioning can't be done too openly."

The government said the report was found among the effects of Capt. von der Osten, killed in a taxicab accident in Times square last March after his return from Hawaii. He also had a tourist's map of Oahu it was said.

At the bottom of the report was a question, apparently intended for his superior, "Are you interested? Hope be good idea to dispatch observer."

Added was "It seems a still better idea to send some one to Puerto Rico."

Capt. von der Osten's report was written on stationery of the American President lines and, either going or coming, the German agent had the company aboard the luxury liner of a naval officer.

"Fellow passenger—lieutenant commander," was the laconic comment on the report.

The report was introduced by Charles A. Appel, a FBI agent, along with a miscellany of others of Capt. von der Osten's effects.

Gestapo Card Found.

His Gestapo [German secret police] card, found in a wallet and issued in Berlin by Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chief, showed he had come to the United States under the name of Julio Lopez. Among other addresses was that of Manuel Alonzo in Madrid, said to be a mail drop for Himmler.

There were several military and road maps, a volume of colored maps of China, a map showing the highways of the United States, some of it heavily underscored by red crayon, and a map of roads of New England.

REDS CLAIM MORE TOWNS RETAKEN IN DONETZ BASIN

Russians Press Drive Thru Vast Mine Fields.

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Russians hurled the Germans back for new and smashing gains on both ends of the 1,500 mile front today and soviet authorities announced the capture of "one village after another" from the German forces retreating westward.

Slashing thru vast, hastily laid German mine fields, Red forces made their most important gains in the Donetz basin where the German withdrawal appeared to be taking on the appearance of a rout. Russian sappers paved the way for the advance, clearing five lanes thru one mine field two miles long and extracting 2,600 anti-tank mines at another point on the snow-crusted steppes. Three towns were recaptured. Battles were fought in heavy snowstorms whipped by high winds.

[The British radio quoted a Russian broadcast announcing the Red army had recaptured the town of Krasnograd, 60 miles southwest of Kharkov and an important junction on the Kharkov-Dnepropetrovsk and Odessa railway. This report indicated another advance for the Russians driving westward toward Dnepropetrovsk.]

Big Blows at Sevastopol.

Farther to the south, soviet commanders announced massive blows against the Nazi besiegers of the big Crimean naval base of Sevastopol. In the battle for that vital port soviet commanders declared the Germans have lost upward of 40,000 men killed and wounded. Defenders of Sevastopol in four days have smashed nine Nazi batteries hurling shells into the city.

Northwest of Moscow, the Russians announced that in the last few days the Red army surge had liberated more than 30 villages.

In this area the Germans were falling back rapidly, fighting stubborn rearguard actions. The heaviest fighting raged in the Kalinin sector, where large German forces were trapped in the recent soviet drive.

Additional gains were registered on the central front where the drive toward Smolensk blasted the Germans from 18 more localities between that Nazi held strong point and Moscow.

Storm Rzhev, Key Point.

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP).—A Stockholm dispatch to the Daily Express reported today that the Russian army began storming the strategic town of Rzhev at dawn on Saturday and after a few hours' desperate fighting "broke into the eastern defenses of the town and occupied the eastern suburbs." Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, has been virtually encircled by the Russian advance for some days.

"NEW PHASE ABOUT TO BEGIN."

A German political commentator broadcasting over the Berlin radio said, "Our defensive operations which began in December now are almost completed and a new phase of the war is about to begin or at least is being prepared."

Evidence that the Germans were gambling on retention of their advance bases for a spring offensive was seen in a Berlin claim that the Nazis had fought their way eastward into the western outskirts of Mozhaisk, important center 57 miles southwest of Moscow from which they were ejected weeks ago.

The German report was unconfirmed in other quarters.

The German high command communique claimed that the Red army had lost several thousand men killed and more than 1,000 prisoners in the Donetz basin in 14 days.

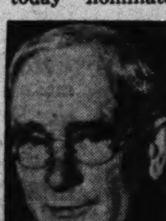
STANDLEY IS NAMED ENVOY TO RUSSIA IN PLACE OF STEINHARDT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—President Roosevelt today nominated Adm. William H. Standley, U. S. N., retired, former chief of naval operations, as the new ambassador to soviet Russia.



Adm. Standley.

Standley succeeds Laurence A. Steinhardt, who has been named envoy to Turkey since his return from Russia about three months ago. Dictator Josef Stalin of Russia has been reported as growing impatient over the delay, in naming a successor to Steinhardt, especially since he sent one of his ablest and shrewdest diplomats, Maxim Litvinov, former Russian foreign minister, to Washington as the Russian ambassador.

Adm. Standley, who was a member of the board of inquiry which recently investigated and reported upon the Pearl Harbor disaster, has been on the retired list for five years and is 70 years old, but reported in excellent health.

Standley is the second high ranking naval officer which the President has sent abroad to represent the United States, the other being Adm. William D. Leahy, also a former chief of naval operations, who is American ambassador to Vichy, France.

CLAIM GERMANY'S LOSS OF SOLDIERS HITS HIGHER RATE

Say Hitler Abandons Man Saving Plans.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Feb. 9. — Germany's claim that her great military victories have been and would be achieved with a minimum loss of human material no longer holds good.

With the Red army high command using Russia's immense manpower unsparingly to maintain offensive actions during a winter perhaps more severe than the record breaker of 1885, the German command has been forced to revise its defensive policy.

Military leaders trained to gain maximum results with a minimum loss of men have been replaced. Adolf Hitler now is his own supreme commander and the latest fighting reveals he is sacrificing men to hold the present German winter positions and to counterattack and destroy the soviet wedges which penetrated his lines and in some sectors threaten to cut important railroads.

Theories for Nazi Action.

Military observers here see two possible explanations for the Nazi course of action:

1. That Germany's military position in Russia has become serious. This view is supported by reports of disagreement among the high command over the advisability of withdrawing the German winter lines deep to the west and reduce contact with the Russians while compelling them to extend their supply lines.

2. That Hitler took command to gain full credit for anticipated successes in Russia for the National Socialist [Nazi] party.

Swedish observers who closely follow internal developments in Germany say it passed thru a crisis in November and December, when Hitler uttered warnings against persons he said endangered the internal front. His latest address was void of such statements, and it is believed that the dismissal or transfer of certain officials ended the danger he mentioned.

Greater Threat to Norway.

There are rumors in Berlin of more changes to come. The radical faction of the Nazi party, represented by Heinrich Himmler, the gestapo [secret police] chief, has been strengthened.

The Germans have indicated that they consider the presence of American troops in Iceland an increasing threat to the German forces in Norway. To minimize the danger of civil war in Norway, the Germans propose to mobilize Norwegian workers for jobs in Germany. The Norwegians are told that the enlarged German troop contingents to be stationed in Norway will do agricultural work and construct needed public works.

The decision of the German sponsored Premier Vidkun Quisling to place Norwegian youths of 10 to 18 years in uniformed National Samling [Quisling] organizations is reported to be arousing more and more opposition.

Vigorous Debate Centers on Mrs. Roosevelt.

Douglas Is Defended.

Rep. Leland M. Ford [R., Cal.], sponsor of the "fan dancer" amendment, touched off today's debate with the charge that Screen Actor Douglas was a well known radical who once refused to read the Declaration of Independence in a radio program because the program contained a characterization of communists as un-American.

Rep. Thomas Ford [D., Cal.] charged forward to the defense of Douglas, whom he labeled a great patriot. The accusers of Douglas, he said, were showing "the spirit of Cotton Mather."

Rep. August H. Andresen [R., Minn.] noted that Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, had ordered actors and other moving picture industry employés deferred from the draft if their places could not be filled. Farmers have thus far been unable to get a similar ruling in regard to farm employés, Andresen remarked.

"There may not be as much glamor to milking a cow as in a fan dancer's display of her art," proclaimed Andresen. "But young men are needed on the farms to produce the food of the world."

Rep. Jack Nichols [D., Okla.], who confessed he had a short career before the footlights in his youth, said he feared the debate was reflecting upon show business as a whole. The house was putting on a burlesque performance, he asserted.

The President's wife returned to the congressional limelight as Rep. Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.] denounced her and Price Administrator Leon Henderson for scaring the nation into a food shortage.

"This so-called first lady of the land and Henderson frightened the women of America into purchases of sugar by making speeches on the air," declared Celler. "There would be no sugar hoarding and no need for sugar rationing if those statements had not been made.

"You remember the fake Ickes oil shortage which sent the price of petroleum up and it has never come down again. There is an ample sugar supply in this country and if Mrs. Roosevelt and Henderson had been more cautious, there would have been no hoarding."

Lashes Entire Administration.

Rep. E. E. Cox [D., Ga.] lashed out at the entire administration.

"No party and no group has a monopoly on patriotism," he told the house. "Much foolishness is going on in the government but the administration seems not to understand our outrage at boondoggling and fancy uplifting.

"The people are unable to understand why the business of saving this country should be put into the hands of those who heretofore have been concerned in undermining and destroying it. Why this continued coddling of the Reds and the inefficients.

"If this actor, Douglas, wishes to fight the Germans and the Japs, let him grab a gun and go to it. As for the naming of some one to instruct children as to how to behave in moments of stress, I will take the good, wholesome housewife in preference to the fancy night club entertainer.

Assails 'Preferments.'

"The complaint goes up from many sections that there is a distressing lethargy evidenced on the part of the people. How can you expect other than that the war impulse will be depressed when we come to the realization of the fact that the officers of this government in charge of the draft movement have given the hootchy-kootchy entertainers and the fan dancers preferment?"

Rep. Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.], chairman of the appropriations committee, was moved to a wrathful defense of the government.

"Out of every hundred thousand guns, we make some that are not perfect," he said. "Out of every hundred thousand bombs we make, 5 per cent are duds. We cannot expect 100 per cent perfection among government employés.

"Some of you are looking for flyspecks. You are striking at the morale of the people, trying to create suspicion and distrust and it is a reprehensible thing.

Douglas Called Patriotic.

"All you can talk about are this man Melvyn Douglas and this woman, Chaney. He has come patriotically forward and offers his services for nothing.

"We have lost the war up to now. We have been licked in the Philippines. They are closing in on us tonight in Bataan, they are closing in on us this afternoon at Singapore, yet you stand up here and talk about dancers!"

The pay roll status of Douglas was cleared up in the debate. Altho the appropriations committee was officially informed at first that he was on a $8,000 a year basis, it was explained to the house that he is now serving without compensation, being paid his traveling expenses and also a $10 per diem allowance.

The bill eventually passed by the house appropriates $160,500,000, of which amount $100,000,000 is for the OCD. The remainder was alloted to the treasury and other government departments for extra expenses incurred because of the war program.

Rep. William E. Ditter [R., Pa.] argued in behalf of an amendment cutting $6,000,000 from a $26,000,000 fund for the treasury to be used for administrative expenses in the sale of defense bonds. These expenses were excessive, he argued. The amendment was defeated, however, 115 to 92.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Hailed.

The weary house finally came to the final vote with Mrs. Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.], chairman of the labor committee, hailing Melvyn Douglas as a "magnificent" man and Mrs. Roosevelt as the great woman of her day.

"Her patriotism and energy," said Mrs. Norton, "has aroused a feeling in the minority that they are in the slacker class. No wonder criticism of Mrs. Roosevelt has arisen."

Rep. Donald H. McClean [R., N. J.], was ruled out on a point of order when he sought to attach to the bill an amendment repealing the pensions which congress recently approved for itself.

"This is the first opportunity we have had to correct the blunder we made," he declared, but the chair ruled that the amendment had no place in an appropriation bill.

The measure now goes to the senate. It probably will go then into conference and that is where those who fought and lost in the house today hope to see the restrictive amendments killed.

A particularly hard fight, it was indicated, will be made to restore the appropriation with which the treasury would be reimbursed for its payment for the Donald Duck movie cartoon.

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 (AP).—American officials said today American fighter planes are in action in Russia, but that American pilots were not flying them. Two American pilots, Capt. John R. Allison and Lieut. Hubert Zemke, have been stationed at the embassy here to supervise the assembly and the first flights of Tomamawk [Curtiss P-40] planes delivered to Russia, but they have taken no active part in the fighting.

BILL TO REGISTER U.S. COMMUNISTS VETOED BY F. D. R.

Dies Cites Reds in Key Jobs as Reason for Action.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—A bill under which the Roosevelt administration was committed to require the registration of the communist party was vetoed today by the President.

Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the house committee on un-American activities, said he was not surprised by the President's veto message. He called attention to predictions often made by him in the house that the administration never would permit legislation requiring the registration of the communist party to become law.

"The reason is obvious," Dies said. "Such registration would expose the thousands of communists who are holding key positions in the government."

Never Enforced Against Reds.

The bill vetoed by the President was designed to strengthen the act of June 8, 1938, which requires all agents of foreign principals to file a registration statement at the state department but which never has been enforced against the communist party.

In his veto message to the house of representatives, Mr. Roosevelt said the bill was designed as a peacetime measure "to force the disclosure of the activities of foreign agents who may abuse the hospitality of our country or weaken our national unity by fostering discord and distrust."

Our participation in the war in coöperation with the 25 united nations "whose defense we deem vital to our defense" presents a different situation, the President said.

Seeks to Avoid "Interference."

"To achieve victory we must be certain that there is a minimum of interference with the strengthening and perfecting of joint action," the veto message continued. "Active collaboration of a military or economic nature with friendly countries requires the fullest and most constant exchange of representatives between us."

Mr. Roosevelt added that the requirements of the legislation he vetoed might in many instances be "unnecessary, inappropriate, and onerous in respect to the representatives of friendly nations who are constantly coming to and from the United States to coöperate with us."

He recommended that congress revise the legislation by granting broad discretionary powers to the attorney general with respect to the registration of foreign agents.

Referred to Committee.

The vetoed bill was referred to the house judiciary committee, which will determine whether to submit it to a vote of the house or to recommend substitute legislation.

Altho the bill did not name the communist party, the house of representatives was assured by Majority Leader John W. McCormack [D., Mass.] and ranking majority members of the judiciary committee on Jan. 28, when the legislation was approved in final form and sent to the White House, that it certainly would require the communist party to register or be prosecuted.

Administration leaders made these pledges in support of a conference agreement which had eliminated two house amendments by Rep. Dies specifically naming the communist party, the German-American bund, and the Kyffhauser bund. A motion by Dies to recommit the bill for the purpose of restoring these amendments was rejected by a standing vote of 228 to 40.

Deal Charged by Dies.

According to Dies the administration leaders made a deal with the Republicans which prevented a record vote in the house. The Republicans agreed not to force a record vote in return for the administration assurances that the bill would require the communists to register, Dies said.

"In any event, the present law, with the proposed amendments, covers everybody," McCormack told the house. "It covers the very organizations that my friend from Texas [Dies] talks about."

Rep. Hatton W. Sumners [D., Tex.], chairman of the judiciary committee, said: "Your committee on the judiciary, undertaking to deal with a recognized situation as your agent, brought in a bill here which nobody questions, covers every possible agency that could be covered if the Dies amendments were incorporated."

Administration leaders repeatedly pointed out that the bill would require the registration of any organization acting as an agent for any foreign government or any foreign political party or any other foreign principal.

For the record, Dies accepted the pledges of the administration leaders that the bill would require the communist party to register.

Warns of New Tragedy.

Dies told the house that communists have been coddled in this country as in no other country excepting soviet Russia. "I am convinced," he said, "that there are thousands of members of these fifth column organizations who hold key positions in the government, defense industries, and in some labor unions. It is of the greatest importance that their identities be established.

"My amendments will bring about the exposure of these people and enable the government to protect the country from them. If I should weaken in my efforts to bring about that exposure and another tragedy should occur I would blame myself.

Record for the Public.

"Even if these amendments are rejected this debate will accomplish some good purposes. It will show why we have been unable to get effective action against fifth colum organizations in America. It will also make a permanent record of the intention and belief of the house and senate judiciary committees that this bill does apply to the communist party, the Kyffhauserbund and the German-American bund.

If prompt action is not taken to prosecute these organizations under the terms of the act, the people and the congress will know the truth. I believe it has been stated by proponents of the bill that the department of justice helped to write the bill.

Advised on Meaning of Act.

"I have heard it said that as a matter of fact, they wrote the bill. Undoubtedly the department of justice advised the senate and house conferees that the bill does apply to these organizations, otherwise these committees would not make the statement that these organizations come within the meaning of the act.

"The issue is, therefore, made so clear that there can be no further alibis or excuses. Either these organizations will be prosecuted immediately or the people will have a right to believe that there is no official disposition to prosecute fifth columnists in this country."

A Telegram in the Record.

As evidence of the administration's attitude toward communists, Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] placed in the congressional record a telegram from Marvin H. McIntyre, one of the President's secretaries, to Arnold Johnson of Cleveland, O., state secretary of the communist party. The telegram, acknowledging receipt of a resolution in which the Ohio communist party pledged support of the President, was quoted in the New York Daily Worker [Official organ of the communist party] on Feb. 5 as follows:

"The President has received your fine letter and accompanying resolution, and he wishes me to convey to you and those who joined with you his deep appreciation of the patriotic support which you so generously pledge. It is extremely heartening to the President, in carrying out the will of the American people, to receive the voluntary assurance that the country stands as one man in its determination to spare no effort and to assume every sacrifice necessary to a successful outcome."

DEMANDS HALT IN PAPER WASTE BY U.S. AGENCIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—It is time for government to initiate conservation of paper by cutting out its propaganda efforts, including the daily issuance of tons of worthless press releases, Rep. Robert F. Jones [R., Ohio] today told the house.

Jones disclosed that he has informed Price Administrator Leon Henderson also of these sentiments, but has received no promise of definite action from him.

The congressman released an exchange of letters between him and Henderson in which he informed the price fixer and rationer that the annual pay roll for government information and propaganda efforts totals $27,500,000; the cost of blank paper in the 1941 fiscal year totaled $2,515,858; and the free mailings of all bureaus for the fiscal year 1941 cost $49,020,190.

Compares Congressional Mail.

In comparison with this latter item, Jones told the house that 30,000,000 pieces of mail were sent out by congressmen in 1941 at a total cost to the government of only $926,000. The figure of 49 millions for mailing by government bureaus accentuates "the extent to which propaganda is going thru the mail by the executive branch of the government," Jones said.

Jones wrote Henderson on Jan. 30 presenting an itemized list of costs for blank paper furnished various departments and bureaus. The amount of blank paper ordered by the government in the fiscal years 1932 to 1941, inclusive, totaled $13,597,005, ranging between $724,189 for 1932 and the $2,515,858 figure for 1941, the high-water mark for the 10-year period, Jones said.

"Day after day, tons of paper are delivered to the newspaper men, columnists and radio stations as well as newspapers thruout the land and the public generally by the several bureaus of the government, each maintaining a separate press agentry," Jones wrote Henderson. "I am advised by members of the press that a great quantity of this material is not newsworthy and merely reaches the waste basket.

Suggests U. S. Set Example.

"I feel sure that you will see the advisability of enforcing conservation of paper among the several bureaus of the government so that the government can be held up as an example of the kind of self sacrifice that you will call upon the people to make to conserve the use of paper."

Henderson replied to Jones in a letter of Feb. 4, saying he was sending Jones' letter to Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of the bureau of Industrial Conservation, and that "I am sure they will give you prompt action." Jones wrote Henderson again on Feb. 6 declaring that the problem outlined is "as important as any that have received your personal consideration, unless there is a double standard, one for the American people and another for the federal government." Jones suggested that Henderson attack the problem personally "with your usual aggressive vigorous action."

British Woman Gets Prison for Breaking Defense Laws

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP).—A 36 year old typist, Irma Gertrude Sophie Stapleton, was sentenced to ten years imprisonment today for offenses under the defense regulations. "You have been found guilty of doing certain acts with the intent to assist the enemy, namely Germany," the judge said, passing sentence after a three day secret trial. "In the country whose interests you served this charge would have been punished by death."

ROOSEVELT ASKS 22¾ BILLION FOR ARMY SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—President Roosevelt asked congress today for emergency appropriations totaling $22,888,901,900 for various branches of the army shortly after he had signed a $26,495,265,474 appropriation for the navy.

At the same time, he requested an appropriation of 1 billion 502 million dollars for construction of vessels by the maritime commission and contract authority for an additional 2 billion 350 millions.

Mr. Roosevelt submitted to congress letters from Harold D. Smith, budget director, proposing the new expenditures. The President noted that he concurred with Smith's observations.

Detailed Explanations Lacking.

Largest of the army items was $13,252,200,000 for "ordnance service and supplies." Neither this nor any other item carried any detailed explanation.

Other army items included $3,011,512,000 for the office of the secretary of war in "expediting production"; $3,391,166,900 for the quartermaster corps, including army subsistence, supplies, clothing and equipage, transportation, horses, and pack animals; $1,349,000,000 for the signal corps; $167,440,000 for the air corps; $171,178,000 for the medical department; $1,226,300,000 for the corps of engineers; $288,336,000 for the chemical warfare service, and $31,769,000 for seacoast defenses.

The navy appropriation measure signed by the President provided for both cash and contract authorizations. It provided also for adding approximately 25,000 airplanes to the navy's force and enlarging the fleet.

Eight Billion for War Vessels.

The legislation also makes available 8 billion dollars for the construction of war vessels ranging from battleships to torpedo boats and allocates another 5 billions for naval guns and ammunition.

The measure also authorizes the President to lend or lease any of 1,799 small vessels, for which approximately 3 billion 900 million dollars was appropriated, as well as any other naval equipment up to a total of 2½ billions.

—Stephen Decatur.

PLANNING FOR VICTORY.

A joint American and British commission has been set up in Washington to plan the strategy and conduct of the war. The commission is to be known as the combined chief of staffs group. Gen. Marshall, Adm. King, and Lieut. Gen. Arnold, the ranking officers of our army, navy, and air force, will be members of this board. The corresponding British officers will remain in London, but will be represented in Washington by men of high rank who have been instructed to keep in constant communication with their principals. A so-called munitions assignment board headed by Harry Hopkins is to act in the closest coöperation with the chiefs of staff and a similar board under Lord Beaverbrook is to be set up in England.

Whether an organization so constituted will work satisfactorily remains to be seen. A good many people in this country, and quite probably in Britain as well, would prefer to entrust the final strategic decisions to one man, particularly if he were Gen. MacArthur, who alone among American and British officers has given evidence in combat of capacity equal to the demands of the hour. But at any rate a step in the right direction has been taken, for the appointment of the board evidences a dissatisfaction with the unplanned, haphazard conduct of the war which has given the enemy all the initial successes.

In every military operation it is customary and, indeed, essential for the command to make an estimate of the situation and upon that estimate to formulate the requirements in men and materiel needed to achieve victory. Thus far that reckoning has not been seriously attempted by us. Evidently it is to be undertaken now.

It is time this were done. Indiscriminate buying and the fabrication of everything that anybody in Washington can think of ordering will break down our economic life without bringing us any nearer to winning the war. If we are to have victory it will be attained by an intelligent plan of action and a concentration upon acquiring the means to make the plan work.

Make every allowance for hysterical people and every allowance for mediocre people in positions of importance and still there can be no excuse for the kind of confusion which has existed in Washington and, no doubt, in London as well. There must be a change. So far as our government departments are concerned they are all in chaos.

It is far from certain that the new board will be able to force a change in existing methods, ingrained as they are. That being so, congress must increase its vigilance and be prepared to take the situation in hand and compel reform if it is not otherwise forthcoming.

BUNDLES FOR CONGRESS.

A while back being a congressman was a part time job. It was possible for him to practice a profession or run a business between sessions and give his interests some personal oversight by sneaking home now and then while the session was on. That is now scarcely possible. Sessions have been running longer and longer, and during the war there can be no adjournment at all.

The pay of senators and representatives is $10,000. Quite a number of members have picked up an extra thousand or two each year by speeches arranged by lecture bureaus. A number have placed their wives, sons, or daughters on the pay roll as secretary or as a member of the staff of one of the standing committees. But for many members their official salaries constitute their incomes.

Now the cost of living in Washington is rising, and there is stiff competition for suitable living quarters from the dollar a year men, particularly those with expense accounts from their companies. All of this is bad enough. What hurts the members of congress most is taxes. The levies which they vote upon other people apply equally to them.

Members of congress fall into the salary range which has been given the stiffest increase in recent tax laws. In 1939 a married congressman without other dependents paid on his $10,000 salary $460. That was raised to $528 for 1941 and for this year has been further increased to $1,305. Now the secretary of the treasury is calling upon congressmen for a further increase in their income taxes.

Members of congress about to fill out the income tax return were in no mood to up their own taxes. Many became painfully aware that they could not lay by much for old age, with taxes what they now are, and the difficulty was likely to increase. A determination was growing to go slow about boosting taxes, when some one thought of the pension fund. Its adoption was the signal for widespread indignation. People are not unsympathetic with the financial problems of a congressman. They just insist that those who vote crushing taxes on others must stand up and take it themselves and not seek to evade the taxes by juicy pensions or salary boosts—an avoidance not available to all of us.

CCC RECRUITMENT.

Between 10,000 and 12,000 unmarried men between the ages of 17 and 23 are to be recruited this month, not by the armed services, as you might expect, but by the Civilian Conservation corps. The enrollment will coincide with the new draft registration. The minimum draft age is 20, but even the 17 year olds sought by the CCC could volunteer for the navy. The CCC offers certain inducements. Its recruits will not be put under enemy fire, and their pay starts at $30 a month, as against $21 for the army or navy.

The CCC, in engaging in direct competition with the services in time of war, attempts to justify itself by saying that recruits will be used to guard against forest fires, incendiary bombs, and sabotage. Like all the other nondefense agencies that are fighting for existence, the CCC endeavors to demonstrate that it is necessary for national defense.

An enemy bombing force, if it ever came within striking range of the west coast, might attempt to set fire to the timberlands, but if any such attempt is made, fire fighting should be in the hands of the highly competent forest service. If the danger is thought to require a larger personnel than now exists, these additions should go to the trained permanent agency, rather than to the CCC.

The CCC administrators want about 200 million dollars to spend during the coming fiscal year. A program of these dimensions assumes an enrollment of 90,000 to 100,000 young men. The CCC philosophy is that, whether there is any need for the proposed activities or not, the men must be found to justify the appropriation.

With the country at war, all CCC activities can and should be absorbed by the military, or by other existing agencies offering training for defense vocations. Congress should deny the CCC the money it seeks to squander.

THE PUBLIC IN THE MIDDLE.

The North Shore interurban line has lost 75 per cent of its shore line riders and a quarter of the riders on its main line as a result of the disruption of its service thru a union jurisdictional dispute. The public has been greatly inconvenienced and national defense hampered to a measurable degree. If the situation is not corrected soon it is not improbable that the inconvenience and the impairment of the defense effort will be made permanent, for the company is in a weak financial position.

Despite this situation, little has been done to bring it to an end. The company itself is powerless, as an employer almost always is in a jurisdictional strike. An attempt to resume the normal North Shore line service over the tracks of the "L" would probably result in a strike tying up the "L." Federal agencies apparently are unable or unwilling to attempt a solution. The federal railroad mediation board appears to be sleeping on a report on the claims of the rival unions to represent the employés. The evidence was taken some months ago.

The Amalgamated union, whose members on the "L" refuse to handle North Shore trains, has a precedent in its favor. Some years ago when the South Shore line, another interurban railroad, started running its trains into the loop from Kensington over the tracks of the Illinois Central, the railroad operating crafts on the I. C. refused to handle the South Shore trains until the South Shore employés were enrolled in their unions. In the North Shore case the situation is reversed. It is the railroad crafts that have a large number of the operating employés, and the Amalgamated union of street car employés that refuse to let the trains come to the terminal.

The principle, which should be law and is certainly justice, that a man should be allowed to join a union of his own choosing is being flouted in the North Shore case, as it may well have been in the South Shore case. Two groups of union leaders have been allowed to victimize the public by their quarrel over a dues collecting privilege. It would be surprising if sufficient search did not turn up some statute to compel a correction of the situation and thus protect the public. If there is not such a statute, there should be one.

If labor unions cannot settle their jurisdictional quarrels without transforming the field of operations involved into a battleground in which the contestants injure the public and the public has no recourse, they are inviting a quick statutory remedy in the way of curtailment of the privileges which they are misusing.

PLAYING AT WAR.

It requires no vivid imagination to name a score of subjects to which the congress of the United States could devote several hours of debate with more profit to the nation than could be gained from discussion of dancers, housebroken communists and movie actors in the civilian defense setup.

That the congressmen thought such a discussion necessary serves only to emphasize the frivolous and hysterical manner in which the Office of Civilian Defense has been administered ever since it was set up. Either civilian defense is a deadly serious subject, in which case it probably should be placed under the general supervision of the army, or there is no excuse for the activity.

It is not impossible that some of our cities, not excepting Chicago, may be subjected to token air raids by axis planes. That makes a case for a defense organization, but at the same time should impose the limitation that the precautionary measures be kept in some reasonable ratio to the danger of attack.

There is no place in any rational scheme of civilian defense for recruiting of CIO unions of air wardens, as has been attempted in New York; for using the organization to strengthen the Democratic political machine, as is being done in Chicago; for hiring fan dancers or for encouraging publicity seekers. The present defects of the organization spring largely from the fact that it has fallen into the hands of social workers, who see in it a heaven-sent opportunity to interfere with and "guide" the lives of that large section of the population that has escaped their ministration until now.

There is no room for professional uplifters in the program. There is no room for its use as a means of promoting public hysteria. There is no room in the OCD for Mayor La Guardia or Mrs. Roosevelt, and until they are replaced by competent executives there is little chance that the frivolity and playing at war of which congressmen rightly complained will be ended.

Editorial of the Day

CORNER STONE OF THE COUNTRY LIBRARY.

[New York Herald Tribune.]

Almanac fanciers who are consulting crisp 1942 numbers of the World, the Old Farmers', Dr. Miles' Nervine or other old standard works of this kind may be surprised to know that a farmer's almanac of nearly three thousand years ago is still in print and makes interesting reading. It is Hesiod's "Works and Days," which, if not wholly given up to weather predictions and celestial phenomena for a particular year, still bears a close resemblance to the almanac of modern times.

This almanac of Beotian shepherds of the eighth century B. C. was composed by a dirt farmer who made a living on the poor soil of a rugged, Vermontish corner of ancient Greece; a soil that in Hesiod produced also a rugged and Vermontish wisdom. An account of Hesiod's daily life on a farm under Helicon is interwoven in "Works and Days" with episodes of mythology and bits of practical advice on agriculture and home economics [Hesiod was a bachelor]. It makes a work very like an almanac of our times crossed with personal history of farm experience and a government bulletin and a dream book. Lovers of country life and the classic who are planning a library for the little place in the country should start the collection with Hesiod's "Works and Days." With Homer, Hesiod is a foundation stone of Greek literature, and if there is an earlier work on farming in print we do not know of it. There are many good translations.

STAY-AT-HOME TRAVELER.

The average Chicagoan's associations with the Dutch East Indies, especially Java, deserve discussion to supplement the war news. First of all, to the older generation, these islands suggest the morning cup of coffee, altho it probably comes from Brazil or some other South American country.

* * *

The word "java" is common American slang for coffee, particularly among waiters in quick-service eating places and denizens of theatrical districts such as press agents, booking agents, stagehands, chorus girls, and song writers. In this walk of life a cup of coffee is often called "a scoop of java."

Small boys of the 1890s, on running an errand to the grocery store, were instructed to ask for "java and mocha," supposed to be the best mixture. It did not come in cans, as in this age of radio program coffee, but in paper bags. All this started in 1711, when the first shipment of Java coffee, after experimental growing of the Arabian coffee shrub, went to Holland.

* * *

Java also suggests the great batik fad which swept this country nearly a quarter of a century ago. Like coffee, batik is a story whose telling requires columns, but we will skim over it by saying that this Javanese method of decorating textiles was as much of an art mania for several years as "modern" painting is today. We will place the batik period, at a rough estimate, from 1919 to 1924. In one of those years the great social event of the winter in Chicago was a Batik Ball. To be in step with culture, every family had to have at least one piece of batik on display.

* * *

Batik brings us to the sarong, familiar to motion picture addicts thru the performances of Dorothy Lamour and others of that ilk. The Javanese sarong is of batik patterns. This association of ideas leads to the island of Bali, Java's trailer, where it is not the fashion, apparently, to hitch the sarong under the armpits.

* * *

Bali meant nothing in American life until modernism went into its fit of nudism. The whoopee period's world cruises on luxury liners were, we think, responsible for this relatively small island's sudden rise into popularity. Then artists and photographers began to head for Bali like foxhounds after an aniseed bag.

Symphony in Silver Gray.

The afternoon was waning and the rush-hour traffic moved restlessly across the Avenue bridge. Snow was lightly falling and a soft veil hung over the Chicago river. The tall buildings lining the banks rose ghostlike against the sky, defined but intangible. It was a Whistler—a symphony in silver gray. Perhaps something of Whistler lingered here, for years before on this same spot his father and his grandfather lived.

On yonder corner where Wacker drive sweeps in to join the Avenue—where the great cupolaed building towers to the sky—old Commandant Whistler had built Fort Dearborn. And now the snow, descending merrily, dissolves the stone to shadow and thru the tumbling flakes a vision comes of fort and stockade, shacks and swampy land, echoing the transience of things material.

GOBLIN DANCE.

Long shadows of the wind-stripped trees
(No pleasance now for birds and bees)
Parade with sure and stately ease
On level snow. But when the moon
Flings them across the white ravine
They leap, and caper, and careen
Like goblins, thru the long night's noon.
When all of me but shadow flees,

Shakespeare Started It.

Now that Old Dobbin may be coming into his own again, I'd like to know when and where he got his "handle." Austin Stegath.

(First mention in print: Shakespeare, "The Merchant of Venice," 1596—"Thou hast got more hair on thy chin than Dobbin my pillhorse has on his tail." The name is a dialect variant of Robin.)

As the designations "World War I." and "World War II." seem awkward, why not call the first one the Trench War? Ildra Zae.

Consider the confusion of the modern young thing with bundles on a windy day. She must choose between keeping her skirts down or her hat on. Tabarin.

Take a look at the war slogans for industry, "Keep 'em flying," "Keep 'em rolling," etc., and then another at the strike-bound tracks of the North Shore railway in Chicago, already yellow bands of rust. CHARLES COLLINS.

FOREIGN BODIES IN THE LUNGS.

Many tots insist upon tasting everything that comes within reach. Articles that shine or which reflect color look good enough to eat. In fact, the lips and the mouth impart no little information. Unfortunately, however, a fit of crying, a stumble, or a fall may cause a sudden gasp—whereupon the foreign body is sucked into a bronchial tube.

Whenever such an accident occurs, an emergency is presented. No object is ever sterile and—should it lodge somewhere in the respiratory apparatus—it must be removed promptly. Otherwise inflammation is likely to ensue, with the possible formation of a lung abscess. Then it is that life is in jeopardy.

Of course, the careful mother will keep tiny toys—those that are likely to be breathed in—out of reach. In addition, as soon as may be we can teach our offspring that the mouth is to be used only for food. Then, too, we can supervise infants while at play. When it comes to edibles, we can make certain that sizable seeds [cherry stones, etc.], bits of bone, and the like are eliminated.

How can we tell when such a mishap has taken place? Even tho the youngster can talk, his sense of guilt—of having done wrong—may induce him to be silent. As a rule, there is an episode of choking, gagging, or coughing, followed by an interval perhaps of several hours, during which no symptoms will be exhibited. More often than not, however, within a short time some embarrassment of breathing will be noted. It may be that one of the smaller bronchi has become blocked, shutting off completely a portion of the lung. Thus a persistent cough, with the child showing no previous signs of a cold, will demand investigation.

We rely upon X-rays to tell us what has happened. If the foreign body is metallic it will be seen on the film. Even tho the article fails to cast a shadow, the plate will show the condition of the lungs beyond the point of obstruction. The number of possible troublemakers is legion, ranging from straight or safety pins to metallic soldiers, buttons, beads, etc.

Within recent years, extraction by means of a cleverly designed instrument, known as the "bronchoscope," has come into vogue. The sooner the operation can be carried out, the better. The longer the item remains impacted within the soft tissues, the greater will be the inflammatory reaction. We cannot depend upon the secretions to dissolve this unwanted guest—a button, for example—altho, in a few cases, a violent fit of coughing may expel it.

The old-fashioned method of upending the child may provoke a sufficiently powerful paroxysm of barking to release the plug. If this can be done early, well and good. But such a favorable outcome is so rare that no chances should be taken. Safety calls for immediate hospitalization and the services of a skilled bronchoscopist.

For the most part, substances which are swallowed and enter the stomach, even tho indigestible, will pass thru the alimentary tract without doing harm. At any rate, the little patient should not be alarmed and normal feedings may be allowed. Frequent X-rays, however, can be taken to observe progress. Surgery will seldom be needed.

COMPLICATION.

A. D. F. writes: What causes iritis?

REPLY.

Inflammation of the iris of the eye usually comes as a result of a systemic disease, such as rheumatism. The ailment may follow pneumonia, whooping cough, mumps, tonsillitis, and many other conditions.

LOW GRADE INFECTION.

Mrs. J. P. writes: My daughter had a strep throat and during her illness her temperature was normal. I had always thought that an infection produced a fever.

REPLY.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

WINNING THE WAR.

Robinson, Ill., Feb. 5.—Today I was requested by my wife to save the canceled stamps on mail coming into my law office so that these stamps can be collected by a local organization and returned to the government at Washington. She understands the purpose is to reclaim the dye that is used in making these stamps.

To consider a project of this kind in connection with the news appearing in your morning paper that a shipbuilding company's profits were so excessive that they voluntarily repaid $4,000,000 to the government; with the treatment received by the small business man whose letter appeared in your columns a day or so ago, stating the treatment he received while in Washington attempting to obtain a contract for the manufacture of the article mentioned; and with the further fact that employés are so numerous that they are crowded uncomfortably into a small room and told not to worry if they are not put to work as they are already on the pay roll, all causes me to think that if this country is going to prepare for war the sensible thing to do first would be to prepare for war.

As soon as the American government realizes that this is a war to the finish and cuts out the unjustifiable profits made by contractors with the government, eliminates the brokers thru whom one must apparently deal in order to receive any consideration and the parasites in Washington, both on and off the pay roll, then this country will begin to get ready to meet the problems confronting it. CHAS. E. JONES.

THE LAKE MICHIGAN FERRY.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—One of your platform planks for Chicagoland: "A Motor Ferry to Michigan," ought not to be abandoned, in face of the present emergency and automobile and tire rationing. There will be a real need for passenger and freight service from Chicago to Michigan ports when the navigation season opens in the spring. Such a project would relieve the congested areas at the south end of Lake Michigan, points which are vital to national defense and which should be kept clear from as much confusion as possible due to traffic problems. L. J. K.

SAVING THE PENNIES.

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 26.—Exactly one week after I started saving grease, I toted a full coffee can over to my meat market and received 11 cents. Eleven cents is not important money, but 10 million families at 11 cents a week would save $57,000,000 per year. It is a lesson we individually, collectively, and governmentally must learn before we even begin to start paying for this war.

ELLEN POWERS.

VISITING NURSES.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—The column in THE TRIBUNE of Jan. 22 covering the annual meeting of the Visiting Nurse Association of Chicago was so splendidly done that I want you to know how pleased the members of our organization are.

QUALIFIED BY PRECEDENT.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—When Ex-Gov. Lowden was offered the post of secretary of the navy he refused it because he knew nothing about the navy. He is now qualified. V. H. M.

TIPPING WAITRESSES.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—As the mother of a waitress whose family is partly dependent on her for support and three-fourths of whose income is derived from tips, I wish to protest against the suggestion that every patriotic citizen tip his waitress with defense stamps instead of a coin. Instead of patriotism, this would be a species of downright robbery, for no waitress can support even herself, let alone others, on the salaries paid by the better restaurants. I know an expert waitress who has enjoyed a weekly income of $50 for years, $40 of that sum consisting of tips. If her patrons give her defense stamps she will have to quit restaurant work and go into a factory, unless the restaurant owners are willing to double or triple the usual $8 to $10 salaries. SELMA WALDEN LINCOLN.

POLITICAL EXPEDITION?

Peru, Ill., Feb. 3.—That certainly was perfect timing to have an AEF land in North Ireland, just when Prime Minister Churchill was under fire in parliament. Reading his speech, one cannot but notice that the only thing to which he points with pride is the landing, with more to follow. Churchill said time and again that Britain did not need any of our men in 1943 or ever, only supplies.

R. N. WISE.

WHERE HE GOT HIS OCD JOB.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—A card bearing the name of the near north side civilian defense committee and signed by the block organizer, a neighbor, was left at my house last night. On checking, I found that the block organizer is an active worker for the Democratic party, that he was appointed to the job of block organizer by the Democratic precinct captain . . , who in turn was instructed by the Democratic commiteeman.

H. A. S.

UNSANITARY.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—In reference to "Hygeia" letter in today's TRIBUNE, why worry about a little bit of printer's ink on your fingers? He should come down to the municipal social hygiene clinic where we have plenty of venereal germs, and try to find soap or towels in the washrooms for employés or patients. This also is under the board of health and subject to their ideas of sanitation.

"ANTISEPTIC."

VOLUNTEER.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—How can I acquire a position in the OCD at a starting salary of $4,000 to $8,000 a year? I'm not a dancer or movie actor nor have I been on the Dies black list, but I'll be glad to sit around and draw my salary.

TOM RALEIGH.

THE WEAKER SEX.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—Yesterday morning, feeling violently ill, I was forced to strap-hang all the way to the loop—while all about me were specimens of big, healthy males, happily plopped in their seats, oblivious to the women standing around them.

I never asked to be taken off a pedestal by men, and put on an equal footing with them. I know I am of a physically and mentally inferior sex, and I want to be treated so. I never asked for a place in the world beside men. I still think a woman's place is in the home, and just because some self-sufficient females decided some time ago that women had as much right in business and politics as men, that doesn't mean that I have to agree.

Darn it, anyway, I'm a woman, and I still want to be treated as one. I still want a man to get up and give me his seat, open doors for me, and help me cross streets. Does this make me a social outcast? ETHEL CORRIHER BURGE.

WARTIME WORKING WEEK.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—How can any of us prove that the people of this nation are performing more than a 10 per cent war effort? Take myself. I only work a five day week and would like a seven day week, but don't know where to get it. It must be shop work on war contracts. Willing Americans everywhere are ready to work as hard as myself and harder, but why the 10 per cent effort to put us all to work? ALLEN STEVEN.

RENT RECEIPTS.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We are living in a two-flat building and have a lease until the first of May. Have been having quite a bit of trouble to get our rent receipt from landlady, and the other day a brother of landlady told my wife we would get no more receipts when we paid our rent.

1. Is it legal to get a cashier's check from a bank and mail it to them [2] by registered mail? C. B.

1. Depends on what you mean by "legal." There is no law against it if that is what you mean to ask. The check, if preserved by the bank, would presumably constitute proof that you had made a payment but not necessarily that the payment was for rent. An express or postoffice money order might be more satisfactory in that you would have the receipt in your hands, altho here again it would not show just what you had paid for. Technically, the creditor can reject a tender of a check and insist on payment in cash.

2. We see no necessity for this.

MIDNIGHT! THAT'S GREAT OPERETTA ENTRY DEADLINE

Contest Judging Will Be Started at Once.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for receiving the finished entries in W-G-N's $10,500 Great American Operetta contest. Scores of completed operettas were received over the week-end, and others came in yesterday. But a flood is expected today.

Preliminary examination of the operettas will be started at once by a staff of experts from the W-G-N music and drama departments. The staff of readers expect to complete their work in about a week. Ten nationally known music leaders have been invited to come to Chicago on Feb. 18 and 19 to join in the final selection of the three prize winning operettas which are to be produced on the W-G-N-Mutual Theater of the Air in March. The grand prize winner, the Great American Operetta, will be broadcast on Saturday, April 11, with Marion Claire as the star.

An unusual war broadcast has been scheduled by the British Broadcasting corporation for its North American transmission at 8:30 o'clock tonight over GSC, 9.58 megacycles, 31.32 meters, and GSL, 6.11 meg. and 49.1 m. This broadcast, titled Attack at Sea, is a 15 minute recording made by Robert Dougall, special events reporter, from the deck of a destroyer during an enemy air raid on vessels under convoy by the destroyer. The same broadcast will be aired again at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow and at 11 p. m. Saturday.

A description of the fire that swept thru the apartment building at 5519 Kenwood avenue yesterday was broadcast by the W-G-N mobile unit from W-G-N's frequency modulation station, W59C.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP).—George Ade, Hoosier humorist, best known for his "Fables in Slang," is 76 years old today and still the hopeful American. He is hopeful about the war, about girls who drink, and himself.

"I'm ready for anything except a foot race or a rhumba contest," the white haired bachelor said. "The old bean is working and I can read all I want to and get around as much as I like."

LT. GOV. MURPHY DENIES SEEKING WAR BROKER JOB

Tried to Get Friend Post, Inquiry Is Told.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—Lieut. Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan told a house defense investigating committee today how he tried to get a friend a job as contact man in Washington and disputed assertions that he personally was interested in receiving fees.

Murphy appeared on the basis of statements by Rep. Albert J. Engel [R., Mich.] that the lieutenant governor bid for employment by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company of Muskegon in the negotiation of war contracts.

S. B. Withington and E. E. Widders, officers of the company, testified they understood that Murphy and Edgar T. Clapp of Detroit wanted to be employed jointly and that the lieutenant governor expected to share in commissions, fees or salary.

Merely Helping a Friend.

Murphy told the committee that he accompanied Clapp to the company's offices solely to help Clapp get a job as a liaison man in Washington.

Clapp, salesman for and part owner of a Detroit foundry, testified that he hoped to receive a salary of $1,000 a month and expenses. Withington and Widders said Murphy had suggested $2,000 or $3,000 a month was a reasonable compensation.

The lieutenant governor, denying that he and Clapp had agreed to share fees, said he did no more for the Detroit man than he would do for any other resident of the state.

"I would be of service to Clapp or any other person or institution in Michigan," said Murphy.

Withington and Widders said their company decided against hiring Clapp and asserted no fee had been paid to any one for defense contracts.

Visits to Firm Related.

Withington, general works manager, testified that Clapp visited the company's office alone first and later with Murphy.

Answering questions by Committee Counsel Ralph Burton, Withington said Clapp asked for employment for himself and Murphy. The witness quoted Murphy as saying he could do the company a lot of good in Washington but that he would have to be on the pay roll. Withington testified that Murphy said such employment would be legal.

Widders, plant superintendent, testified that Clapp suggested to him that 5 per cent would be a fair commission for obtaining a contract.

Later, Murphy told Widders, the latter said, that it would take some time to make certain contacts in Washington and that the cost to the company would be between $2,000 and $3,000 a month, preferably in salary.

Clapp Defends Murphy Rôle.

Clapp testified he customarily worked on a 5 per cent commission basis and had discussed fees with company officers in the event a certain contract was awarded.

Clapp said that Murphy went with him to the company's offices after he had told the lieutenant governor he was looking for a job.

"Did Murphy say he wanted to share in fees?" Burton asked.

"No, sir," said Clapp.

Clapp testified he had no agreement with Murphy to divide commissions, fees, or salary. He added he had received no money from the company.

Murphy testified that during his visit at the company's offices with Clapp he suggested that it was advisable to employ a Washington representative. He recommended, he added, that the company decide on the qualifications of a man and then pay him a salary rather than a commission.

Misunderstanding, Murphy Hints.

This recommendation, said Murphy, might have been misunderstood by the company. He was referring only to Clapp, he said.

Asked if he intended to take up residence in Washington as representative of the company, Murphy shouted:

"I am lieutenant governor of Michigan and could not live in Washington."

Asked if payment of $2,000 a month was mentioned, Murphy said no.

He said he had no contacts with any one in the army, navy, or air corps. He added that he knew William S. Knudsen, Sidney Hillman, and a few other persons in the capital, mainly thru business activities.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer draft and military service questions, both in the daily columns and personally if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the query.]

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

"What part does the coast guard play during wartime?" writes J. M. L., who is interested in enlisting in the coast guard reserve for the duration of the war.

When the United States entered the war, the coast guard automatically was transferred to the navy. To the service's numerous peacetime functions as policeman of the seas and waterways were added the additional duties of war.

Specialists in Small Boats.

Among these wartime duties are convoy service, submarine patrol, and the supervision of the loading of explosives aboard ship. Coast guardsmen are specialists in handling small boats, and trained men are assigned to navy warships to man the small boats used by marine and navy landing parties.

The service also guards 40,000 miles of navigable waters and is responsible for the maintenance of lighthouses, buoys, and all other aids to navigation. It gathers weather data in mid-Atlantic and maintains an ice patrol in the shipping lanes.

Previous Service Recalled.

During the first World war the coast guard cutter Seneca distinguished herself and crew in the war zones convoying vessels and extending aid to torpedoed craft. Another craft, the Tampa, was torpedoed and sunk in the Bristol channel and its entire crew of 117 officers and men were lost. This constituted the largest single American naval loss due to combatant action.

[Tomorrow: Coast guard officers' training.]

QUESTIONS.

B. G. writes: "During the last war I enlisted in the navy, giving my age as three years younger than I was. I am now 46 years old, altho my navy discharge papers give my age as 43. I have written to the city where I was born for a copy of my birth certificate, but they cannot find a record of same and I was sent affidavits and necessary papers to have the birth recorded at this time. I have sent these papers to be completed by my mother and witnesses. Shall I register Feb. 16 if the papers are not completed by then?"

ANSWER: If you are actually 46 years old you need not register for the draft. However, obtain the completed affidavits as soon as you can so that you may show them if questioned.

Mrs. K. M. L. writes: My son is compelled to wear a pneumonia jacket during the fall and winter months because the cold and damp weather otherwise causes an old pleurisy ailment to recur. Would this condition prevent his being drafted?"

ANSWER: When he is called by his local draft board for a physical examination, he should explain the condition to the examining physician. The draft board physician will then determine if this is a bar to service.

S. P. writes: "I have been going under my stepfather's name for 25 years. Should I register for the draft that way?"

ANSWER: You can register under your stepfather's name on Feb. 16, but when you receive your draft questionnaire you will find a space instructing you to put down other names by which you have been known. In this space write your legal name.

J. L. P. writes: "I was dishonorably discharged from the army in 1926. How will that effect my registration status?"

ANSWER: Ex-service men with any discharge other than honorable will not be inducted, or are they allowed to reënlist in any of the armed forces. However, you might write to the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C., and state the circumstances of your discharge and plead that your case be reconsidered.

MRS. MARTIN ILL; DELAY START OF 'ABORTION TRIAL

Mrs. Ada Martin.

The state's prosecution of Mrs. Ada Martin, alleged head of a loop abortion racket, was delayed yesterday upon disclosure that Mrs. Martin is seriously ill in Woodlawn hospital, apparently as the result of an overdose of sleeping powders.

Mrs. Martin was to have gone on trial before Judge John F. Haas in Criminal court yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to commit abortion. Her attorneys, Everett Jennings and W. W. Smith, appeared and told Judge Haas their client was in a "comatose condition." The case was continued to Feb. 25.

Assistant State's Attorney Gordon Nash later said he had communicated with Dr. Victor Frankenstein, who told him that the cause of Mrs. Martin's illness was uncertain. "I believe it results from too much sleeping powder," Nash quoted the physician as saying. "She is very ill."

Nash recalled that Mrs. Martin told him a week ago, after a previous continuance, "You'll never try me."

FAMILY BATTLES IN COURT—ALSO OUT IN THE HALL

Seymour Geller, 28 years old, 1319 South Harding avenue, was leaving the courtroom of Superior Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday after he and his wife, Esther, 25, of 3642 Roosevelt road, had tried to have each other cited for contempt of court. He met his wife's aunt, Mrs. Celia Muller, 69, of 7571 Rogers avenue. There were words. Mrs. Muller slapped him. Geller, a truck driver, swung in return, but was blocked by his wife's attorney. Judge Desort earlier had set for Feb. 24 hearing of Geller's charge that his wife had refused to give up his clothes, and of Mrs. Geller's charge that he is in arrears $49 in support for their son, Bernard, 4. She is suing for separate maintenance, charging misconduct. He is suing for divorce, charging cruelty.

CHAPPED HANDS

Here's Why Scores of Doctors Use Noxzema on Their Own Hands

DOCTORS must keep their hands smooth, in good condition. Yet, with frequent washings in strong, antiseptic solutions, they have a big problem. That's why a recent survey is so important to you! For it shows that scores of doctors and dentists use MEDICATED Noxzema regularly! FREE BROTHER OF ALDERMAN AS BOOKMAKER

Bauler Out of Court Before Subpenas Get There.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

John H. Bauler of the Bauler aldermanic family yesterday won a dismissal of gambling charges in the court of Judge Oscar Caplan. Bauler and a dozen of his associates, however, are to be subpenaed as witnesses before the grand jury which is investigating gambling in Cook county, Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, announced.

John Bauler is a brother of Ald. Matthias Bauler of the 43d ward. John, himself, was alderman of the same north side ward, when it was the 22d, from 1911 to 1918. He succeeded his older brother, Herman, who was alderman from 1909 until his death in 1911.

Accused at Other Times.

John and his associates were charged with gambling. The custom in recent months, Crowley said, has been to serve grand jury subpenas on all persons arrested in gambling raids. The subpenas are customarily served when the defendants appear in Judge Caplan's court for trial.

Bauler, who is 56 years old, and his friends were arrested last Friday in John's cigar store at 1521 North Clark street by Detectives James Murphy and John Ascher of Commissioner Allman's office.

A loud speaker was blaring forth information that to the detectives closely resembled horse race results, they said. Detective Ascher said Bauler told him that he did take a few bets now and then. As for the sheets containing the names of horses and jockeys, Ascher said Bauler told him they were days or weeks old.

Says Subpenas Were Sent.

Prosecutor Crowley said subpenas were sent from the Criminal Court building at 26th street and California avenue, at the beginning of yesterday's business day, to the court building at 11th and State streets, where Judge Caplan presides. The hearing, however, was over and Bauler had vanished by the time the subpenas arrived.

The procedure before Judge Caplan was brief. Detective Ascher admitted he had brushed past Bauler in entering the back room of the cigar store, which, it was said, constituted an illegal entry. Ascher admitted he had seen no gambling. Judge Caplan was told the loud speaker was part of a communication system by which the alderman's brother could speak to his family upstairs without leaving his chair in the cigar store.

The judge then ordered the dismissal.

BABY STRANGLED BY CORD.

Dives Out Jail Window, Then Is Taken Back to Cell

Earl Lites, 19 years old, colored, who was arrested early yesterday and identified by a woman victim as a purse snatcher, dove head first out a window at the Warren avenue police station early today and fell 15 feet to a basement areaway. Lites, who lives at 1757 Wes tMaypole avenue, was fired upon by detectives who had been leading him from his cell to the squad room for questioning, and cowered in the areaway until jailed once more. He suffered no injury.

ROBBED OF $80.

Being 'Easy' Doesn't Earn Teacher Love

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Teac[illegible] want to be successful in the amount of subject matter they cover, in their method of doing it, and in the achievement of their pupils. But they also want to be liked. That is only human. But the "easiest" teacher is not necessarily the most loved.

The teacher who lets the children do pretty much as they please, not as she thinks is best for them, is not likely to be the one they respect most, and grow even to love and remember in after years. The teacher who makes more impression upon them, whom they not only like, but who has the power to influence them, is the teacher in whose room the children work together with her, in whose room there is coöperation, considerateness, a reasonable degree of freedom in constructive work.

Children really like order and peace, and they are quite conscious of this, too, as they get a little older. I heard them beg for it once in an early progressive school. Did you ever, for instance, walk thru a room in a public school where a substitute teacher was "on the rack" before a class of upper grammar school boys, one whom they were out to "do" and who hadn't the power to handle them? Did you feel the destructiveness and confusion in the air, and notice the expression on the pupils' faces?

And then, did you happen to pass next into a room where the regular teacher, with a gift for her profession, reigned? Did you notice the sense of order [I don't mean "order" in the discipline sense]? Did you notice the look on the children's faces?

Children work best and are happiest and develop best mentally and socially in a classroom in which an atmosphere of peace prevails and where something in accomplishment and behavior is expected of them.

In a progressive school are two teachers of 12 year olds in rooms across the hall from each other, each with a different conception of freedom. In one the children "run the show." They're not happy, work goes badly, there's no respect for the teacher. In the other, the teacher has a clear idea, without old fashioned rigidity, of what real freedom is and the quiet force to execute it. Work goes smoothly, the children are contented, and she has their affection and respect.

How can you amuse the convalescent child? What is the most difficult age? How may stubbornness be prevented? These and other problems are discussed in "You and Your Young Child," Mrs. Gladys Bevans' latest booklet, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 15 cents; postpaid, 18 cents.

By May Tinée.

Good Morning!

On the screen, those popular blondes, Madeleine Carroll and Stirling Hayden—"tossed by the tides of love" [see press sheet] in technicolor. On the stage, Harold Stokes turning out a right snappy show, with himself as master of ceremonies and two or three acts he'd better keep an eye on if he doesn't want somebody to get 'em away from him. . . . Referring especially to one pug-nosed and freckled Miss Marcy McGuire, a little Irish singer who makes her stage debut; Red ["The Music Goes Round and Round"] Hodgson in comedy songs, and "The Nonchalants"—funny tumblers.

Whatever else must be said of "Bahama Passage," it is a beautiful thing. . . . The scenery, vividly photographed, is gorgeous—and so are the stars, who take to technicolor like wanters to want ads. . . . The blue of the tropical seas is no bluer than their eyes, and honey in the honeycomb was never more golden than their hair. . . . And what you see of their bodies in bronze is certainly worth seeing.

They can act, too. I've always known that about Madeleine, but haven't cared much for Stirling before. . . . This trip, well—his sort of impatient "H——! what-a-job-for-a-marine-to-be-holding-down-let's-get-it-over-with!" performance sort of impressed me. A natural cuss and vurr' vurr' handsome—if you like the type.

The two have excellent support but not much of a story. That is, it doesn't ring very true. . . . For generations the Ainsworths have owned and operated the salt producing island, Dildo Cay, in the British West Indies. . . . As the story opens, old Mr. Ainsworth dies, leaving in possession his son, Adrian, and Mrs. Ainsworth—a bitter, dreary, hopeless, fearful woman whom you discover, as time goes on, is more than a little mad. . . . She insists her husband has been murdered by the natives and that Adrian mustn't have direct contact with them. As a result of her insistence, Adrian imports a manager. . . .

The manager has a daughter . . . Adrian has a wife——who refuses to live on the island. . . .

There's more to all this than shall appear in the column this morning—but if the sample pleases you, why not go see the picture? . . . It really does have much that is unique in the way of lovemaking . . . i. e., the manager's daughter has been around and Mrs. Ainsworth's little boy hasn't. . . .

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 9.—Joan Crawford expects to make her long-planned move toward becoming a movie producer when she finishes her current acting job. She intends to hold her boss, Metro's Louis B. Mayer, to a promise he made long ago that he would "give her an office."

Joan doesn't expect to start making A pictures right away. Her notion is to begin as a co-producer of shorts and to work her way up. During her recent long layoff in New York she has done much studying on the breaking down of scripts and the other technical and detailed work a producer's post entails. Her hope is that some day she may present herself as the star of a movie.

Miss Crawford expects to begin tests today at Columbia on "He Kissed the Bride," which was originally slated for the late Carole Lombard. Joan will give her $112,500 salary to charity. It's the first time she has been off the MGM lot.

When people hate in Hollywood, they hate. Unpopular for years, until she dropped out of pictures, was a star who put on many airs. One of her airs was boasting about the fine cemetery plot she had bought for herself. Last week some people got talking about her—she's alive but retired—and they organized a party. With shakers of chilled cocktails and a tasty set of canapes they motored to the cemetery, found the lady's plot and had a party on her grave site. They left a mess of paper napkins, paper cups and canape crumbs.

If I were given my choice of being a star or being Eugene Pallette, I'd be Gene. The fella never stops working. Quick as he finished being a southern financier in "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat" at Paramount he hopped over to Universal to be the guardian of Irene Dunne's dwindling fortune in "Lady in a Jam." Quick as he finished that he rolled back to Paramount and is playing Paulette Goddard's angry poppa in "Forest Rangers." First time, I think, that one of Pallette's fits of righteous temper will be shot in technicolor. Should be good. . . . Zasu Pitts is due to appear on Broadway next month in a play, "Our First Murder." . . . Hollywood is awaiting word on tonight's Washington, D. C., opening of James Edward Grant's war melodrama, "Plan M." I've read the play and I'm rooting for a hit. . . . Lloyd Bacon, director, has written a movie called "Viva McGuiness," which is about a Los Angeles newsboy who becomes so expert at dodging cars in the middle of the street that he becomes a great bull fighter in Latin America. . . . Charles Boyer has been called back to Twentieth Century-Fox for retakes on "Tales of Manhattan." The retakes involve his kissing Rita Hayworth three times. Smatter—didn't he do it right the first time? I could of.

Eugene Pallette.

Paulette Goddard.

Every time John Shepperd starts a new picture he gets a telegram from Charles Coburn, much as any Barrymore is supposed to get an apple on an opening night. Reason is that Coburn gave John, then known as Shepperd Strudwick, his start in show business by making him his office boy on Broadway. When Shepperd began shooting "Rings on Her Fingers" the Coburn telegram read: "Keep the cigaret butts off the floor. Fill the inkwell. Keep your feet on the ground and not on the desk. Good luck."

Stunning Attire Now Available in Large Sizes

BY REA SEEGER.

High fashion clothes in large sizes are not only easy to find this season but feature many stunning new shades, smooth woolen fabrics, and flawless workmanship. Such interesting details as set-in belts, cleverly shirred and blouse backs, long lines to fitted and semifitted jackets, and knife sharp pleats in the skirts make them particularly good finds for the mature, heavy, some time problem figures.

Outstanding finds are the two piece suits of wool with the silk blouse firmly attached and really a definite part of the skirt, thereby assuming the fashion importance of a slenderizing one piece dress with the cleverly designed jacket.

Two smart, flattering shades are available, a gray and a beige. The pattern is a small, unpretentious diagonal weave, not visible from a distance, so the neutral gray and brown-beige appears to be a smooth monotone. The attached blouse tops are of blending gray and beige, gray with the gray wool, beige with the brown. Sleeves are elbow length, the necklines in a vee, and the collar one that can be worn under or over the jacket collar.

Jackets are exceptionally youthful and smart. Backs are softly shirred to provide a blouse effect, then held in snugly with a stitched-on belt. The skirt is pleated all the way around, and the very moderate price mark makes them the best finds of the month. Such suits can be worn now with fur jackets or fur coats or with fur trimmed fabric coats.

Good looking wool coats [long and fitted] are teamed with very flattering print dresses. The printed patterns are small and nonspreading, with unusual color combines. Neat, more tailored two piece suits have lapel pins, the jackets are softly tailored, and the skirts are pleated. The range of daytime and street colors, together with the exceedingly modest price marks, unquestionably makes these deserve all the shopping excitement they are rating. You can select sizes from 34 up to 42.

Office Floral Note!

Newest addition to the "extra-official duties" file is the notation regarding the secretary whose boss has a swanky office and a beautiful desk with a slender silver vase in which must bloom, each day, one fresh rose placed there by his secretary. Moreover, the stem must be bent to a graceful angle. She stops at the florist's every morning, selects the rose, and while walking to the office, busies herself with the stem so it will droop properly. Alas! sometimes it breaks! Back she dashes to the florist's to get another rose! What she does if that stem breaks my correspondent doesn't reveal.

The Great Lover.

It wasn't wishful thinking but merely a slip of her finger on the typewriter keys which made a stenographer write a somewhat startling sentence at the close of a dictated letter from her boss to his family. "Love to all," he ended the missive. But, the closing line as it reached the wife read "Lover to all."

Stenography Class.

The Victory stenography class just formed at the Jones Commercial Evening school was filled up before the instructors could say "Pearl Harbor." Thirty-two women and eight men signed up for this intensive course of three hours a night, four nights a week. And that—for any one who works all day "means business." However, other classes, equally important are still registering students.

In line with the statement of one of the teachers that women are more proficient in the calculating machine [and similar courses] because they have more patience than men, comes an off-the-record comment of an instructor in another school where young women and young men are trained in riveting. In that, also, the girls learn faster than the boys.

Church Leader Sees Revival of People's Faith

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Wartime responsibilities of the churches were stressed in keynote addresses last night of two notable church conventions. Both pointed to the world-wide realm of Christendom which must remain undivided by international hostilities, and one cited unique evidence of recent gains of religious faith. The other, meanwhile, told of local confirmation gains over previous years.

The unusual evidence of religious revival was presented by Dr. Roy G. Ross before hundreds of members of the 21st quadrennial convention of the International Council of Religious Education at a mass meeting at the Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street. Dr. Ross is executive secretary of the council, which is holding its business sessions at the Stevens hotel.

Instead of citing increased church attendance, Dr. Ross' evidence of religious resurgence was based on "editorials and feature columns of newspapers in the leading articles of the nations' most read magazines," and "in the programs of business and professional associations."

"With this interest in religion has come a realization that as a nation we have neglected the religious training of our children," said Dr. Ross. "We have come alive to the value of such training as our parents provided for us. The country is now flooded with pronouncements regarding the importance of religion to the preservation of democracy."

Sources of these pronouncements, Dr. Ross said, were heads of service clubs, women's organizations, the National Association of Manufacturers, and fraternal orders. He added that the new fervor should think not only of home or country welfare, but "of world-wide groundwork of brotherly love, equity and justice which will make it impossible for violence and hatred ever again to break forth."

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling told a preconvention mass meeting of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago to look into the future, and to study and plan for it. The meeting was held at St. James' church, Wabash avenue and Huron street, where the 105th annual convention will open this morning.

"For us as churchmen," said Bishop Conkling, "the vision of a world brotherhood should not be alien or strange. It is the heart of the church's mission. We have the answer to the world's need. Alas, we have not always been ready to share it and bold enough to proclaim it."

Bishop Conkling warned against identifying worthwhile social service and war projects with church duty, and against giving to humanitarian projects to the neglect of the church.

"We ought to do these worthwhile things," the bishop said, "but not to leave the other undone. It is a question primarily of emphasis. We are not secularists in social service. We serve because we are given the motive and goal thru holy faith. The church is serving in this field as the church. Our work must bear the mark and witness unmistakably."

Bishop Conkling announced that the number of confirmations in the diocese last year was 10 per cent higher than in the previous year. He set $1,800 annual salary for married clergymen and $1,200 for unmarried as minimum "consistent with the dignity of a clergyman's office."

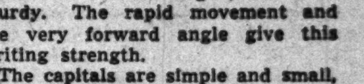
Your Handwriting

BY SHIRLEY SPENCER.

Louis Adamic, whose book "Two-way Passage" has created considerable discussion, writes a delicately fine script which reflects a sensitive mind. Here the touch is light, even, steady, and sure, but shyly and fastidiously put on the paper. There is nothing negative about the writing, however. It looks fragile, but it is sturdy. The rapid movement and the very forward angle give this writing strength.



Louis Adamic

The capitals are simple and small, indicating a modest nature. However, there is a certain precision indicated which lets you know that Mr. Adamic can hold his ground, politely and unassumingly, but firmly.

Extremely small, fine letter forms indicate good powers of observation, so we know Mr. Adamic has a very observing mind. He doesn't miss a detail that is essential. He wants to be understood and will patiently put his ideas into a concise form that is simple and understandable.

Housing Pinch in Washington Presents Woes

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE fly in the ointment—or appointment—of men to governmental positions located in the nation's capital is the frantic search for living quarters they or their wives must face. Despite the plans to move whole bureaus out of Washington to other parts of the country, the capital is jammed, and in many cases one little hotel room that was to be just a "temporary" home has turned out to be a permanent one.

The tales of crowded conditions brought back by new residents of Washington give many a feminine householder cause to think twice before giving up a comfortable home here for a kitchenette, bedroom, and bath in the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Bullard Howland, to whom Washington will be home after her marriage to Richard D. Nugent tomorrow, will start housekeeping in a tiny apartment her fiancé found on a recent trip to the capital and for which they will be paying handsomely. However, it will be a corner all their own. One of Mrs. Howland's close friends, Mrs. James Slattery, who has been comfortably established in seven rooms on the near north side, is preparing to follow her husband to Washington on March 1, with the prospect of squeezing into two rooms there.

Charles H. Rosses Will Rent Their New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ross, who built a new home in Northfield during the winter, won't be moving into it this spring after all, for Mr. Ross is staying on in Washington—one of those to whom a hotel room has become home. Consequently their pretty new house will be rented when it is completed next month, and Mrs. Ross and their two little girls either will go to Washington to join Mr. Ross or will stay on in Winnetka with Mrs. Ross' mother, Mrs. Willoughby G. Walling.

Mrs. Howland and Mr. Nugent, son of Mrs. John Nugent of Dowagiac, Mich., will be married quietly at 4:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston, the Rev. Ernest Freemont Tittle officiating. Afterwards the family group will go to the Blackstone to drink a toast to Mr. Nugent and his bride.

Mrs. Howland's sister, Mrs. J. Russell Holmes, and Mr. Holmes, and Mr. Nugent's four sisters, Mrs. Howard Mersereau, Mrs. Collins Luth, and Mrs. Kenneth Holmes of Dowagiac, and Mrs. Philip Copelin of Washington, will be here for the wedding, as will Mr. Holmes, Mr. Mersereau, and Mr. Luth. The parents of Russell and Kenneth Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Holmes of Highland Park, also will be present. Mr. Nugent and his bride will go directly to Santa Barbara to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sellar Bullard, formerly of Highland Park, and then will have a brief holiday in another western resort before going to Washington. During part of the year the Nugents will be living in Michigan or possibly in South Bend, Ind., so the former Carol Bullard's Chicago friends will be seeing her often.

Martha Doty's Wedding Set for Next Saturday.

Another couple who will be living in Washington after their marriage are Miss Martha Doty, daughter of Mrs. Lee Boone Doty of Evanston, and John H. F. Leonard, who will be married next Saturday. Entertaining for them is being held down to a minimum, since Mr. Leonard, his mother, Mrs. Charles I. Snider, and his brother, George S. Leonard, aren't arriving from New York until the day of the wedding.

The ceremony will be performed in the Howes Memorial chapel at Northwestern university in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. A small reception will follow at the Georgian hotel in Evanston. Miss Doty will be attended by Mrs. Allan Walter of Akron, O., the former Elisabeth Walker of Evanston; George Leonard will be his brother's best man, and Maurice D. Musgrave and R. Newton Rooks will be ushers.

William K. Rusch to Wed Barbara Day on Feb. 21.

An apartment in Evanston is being made ready for Miss Barbara Day, daughter of the Harold Days of Winnetka, and William Karleton Rusch, who are being married on Feb. 21. The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in Christ church, Winnetka, with only the families present. A reception will follow at the Skokie Country club.

Miss Day will have her subdebutante sister, Beverly, for her only attendant. Mr. Rusch's brother, Frederick, will be best man. They are

Red Cross Tops 2½ Millions in Its Fund Drive

The war relief budget campaign of the Chicago chapter, American Red Cross, passed the $2,500,000 mark toward its $3,750,000 goal yesterday as contributions totaling $25,961 were received.

The official total was $2,514,473, Frederick W. Spiegel, vice chairman of the campaign, announced. He said the drive is expected to go over the top soon if the pace set by workers in the industrial division is maintained.

Four groups in the division have already fulfilled their respective quotas. The shoe group, headed by Irving S. Florsheim, has reached a total of $11,546, or 105 per cent of its $11,000 goal. Finance, headed by Walter E. Heller, has solicited $10,118 against a $9,000 quota; petroleum, headed by Rawleigh Warner, $81,485 against a $73,000 quota, and personal finance, headed by B. E. Henderson, $12,230 against a $12,000 quota.

Nine other groups in the division have collected 75 per cent of their quotas, and 20 have passed 50 per cent. The remaining 24 groups range upward of 12 per cent, Mr. Spiegel asserted.

The contributions received yesterday from companies and their employés were $9,310 from Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, $7,500 from Marsh & McLennan, Inc.; $3,856 from Oppenheimer Casting company, $877 from Borden company ice cream division, $635 from A. G. Becker & Co., $544 from Jones, Linick & Schaefer theaters, and $500 from G. D. Searle & Co.

Gifts from companies exclusive of their employés were $1,000 from Consolidated Millinery company, $750 from A. M. Castle company, and $500 each from Aragon Ballroom company and William J. Strange company.

Women in War Work

[The Women in War Work department will report on woman's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women who wish to take part in these activities.]

Chicago will be host to 100 Red Cross volunteers from all over the United States from Feb. 17 to 19 when they gather here to discuss the war work of the volunteer special services of the Red Cross. Mrs. Dwight Davis, national director of the services, will be here from Washington, D. C., as will the national chairmen and directors.

Mrs. Joseph A. Cudahy.

Mrs. James A. Cathcart, chairman of the special services for the Chicago chapter, will give the welcoming address at the first meeting to be held at 2 o'clock on Feb. 17 in the Chicago Historical society. Mrs. Davis will present a report on the year's work and reports will be made by the assistant directors. Other meetings will be held in the Drake hotel, which will serve as headquarters for the national committee on volunteer services. The Wednesday meetings will be round tables for committee members only, and the series will close with a session on Thursday morning.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy is chairman of the Chicago committee on arrangements for the meetings. She will give a dinner for the national committee on Tuesday, Feb. 17, when Dr. Winifred C. Cullis of London will speak. Mrs. Cudahy's committee includes Mrs. Frederic W. Upham and Mrs. Charles G. King. Mrs. Richard Bissell of Washington heads the national committee on arrangements.

Mothers and fathers of students at the Francis W. Parker school will form a Red Cross first aid class to be started in the old gymnasium of the school, 330 Webster avenue, at 7 o'clock tonight. The class is being limited to the first 50 applications received by mail in answer to a letter sent out by the school last month. Mrs. L. B. Bernheimer, a Parker parent and a qualified Red Cross instructor, will conduct the course. Mrs. Leon Stolz is chairman of the parents' committee for war work for the school.

Provision already has been made for British War Relief and Bundles for Bluejackets work to be done thru the school, and an application has been filed for establishment there of a Red Cross unit for sewing and knitting. Courses in nutrition and home nursing will be started as soon as it is known how many are interested. Possibilities of starting a civilian defense unit at the school also are being considered.

A committee to serve as a clearing house for ideas and work to be done is on duty at the school every day from 9 o'clock until noon and from 1 o'clock until 4.

The duties of an air raid warden in relation to the police force will be discussed by Lieut. Redmond Gibbons of the police department at the Kenwood church, 4608 Greenwood avenue, at 8:15 o'clock tonight. Lieut. Gibbons' talk is one of a series being given at the church in a course on civilian defense.

The class is being conducted by Mrs. John J. Jordan, who received her certificate last summer from the Air Raid Precaution training school at Hyannis, Mass. Instruction in air raid warden work, fire prevention, fire fighting, controling incendiary bombs, civilian first aid, identification of war gasses, and basic field drill is included in the course. Instruction is given at 7:30 o'clock each Tuesday night and persons who have attended all the meetings will be given certificates at the end of the course. The series is open free to the public.

A first aid class of 62 members meets at this church at 9:30 o'clock each Friday morning. Miss Elaine Blackman and Mrs. Rudolph Magnus are in charge. Mrs. C. Winslow Henkle and Mrs. Ross Warren head the registration committee.

Former show girls and girls now engaged in theatrical professions who belong to the Stage Friends Club, Inc., meet for Red Cross first aid instruction at the Lake Shore playground, Chicago avenue and the lake, at 8 o'clock each Tuesday night. The Stage Friends was organized to aid destitute elderly show folk and the group's hope is some day to provide a real home for these people. The Stage Friends already have raised $300 for the Red Cross. When the current first aid course is completed a more advanced one will be started.

Eight Red Cross First Aid classes are being started this week by the women's division of the American Jewish congress, 8 South Dearborn street. The classes will meet from 10 o'clock until noon and from 8 o'clock until 10 in the evening on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays. Mrs. Harper Levy is women's chairman of the American Jewish congress war efforts committee. Registration in these classes may still be made.

Graduate nurses who have been inactive will report today at the Presbyterian hospital for a "refresher" course to be held each Tuesday and Friday at the hospital. The course is designed as a "brushup" for former nurses who are to replace active nurses in civilian hospitals so that the latter may be released for war duty. The course includes ward duty from 9 to 1 o'clock and classes from 2 to 4 o'clock. The classes will be taught by nursing supervisors, regular nursing instructors, and physicians. The course, suggested by the National League of Nursing Education, will be supervised by Miss Florence Coon. Miss Henrietta Froehlke is director of the hospital's nursing school.

Russian Chorus Gives Chicago Musical Thrill

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Last night's puny snowstorm probably sent real Russians into peals of scornful laughter, but to the rest of us who flocked to the Civic Opera house for the concert of the General Platoff Don Cossack chorus it seemed a satisfactory enough preparation for an evening of Russian music.

Inside the house such a superficial aid to the proper Russian mood was unnecessary even if it had been practicable. The chorus' strapping Russians, in the blouses, breeches, and boots of the traditional Cossack, sang the music of their one-time homeland with a passion and conviction calculated to reach even western hearts. Certainly western hands applauded cordially.

The true Russian is theatrical even when he is praising his Creator. The religious music on the program, the stern old chantlike songs of the Eastern church, offered those who value such effects one opportunity after another to enjoy the contrast between the chorus' light, almost effeminate, pianissimo and its iron bound, thoroly masculine forte.

Nicholas Kostrukoff conducted. The concert was sponsored by the United Russian-American committee. Proceeds will go to the purchase of medical supplies for the Russian people.

Constance Clare, pianist, programmed Bach, Chopin, Liszt, Brahms, and a miscellany of modern music for her Kimball hall recital of last evening. Judging by the program's last half, Miss Clare's work is relaxed, tonally beautifully, and often very delicate and evocative. Among her accomplishments is the ability to play softly without destroying the substance of her tone and the directness of her phrasing.

Ballet Theater, the dance group which won a big local following when it was here with the opera in 1940, will come to the Civic Opera house for a four-day, five-performance engagement on Feb. 26. Fokine's "Bluebeard" will be the featured piece during the company's Chicago stay.

Ballet Theater has acquired Irina Baronova, Alicia Markova, and Sono Osato since its previous Chicago engagement. It retains Anton Dolin, Lucia Chase, Karen Conrad, and many others. Antal Dorati is now the company's musical director.

Because the necessary orchestra parts have not arrived, Hans Lange has been forced to cancel the projected performance of excerpts from Gluck's "Don Juan" by the Chicago Symphony orchestra next Thursday night and Friday afternoon. He has substituted the same composer's "Iphigenia in Aulis" overture.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES By MARCIA WINN

Today, thru the kindness of our scout, J. B. N., we offer a few stray details about the room down on South Michigan avenue which every one is talking about. It is a nice, aseptic little room full of fresh air, and its official title is the blood procurement center of the Red Cross.

Our spy hurried down there the day it opened, ready to extend his arm and open his veins for his country. He found his hurry was needless, as he spent the first two hours reading in an anteroom, but after the first two hours, which you spend after you give the Red Cross four hours' notice of your impending arrival, it's all practically over. The nurse beckons you mysteriously into an inner sanctum and says, "Which arm do you prefer?" If polite, you say, "Which arm do you prefer?" but most people say, "Left, please," unless they are ambidextrous and don't care. Then you are lying on a table and are asked to open and close your fist slowly. It helps to pass the time if you count, as in this way you can later compare notes with another donor, but you have to count fast if you do, as it is over very quickly.

Some people are pretty morbid about the whole thing and wish to see their contributions. Well, this is out. You haven't a chance of it unless you squint and squirm quickly enough to see the nurse slip something that looks like a cider jug into a nice clean sack. The sack is tied with a glorified bill of lading. That identifies it as yours, but don't feel too smug about it, for the name lingers only long enough for the laboratory to assure itself your contribution is good enough for the armed forces. Then it goes into the common pot of anonymity.

As soon as your performance is over you get coffee, tea or fruit juice and cookies. Our spy had two cups of coffee, the second to warm up the first. The Red Cross supplies these, as well as ash trays. As a final gift, you receive a little bronze lapel pin, and that's all there is to it except that when you drop in be sure to dress accordingly, because the Red Cross believes in plenty of fresh air. And, if you're a gal, be prepared to give your date and place of birth and be sure you weigh at least 100.

Jonas Perlberg reports his Chinese laundry is all out for victory. His laundry came back with handkerchiefs folded in the shape of a V, his sox looked like an application of the slogan, "Let's tie the Japs in a knot," and on the collars of his shirts were printed, "Buy a U. Lamentation of Job.

Arthur Treacher, the astringent butler of Panama Hattie, tells the story of a man who had undergone pestilence, fire, and flood. He lost his family, property, and home, and all that remained were a pair of oxen and a plow. And with them he did begin to plow the tiny plot left unto him, and, lo, a bolt of lightning did come and smite the oxen, killing them both. And the man did raise his eyes to the heavens and did cry, "O, Fate, why have you visited this upon me?" And Fate did make reply, "I'll be damned if I know, old boy."

Pyromania Analyzed.

The city law department has been conducting a study of why people set fires and burn houses. The experts maintain a lofty silence on the matter of people who set fires because they like to see fires, and devote most of their efforts to noting that collecting insurance is by no means always the motive. We quote from the forthcoming annual report of Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel:

"On the contrary, many buildings are burned to hide thefts from parents, to conceal embezzlements from employers, to satisfy the resentment of a rejected suitor or to retaliate against the discharge from a position.

"It was discovered in one instance that the arsonist burned his house down with his draft questionnaire in it in an attempt to evade the draft."

"Pursuit of a Parcel"

By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull

(Copyright: 1942: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull)

SYNOPSIS.

Cornelius Rossiter, born Cornelius Roos, is the adopted brother of Antony Rossiter, and is a spy for both Germany and England. When suspected of his British connections by a man high in Nazi circles, Cornelius says he has taken a dictograph of the man's expressions of disloyalty to Hitler and it will be sent to Goering if anything happens to Cornelius. In London Antony is questioned by Col. Garrett of the British Intelligence about his adopted brother's loyalty and is sent to Holland to check about it. While Antony is away a parcel addressed to him is received by Philip Merridew, uncle and co-guardian of Delia, Antony's fiancée, just before a bomb wreck's Philip's office and he is seriously injured. Holt, a clerk, rescues the parcel, takes it to his own home, but after two attempts are made to rob his home, Holt takes the parcel to Delia. Holt is followed to Delia's by a Jimmy Nash, who brutally assaults a Miss Murdle leaving Delia's house, whom he has mistaken for Delia with the parcel. Delia then puts the parcel in a safe at the bank. In the meantime Antony talks to Cornelius in Holland and learns of the parcel. A girl recognizes Antony and blabs his identity to Barend Roos, Nazi sympathizer. The Nazi officers attempt to arrest Antony, but he jumps in the canal just as they shoot at him. A body is found in the canal and the sister of the girl who blabbed tells Barend it is Antony. Back in England a man claiming to be Cornelius calls on Delia, says Antony is dead, and that he must have the parcel. Delia agrees to meet him the next morning at the bank, but that night Antony telephones her from London. Later, Antony, leaving Col. Garrett's, is followed by a man who in turn is followed by another man. A bomb drops nearby and in the flash Antony recognizes his follower as Cornelius and notices a cut on his wrist. Antony is knocked out and when he recovers Cornelius has gone. The man claiming to be Cornelius visits Delia the next morning, learns that Antony is alive, but still demands the parcel. Delia refuses to give it to him and he will not wait until Antony arrives. That night the bank is broken into and the parcel stolen. Delia confesses she opened the parcel before putting it in the bank and that it only contained maps and papers—no dictograph. Antony learns that Cornelius tried to reach Garrett by telephone, but the message was interrupted.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

IMPORTANT MAPS.

Antony had been holding himself in. His control broke, and he said in a voice of sharp exasperation.

"How on earth do I know? Height, figure, walk—whatever goes to make up that sort of impression. I felt sure it was Cornelius who was following me."

"But you never saw his face?" Garrett insisted.

"No."

"And in the porch — you still thought it was Cornelius?"

"I called him Con when I pulled him up."

"Did he answer?"

"No—I don't think so. The door was open by then. Some one swore in Dutch. It wasn't Cornelius."

Garrett had one of his ferocious frowns.

"Meaning it wasn't Cornelius—or it wasn't the man you'd just pulled up?"

"It wasn't the man I had just pulled up, whether he was Cornelius or not—at least that was my very strong impression."

"But you won't swear to it?"

"I won't swear to any of it."

"A lot of use you are as a witness!" said Garrett in a vindictive tone.

"I know. I'm sorry about it, but there it is. The only things I can be sure of are my own impressions. And this is one of them. When I took hold of him and pulled him up I was quite sure it was Cornelius. It felt like him."

Garrett gave a grunt.

"You said he had a cut on his wrist. Did you ask your Delia What's-her-name about that? She saw Cornelius next day—she'd have noticed if he'd a bandage, wouldn't she?"

"She might—I didn't ask her. I can ring her up about it. But look here, sir, the parcel's gone."

Garrett threw himself back in his chair and glowered.

"What!" he said.

"The bank was burgled in the night. Hole in the wall—oxyacetylene flame used on the safe. Very expert job. Net haul about 500 pounds, the late Mrs. Canning's jewelry—some quite good pearls, and a diamond necklace. And the parcel. And, Frank, here's something. You know the yarn Cornelius put about a wax cylinder full of blazing indiscretions—well, as far as I can make out he was having everybody on—de l'audace, de l'audace, et toujours de l'audace."

Garrett stared.

"What's this?"

"Delia opened the parcel," said Antony with an agreeable smile.

"She opened it? Why?" The last word had the force of an explosion.

"She wanted to see what was inside. Might have been a bomb."

Garrett said, "Tchah!"

"Undoubtedly. But the fact remains that she opened it and there wasn't any cylinder. And from what she said it hadn't been taken out, because the box was full of papers. My own belief is that Cornelius got away with a most almighty bluff, and the people who took the parcel will have the devil to pay. Do you think they're going to be able to persuade the little man whom Cornelius has bluffed that there really wasn't any record in that parcel, or do you think he'll have some nasty suspicions about them and wonder whether they're not holding it up on him? Quite a lot of possibilities, don't you think?"

Garrett gave an affirmative jerk of the head. Then he rapped out:

"Papers—she says there were papers, does she?"

Antony leaned across the table.

"Frank," he said, "when I had that talk with Cornelius in Anna's back sitting room he asked me something. You know he was trying to clear out and get to the States. He wanted to know to what extent things would be made easy for him over here. Of course, I said I wasn't in a position to say, but if he'd been straight with you, he could reckon on your being straight with him.

"Well, he turned that off, but presently he said something about paying his way, and when I didn't take any notice of that, he asked whether you wouldn't be interested in an up to date map showing the exact position of underground petrol tanks in Germany, because if you were, it was remotely possible that he might be able to do something about it."

Garrett gave the grin of a terrier who sees his rat.

"And you told him to apply to M. I.? Said it wasn't my pigeon?"

"No, sir."

"So what?"

"So nothing. He didn't say any more, and I didn't say any more. He shut down like a clam, and I thought it better not to press him. But Delia says some of the papers were maps—maps, Frank—with something marked on them in red. Looking at it all around, it would be quite like Cornelius to say what he did and never let on that he'd already got the maps and got them out of the country. You know, it would account for a lot.

"The parcel was addressed to me. If he didn't get away, I'd be welcome to what was inside it. But if he did get away—and he did—then he'd want those maps for himself, to drive the best bargain he could and get off to the States. It explains the whole thing to my mind—why he was in such a hurry to get the parcel back, and why he sheered off meeting me. He wanted to put the job thru on his own. Quite likely he didn't want you to know that he'd actually got the maps. He'd go around about and find out first what you'd be prepared to do for him if he could get them."

Garrett said, "H'm!" and then, "Looks to me as if he'd queered his own pitch. Shied off you and left the door open for the other side. Got to get up damn early to get ahead of the Gestapo."

"Cornelius has been doing it for quite a long time now."

Garrett banged on his blotting pad.

"We've got to get 'em! I want those maps. Want to see James' face when I hand them over to him with something on the lines of, 'Perhaps you'd care to have these. Seem to be down your street.'" He gave an explosive sound which practice enabled Antony to identify as a chuckle, and followed it with his most ferocious frown. "This bank business can't be left to the county police. I'll get on to the chief constable. They must call in Scotland Yard. London job undoubtedly. He can put it on that. This business of the papers has got to be kept quiet. But you'd better go round to the Yard—they'll want to see you. I'll give you a note to the commissioner, and you can tell him the whole thing. I want those papers. If every one jumps to it, we'll get them."

"And Cornelius?" said Antony in an altered voice.

"We'll get him too. If he's alive. If he isn't—well, it's no good crying about spilt milk."

He had pulled a writing block toward him. His pen drove furiously. He folded the paper, crammed it into an envelope, and stuck it down. As he scribbled the address he said:

"Better get along at once. Here's your credentials. I'll give them a ring. You can leave telephoning to your Delia What-you-may-call-it till you get back. Let me know what she says about the bandage. Bound to have noticed it if he was wearing one. Cut along!"

Antony took the note. When he had got to the door he looked over his shoulder.

"The name is still Merridew, sir."

It was about 4:30 when Antony got back to the flat. He had seen the commissioner and, according to instructions, told him all about everything. This task accomplished, he had now the pleasanter one of ringing up Delia. Rather amusing to be doing it to Frank's order.

The day had turned poisonously cold. He switched on an electric fire and an electric kettle, set a cup and teapot handy, and proceeded to get thru to Fourways. He had luck, because he was only in his second cup and his first chunk of cake when Parker lifted the receiver and said "Hullo!" in his own peculiar tone of resigned melancholy.

"Hullo, Parker—Miss Delia anywhere about?"

Parker brightened.

"O, yes, Mr. Antony—having tea."

An interval, and then Delia.

"O, darling how nice! Whose bill are your calls going down on? We think ours will have to be broken very, very carefully to Uncle Philip."

"I'm not bothering about that. Delia——"

Weddings

Miss Virginia Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powers of Chicago and Decatur, Ill., and Richard K. Reising were married at 7:30 o'clock on Saturday in the First Presbyterian church at Decatur. With her wedding gown the bride wore a coronet of duchesse lace which had belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Charles G. Powers. Mr. Reising is the son of Mrs. Joseph Reising of Aurora and the late Mr. Reising. Because he is engaged in defense work, Mr. Reising and his bride will have only a brief wedding trip. They will be at home after March 1 in Beverly Hills.

The marriage of Miss Betty Jane Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Budd Carter of Evanston, to John Albert Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Sanderson of Evanston, took place on Saturday in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Evanston. A bridal dinner for the wedding party and immediate family followed at the Orrington hotel in Evanston. Miss Muriel Martin served as maid of honor and William E. Sanderson was his brother's best man. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson will be at home in Evanston until he is called for military service.

Mrs. John McLeod of Detroit, Mich., announces the marriage on Jan. 1 of her daughter, Elizabeth Jane, to George William Bryson, son of Mrs. Mary L. Bryson of Ridge avenue. The former Miss McLeod attended Michigan State Normal college. Ensign Bryson was graduated from the University of Michigan.

A letter from a woman in Palm Beach, Fla., informed Mrs. H. P. Ottenhoff of Berwyn that her prize winning recipe had appeared in print. "Isn't it interesting and strange that I should learn of this from faraway Florida?" writes Mrs. Ottenhoff.

Her recipe for a Dutch pastry, which appeared on Christmas day, has aroused a great deal of interest among persons of Dutch descent as well as others. The Palm Beach correspondent remembered another recipe for "krakelingen," and Mrs. Ottenhoff was able to find one for her among her collection of Dutch recipes.

We enjoy these letters from cooks who have been winning prizes in our daily recipe contest. Many of the prize winners tell us that they've received mail from distant parts of the country after their recipes have appeared in print.

Some of them tell us what they've spent the prize money for. Defense stamps, food for the family, savings for "a rainy day," and a longed-for new hat are some of the investments.

All of the recipes which we receive are carefully considered, and all the prize winners have been thoroly tested. Readers who wish to enter the contest should consider these regulations.

HOW TO ENTER PRIZE RECIPE CONTEST.

1. Choose the recipe which you like most to use, or one upon which your family or friends compliment you. It may be an economy dish, a family heirloom, a party favorite, or an original recipe.

2. Write it, or type it, legibly and clearly in standard recipe form [ingredients listed in order of use]. Don't forget any of the ingredients [we've had to disqualify many an otherwise fine recipe because some simple ingredient, salt, for example, was omitted]. Give clear, complete directions, number of servings, temperature for baking, etc.

3. Send it to Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

4. Send only one recipe at a time, altho you may send as many as two or three a week, if you like.

Don't expect to see your prize winning recipe in print right away. We are working several weeks ahead on the contest, and, of course, it takes time to test the many fine recipes we receive. Two or three weeks, sometimes even a little longer than that time, may elapse before you hear, if you do hear.

There's one $5 prize to be awarded each day. Whether you enter the contest or not [and I beg you to do so if you have an excellent recipe] I hope you'll clip the daily prize winners, for they're all excellent recipes.

Yes, you readers who wrote us about this, we do plan to put our prize winning recipes together in booklet form. I'll make an announcement thru this column, at a later date.

If there's any more information you'd like before entering the contest, drop me a card, or telephone me at Superior 0100, extension 727.

Rev. Jacobsen Is Speaker for Pan-American Council

The Rev. Jerome V. Jacobsen, professor of history at Loyola university and director of the Institute of Jesuit History, will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Pan-American council tonight in the Top of the Town restaurant, 185 North Wabash avenue. He will talk on "Understanding the Church in Latin America."

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

A golden brown meringue tops the creamy fruit filling of this prize winning pie. The $5 award goes to Mrs. E. Schueller, 1655 Irving Park road, Chicago, who contributed the recipe.

If you'd like to compete for the daily $5 prize, send your best recipe to Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, listing the ingredients in the order used and stating directions for the preparation of the dish as clearly as possible.

HAWAIIAN FRUIT PIE.

½ cup sifted flour
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups scalded milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup shredded coconut
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups shredded pineapple, drained
1 9-inch baked pastry shell
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
6 tablespoons sugar

Combine the sifted flour, sugar, and salt in the top of the double boiler, gradually stir in scalded milk, place over boiling water, and cook until thick [about 15 minutes], stirring constantly. Pour small amount of mixture over slightly beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook 3 minutes longer. Add the butter, coconut, lemon juice, and shredded pineapple, and pour into baked pastry shell. Top with meringue made by gradually beating the 6 tablespoons sugar into the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 15 minutes, or until lightly browned.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	2 clubs	2 hearts	3 diamonds
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	5 clubs
Pass	Pass	5 hearts [final bid]

West opened the club king and shifted to a trump. Declarer won in his own hand and ruffed his remaining club, then returned with another trump and led the singleton diamond toward dummy. When West played low, the nine spot was put in, forcing East's king.

At this point East did some concentrated thinking. It was almost certain that declarer had started with six hearts and one diamond, because if West had had a singleton diamond he certainly would have shifted to it after holding the first club trick. Next, West had overcalled, when vulnerable, with two clubs. It was almost out of the question that he could have the spade ace and, therefore, to make his overcall reasonably sound, he must have had six clubs.

Declarer's distribution now becomes obvious. If he had started with one diamond, two clubs and six hearts, he must have four spades, almost surely headed by the ace, and possibly by the A-J. To give him one discard would do him no good, but two discards would be fatal. Also, to lead a spade and permit West's possible queen to be picked up would be playing right into declarer's hands. East knew that West's diamond jack would drop on the next round and therefore dared not lead the ace, establishing two diamond tricks in dummy. Nor could he afford to lead a club which would permit declarer to discard a spade while ruffing in dummy, because then one diamond trick would suffice for another spade discard.

There was only one way out of the dilemma, and East discovered it. He returned a low diamond. Declarer duly discarded a spade while West's diamond jack forced the queen, but found that he was no nearer to success. Of course, he could have led the spade jack thru West for a backward finesse, but this would have been pure "double dummy." He could not be criticized for attempting the normal finesse toward the A-J, and West's queen saved the day for the defenders.

Writing to a Soldier? Be Impersonal

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

It's grand to write letters to the boys in camp, Hilda. They like getting them. Letters from home, which means from any one back in the home community, we are told over and over again by army and navy authorities, are the greatest morale sustainers. In fact there's nothing wrong in "adopting" a soldier or sailor to write to, provided you don't go overboard sentimentally.

Just write a letter telling what's going on in your part of the world; what you're reading, perhaps; what shows you've seen; how the game came out you last attended; what your young brother did that was amusing, or what some one's else brother did. Just the sort of thing you'd chatter about verbally were you face to face with the youth.

But, Hilda, since you've asked us, it is not good taste to pester the boy about the kind of girls in his community. Let him tell you that in his answer, if he feels so inclined. And no criticism about the brevity of his response in comparison with your own long letter. You have more time than he, and girls are more fluent with pen and ink than are boys.

One thing all you fair letter writers must observe, and that is to refrain from telling your troubles. They have a way of embarrassing or boring people in either written or oral conversation. And a secret should not be confided in a letter, because it becomes public property once that's done.

We can't tell you young women what exactly to say when you write to the soldier boy, except suggesting that you put down events of interest in conversational words. You don't want to sound literary, and you don't want to be dull, either. Think of what would be interesting for a boy to hear about. Ask some boys you know what kind of letter they'd like to get from a girl.

Better stifle that impulse to be mushy, and consider that any letter you send might be exposed to eyes other than those for whom it is intended. This, just as a matter of emotional restraint.

Chicago manufacturers of a good Venetian blind cleaner also make a special cleaner for the tapes. It's a liquid that is available in cans of several sizes, and you can use it to remove dirt or grease spots from upholstery, hats, gloves, carpets, and tapestries, as well. A small can of this tape cleaner is a good item to keep on your shelves.

Miss Janet Musselman is giving a tea for Miss Day on Feb. 18. Miss Mary Stewart has planned a buffet supper for the bride-to-be for next Sunday night, and Mrs. Day's sister, Mrs. A. Miles Wright of Winnetka, will give a dinner on the eve of the ceremony. Mr. Rusch and his bride will have a short wedding trip.

Franklin Bliss Snyder Jr. Also to Wed Saturday.

The young men Franklin Bliss Snyder Jr., asked to attend him when he takes Miss Carolyn Mellinger as his bride next Saturday night all have been called into service and won't even be here for the bridal dinner his parents, President and Mrs. Snyder of Northwestern university, are giving on Friday night at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Parties for Miss Mellinger, daughter of the Aubrey H. Mellingers, and Mr. Snyder are continuing as planned, however, tho the hostesses probably are having some difficulty in keeping up with a rapidly changing guest list. Edward Fraser of Winnetka is to be the best man.

The John E. Freemans gave a breakfast on Sunday for Miss Mellinger and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ramsey entertained at cocktails. Miss Eloise Hills of Coral Gables, Fla., gave a luncheon at the Camellia House yesterday, where Miss Virginia Watson entertained last Wednesday before taking Miss Mellinger and her other guests to a matinée. Miss Barbara Hale of Syracuse, N. Y., is giving a luncheon and shower today at the Chicago Athletic association [she and Miss Hills are visiting the Mellingers]. Miss Elizabeth Stover is giving a luncheon tomorrow; the Cyrus Garnetts will give the spinster dinner on Thursday, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burgess will give a luncheon on Thursday.

Among the many out-of-town guests expected for the wedding are the bride's uncle, William C. Bunting of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Sommers and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Otis of Maplewood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Otho E. Lane and Miss Martha Lane of Philadelphia. Mr. Snyder and his bride will live in Evanston.

Junior League Committee Plans Hat Fashion Show.

New spring hats, from tailored military models to soft feminine styles, will be modeled in the hat show which the Arts committee of the Junior league will give in the Walnut room of Marshall Field & Co. at 3:30 o'clock on Tuesday, March 3. Proceeds will go to the Victory Book campaign and will be used to purchase technical books for men in the service. Mrs. Daniel Leonard, chairman of the arts committee of the league, is in charge of arrangements for the show. Miss Eleanor McNally heads the reservation committee, and Mrs. Theron Chapman is in charge of the group of league members who will model.

The war has caused the Sunbeam league to discontinue its annual benefit bridge party, usually held just after Easter, for the duration. In place of a large benefit, the league will sponsor a series of small card parties and book reviews under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Tucker, social chairman. Mrs. William G. Knox will give the first of the parties tomorrow in her home, 1449 Fargo avenue.

Also canceled for the duration is Harvard university traditional Hasty Pudding show. A Chicagoan, Arthur Viner, was co-author of this year's show.

Since Thomas Hart Benton will not be released from his present government duties in time to speak on Thursday at the North Shore Country Day school, his appearance there in the school's series of educational lectures has been postponed for two weeks. The noted American painter will speak at 11 o'clock on Feb. 26 at the school.

Thru the Looking Glass

Add sweet smelling Valentines:

1. A satin heart, blazing red, flower trimmed, is deliciously fragrant because its scallopped edges seal some gay and long lasting sachet in one of the most popular of all perfumes. To top this there are two little bottles of the perfume—half a dram each. The fragrance is a smart one and the presentation an appropriately scentimental one.

2. Then there is a miniature white castle, with slender turrets that are actually flacons or perfume. It's a whimsical kind of a package and there are four perfumes, all of them lovely and each quite unlike the other. They represent quite a range in perfume character, from sheer giddiness to dreamy romance, and since it's a well known fact that every woman loves to own a choice of fragrances to suit mood, costume, and occasion, this set of four makes a most acceptable Valentine. It comes in a nice box too, all decorated in gallant-knight-wooing-lovely-lady motif, and it isn't as expensive as you might think.

3. All lassies like lipsticks, the more the merrier. There's a new little gadget out that would be useful and amusing for any woman, a bright red metal case, complete with mirror, that holds a trio of small lipsticks in three good colors. One is a watermelon shade, another a good true kind of red, the third a warm, vivid shade for wear with deep colors. This is an inexpensive little gift, but a very nice one, especially for the young.

3 POLICY RACKET BROTHERS GET BIG TAX REFUNDS

U. S. Returns Half Million to South Side Joneses.

The three Jones brothers, who made a fortune as leaders of the Negro policy racket on Chicago's south side, received the largest federal income tax refunds in Illinois during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1941, a report to congress by the treasury department showed yesterday. The refunds to the three, who were among 26 persons indicted as policy game racketeers by the January grand jury, amounted to $526,294.

The largest single payment in the state was $153,367 to George P. Jones, 4726 South Michigan avenue. Criminal charges of tax evasion brought by the government against George P. and a brother, McKissack McHenry Jones, were dismissed last year after the third brother, Edward P., had pleaded guilty of tax evasion. Edward, who was regarded as the ringleader of the three, was sentenced Jan. 30, 1941, to 28 months in a federal penitentiary.

Assets Seized by Treasury.

The tax refunds represented partial repayments to the Jones brothers from assets that had been seized by the treasury and converted into cash. The treasury first deducted for the government $481,710 to settle its claims against Edward Jones.

POCAHONTAS COAL
Hand-Fired

Superior chemical composition distinguishes Pocahontas coal from average coal. All necessary chemical elements for complete combustion and maximum use of high heating units are combined in balanced proportions in genuine Pocahontas coal. It is a most efficient and economical fuel for hand firing in boilers, furnaces, and stoves. To these advantages of clean coal heat, automatic draft controls on hand-fired heating plants add convenience.

Low volatile and high carbon give Pocahontas dustless coal lasting and slow-burning qualities, which produce constant, plentiful heat by day and readily carry the fire on bank during the night. In the morning it is easy to have the amount of heat quickly, which mild or severe weather may require.

The Conical Method in firing round boilers and the Ridge Method in rectangular boilers are recommended for most efficient results in all heating units.

An N. & W. representative will be glad to supply additional information about Pocahontas coal and the proper method of firing. This service is free. Call or write:

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Golden Gloves fighters will sweep thru their last sparring sessions today in preparation for Thursday night's Chicago championship bouts in the Coliseum. In a dozen gymnasiums in many sections of the city, hard hitting youngsters will beat out the punches which will demonstrate their fitness for the big test. Then they'll ease up tomorrow and come up fresh the following night for the battles which will mean success or failure in bids for the first major objective of the 1942 Golden Gloves campaign.

Chicago boxing fans remember the class and slugging power which the north and south sectional champions showed in fighting their way thru the preliminary tournaments in Loyola and St. Sabina gymnasiums. The same spectators and many more will flock to the Coliseum, knowing that one of the season's greatest nights of amateur boxing is assured when north clashes against south with city titles at stake.

The Stakes Are High.

Those sectional bouts will seem tame by comparison, because nearly all of the open division contestants will be very closely matched on Thursday night. And, what's more, the fighters will know that every punch thrown may decide whether they will or will not earn the right to represent Chicago in the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium Feb. 23, 24, and 25.

Already reports are coming in from the vast Golden Gloves territory indicating that the out of town teams will be stronger than ever this year. There is more material, the fighters are of better class, and the enthusiasm in the various areas is more intense. But the fans who go to the Coliseum on Thursday evening will see that Chicago has plenty to put up to ward off this invasion.

They're Evenly Matched.

There's no telling now whether Harold Dade will win his third Chicago title or whether Bob Dorgan will take the lightweight assignment, or whether Al Noto will dominate the local flyweights. But if these boys should be beaten, the youngsters who turn the trick will be formidable enough to cope with any threat that is likely to come from anywhere in Golden Gloves territory. There's so much ability among the Chicago finalists that it seems likely some of the most sensational fights of the entire Golden Gloves campaign will take place right here in the Coliseum show.

In addition to the struggle for supremacy in the open division, the novices will slug it out for championships in their own class. The north and south sides each will be represented by one fighter in each of the eight weights. The winners will be hailed as the Chicago novice cham-

When I Am with You.

The little things you say to me are sweet
With all the tenderness your heart can hold;
And being with you sweeps me off my feet
With happiness whose rapture shines like gold.
I cannot realize how it can be
That when I am with you, and only you,
That I am filled with utter ecstasy
That stirs my heart and thrills it thru and thru.
For you are, outwardly, like other men,
You laugh and talk and act the same as they,
Yet, just to me, you are beyond their ken
And so much nicer, oh, in every way.
That when I am with you I do not know
That there is day or night, rain or snow.

Things Eternal.

Wars may come, and wars may go,
But still at spring fresh life will flow,
And later summer's moon will glow,
While fall will harvest things which grow,
And winter shed white heaps of snow.

The planes may bomb, the guns may boom,
But every living tree will bloom,
And flowers shed their sweet perfume,
While creeping vine will seek more room,

And move on to their destined shore,
In spite of carnage, death, and gore,
In perfect rhythm evermore.

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 9 [Special].—Rallying in the last four minutes of the closing half, Indiana's basketball team dealt Illinois its first setback in eight Big Ten games tonight, 41 to 36. A capacity crowd of 6,200 witnessed the contest. Indiana's triumph ended Illinois' victory streak at 11 straight, seven in the conference.

The Hoosiers, turning in their sixth conference victory in nine games, missed numerous shots until they started clicking as Irvin Swanson, speedy forward, tied the count at 32 to 32 and Ed Denton and Johnny Logan followed in quick succession to put them in front.

Illinois Leads at Half.

Illinois led most of the way, holding a 22 to 19 half-time advantage, altho the Hoosiers were ahead at one point in the opening period. Capt. Andy Zimmer of Indiana, who turned in a great defensive game, and Logan tied for individual scoring honors with 10 points each. Vic Wukovits, Illinois' acting captain and center, paced the visitors with eight points.

Illinois started rapidly in the second period as Andy Phillip connected with a field goal and free throw and Art Mathisen followed with a free throw to give the Illini a seven point lead, their greatest margin at any stage of the contest.

Logan Touches Off Comeback.

Logan touched off the Hoosier comeback midway in the period when he connected for two field goals. With the Hoosiers trailing at 32 to 29, Ralph Hamilton sank a long basket and after Jack Smiley, Illinois forward, retaliated from the field, Denton broke up Illinois' stalling tactics by hitting from far out on the court. Swanson, Denton, Logan, and Zimmer then came thru with the decisive scoring punch.

The Hoosiers made 16 field goals out of 70 attempts against 14 in 60 for the Illini. Lineups:

PURDUE, 50; N. U., 41

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 9 [Special].—Cutting loose in the last three minutes of play with five field goals in rapid fire order, Purdue turned what had been a close game into a comparative rout as it defeated Northwestern tonight, 50 to 41. It marked the fifth victory in eight Big Ten starts for the Boilermakers and the fifth defeat in the same number of conference games for the Wildcats.

The Boilermakers' 28 to 24 lead at the half quickly faded early in the second period when Northwestern tied the score at 30 to 30 and then went out in front, 36 to 33, as Robert

And There Were Cheers for Two Great Quintets

Notre Dame Officials Are Guests of Navy

The United States Navy and the University of Notre Dame were represented by high officials at the charity basketball game between the Great Lakes Naval Training station and the Irish in the Stadium last night. Rear Admiral John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district, and commanding officer of the station had as his guests the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of Notre Dame and the Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., vice president of the university. As Rear Admiral Downes and his party entered their box, a bugle sounded "Attention," all navy personnel stood stiffly erect, and the band sounded the three flourishes due the admiral as commanding officer.

The Great Lakes band, directed by Lieut. Comm. Eddie Peabody, stage and radio star, filed into an almost empty arena at 7:20 o'clock. During the next 20 minutes, while the band was being set up in front of the Great Lakes choir of 100 voices, Peabody scanned the tiers of empty seats anxiously. "Maybe," he said, "this weather is going to hurt attendance." But he needn't have worried. By 7:50, when he picked up his baton to swing his band into the stirring strains of "Anchors Aweigh," 7,000 were in the building and more were coming all the time.

Both Great Lakes and Notre Dame galloped onto the brilliantly lit floor simultaneously, drawing down a mighty roar of appreciation from the crowd. The Irish were clad in golden sweatshirts and sweatpants, trimmed

Proceeds Go to Navy Relief Fund.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Irish of Notre Dame last night sank the Navy, as represented by the Great Lakes Naval Training station, on the stadium basketball court, 46 to 43. It was a brilliant game, fiercely waged, in which the decision was in doubt until the final seconds. Skill and speed, twin fundamentals of the game, crowned the battle before 12,236 who were doubly rewarded by the knowledge that the receipts were given to the Navy Relief society fund.

It was a fourth defeat in 25 games for the Sailors and for the Irish, whose inspirational fight earned the verdict, the victory revenged a beating they absorbed from Great Lakes on Notre Dame's floor last December.

Irish Have Finishing Power.

Navy needs no excuses for its play last night, altho it is only fair to mention the strenuous schedule the Sailors played last week. It also may be written that the Sailors were far more proficient from the field than from the penalty line. But these remarks merely serve to highlight the rally of the Irish, who were behind six points just before the end of the half, who trailed 30 to 24 after the second period opened, but who then came with a rush to take a lead they successfully defended for 15 minutes.

Players and spectators made the game a memorable occasion. From the opening serenade of the Great Lakes band and chorus, thru the brief addresses of welcome at half time, the thousands paid generous tribute to the service men. On the bench for the Irish was George Keogan, veteran Notre Dame basketball coach, who saw his boys on a foreign court for the first time since his illness a year ago.

Quinn's Goal Clinches It.

Johnny Niemiera and Bob Rensberger fired the big guns of the Irish attack and in the final minutes they had invaluable support from Francis Quinn, whose field goal clinched the argument in the last 10 seconds when the Irish were vulnerable to defeat by one field goal.

Bob Calihan, who like Notre Dame's Niemiera, attended high school in the Chicago district, scored five times for the Sailors. His early field goals kept his team in pursuit after the Irish had opened up an 8 to 2 lead. Later Ernie Andres of Indiana university and Frank Baumholtz of Ohio university took over the major portion of the offense. Forrest Anderson and George Rung played excellently on defense.

The Sailors pursued the Irish thruout the first 16 minutes of the first half. Twice they came within two points, at 10 to 8 and 14 to 12, before Baumholtz' free throw and Calihan's field goal sent them ahead, 15 to 14. Niemiera's goal was followed by Bob Faught's penalty throw on Calihan's foul and Notre Dame led again, 17 to 15.

It's Nip and Tuck.

The score was deadlocked at 18 points and again at 20 points and then Baumholtz and Andres built up a 26 to 20 lead, only to have Charley Butler and Rensberger break thru in the last 45 seconds for field goals. Notre Dame trailed, 26 to 24, at the intermission.

Andres' fifth and sixth fields goals in a total of eight shots sent Navy ahead, 30 to 24, in the second half. Then Quinn and Rensberger led an assault which netted 10 points for a 34 to 30 lead. The Navy never regained the advantage, altho it came within a point at 34 to 33 and again at 42 to 41.

A Hair Raising Finish.

Consecutive free throws by Rensberger and Orlando Bonicelli widened the gap to three points before Baumholtz scored on a pass from Andres. With Notre Dame leading, 44 to 43, Andres missed from midcourt and Quinn was under the backboard immediately for the final goal of the game.

PERUVIAN STAR TO RACE TODAY AT HIALEAH PARK

Meissen Will Make First North American Start.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP).—A. T. Jergins' Meissen, former champion of Peru, today was named for his first North American start tomorrow in a $1,500 seven furlong race at Hialeah Park for older horses.

In 19 races Meissen won 15 times, including a dead heat—finished second twice and third twice.

Foaled Oct. 31, 1936, Meissen did not start as a 2 year old, but had a brilliant 3 year old record.

Races in Field of Nine.

Jergins, director of the Hollywood Turf club, bought the horse with a view to starting him in the Hollywood Gold cup. Meissen was brought here when winter racing in California was canceled.

Competition tomorrow will be furnished by nine horses, including Dispose, winner last year of the Flamingo and Bahamas stakes for 3 year olds.

Eighteen horses have been named for the $5,000 added Evening handicap—the next to the biggest race of the winter for fillies and mares—Saturday.

The Evening handicap and the $10,000 Black Helen, March 2, both were named in honor of highly successful fillies, Joseph E. Widener's Evening and E. R. Bradley's Black Helen.

Dorimar Wins Inaugural.

Miss Tainter's 77 Wins Medal at Palm Beach

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP).—Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D., today fired a 77, five over women's par, to win medal honors in the annual Palm Beach tournament.

Nancy McClave of Maplewood, N. J., had a 79 and two other players, Mrs. P. E. Noland of Newcastle, Pa., and Grace Amory of Palm Beach, shot 81s. Miss Amory, Palm Beach society girl who was runner-up to Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., here last year, got off to a shaky start, with a 10 on the first hole. Miss Tainter also had her troubles, taking a 7 on the par 4 third.

The medalist drew a formidable opponent, Irene M. Dill of Detroit, in the first round tomorrow. In the Miami Biltmore tournament Miss Dill eliminated the medalist, Mary Jane Garman of Hammond, Ind., in the first round.

Miss McClave plays Sally Sessions of Muskegon, Mich., and Mrs. Nolan meets Catherine Fox of Glen Ridge, N. J., tomorrow. Miss Sessions and Miss Fox had 86s in the qualifying round. Miss Amory's first opponent will be Janet Fleming of State College, Pa., who scored an 87.

Phil Rizzuto Signs; First of Yank Regulars

New York, Feb. 9 (AP).—Phil Rizzuto, shortstop of the world champion New York Yankees, limped into the office of President Ed Barrow today and left smiling a few minutes later with the announcement that he had signed his 1942 contract. He is the first Yankee regular to sign.

The youngster who climaxed his first year in the big leagues by starring in the world series, also has been ill with influenza during the last month and Barrow ordered him south with the first Yankee contingent in hopes of regaining his lost poundage.

Other Players Sign.

Hank Borowy, pitcher, and Catcher Ken Sears, both up from Newark of the International league, returned their signed contracts, as did Melvin Queen, speedball hurler, who was with Kansas City in the American association and Binghamton of the Eastern circuit last season.

The New York Giants today received the signed contracts of Coach Adolf Luque and Pitcher Bill McGee. Luque was a coach with the club last season and McGee joined the team in midseason following a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals.

TWO BOSTON ROOKIES SIGN.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 9 (AP).—The Boston Red Sox announced tonight that the signed contracts of Ulysses [Cookie] Lupien, first base candidate, and Norman Brown, right handed pitcher, had been received at the club offices.

Lupien, former Harvard baseball captain and a Sox farmhand since his graduation, has hopes of beating out Jimmy Foxx for the first base berth this season. He batted over .300 at Louisville last season and at Little Rock in 1940. He has been working out daily in the Harvard baseball cage.

Brown was south with the Sox last spring and was farmed out to the Greensboro, N. C., team, where he compiled a record of 13 victories and 8 losses under Manager Heinie Manush and had an earned run average of 2.31.

Diz, Paul Still Hanker to Do a Bit of Pitching

Dizzy said today he is making plans to continue his work as a radio announcer in St. Louis, altho he may make another effort to get his arm back in condition.

The former Chicago Cub and St. Louis Cardinal right hander said he was going to Hot Springs, Ark., Saturday to discuss with William Clark, athletic director of the Philadelphia Broadmoor club, a conditioning program designed to bring his ailing arm back to life.

He added that he would let them work on his arm "as long as it don't cost anything, but I wouldn't want to return to baseball unless I knew the arm could be completely cured and I could win ball games like I used to."

Paul, who owns a farm across the county from Dizzy, said he would not be interested in playing ball unless it was with Dallas of the Texas league. He quit last year when the Cardinals wanted to send him to the Pacific Coast league.

"Playing with Dallas ought to be a good set-up for me," said Paul. "I could do the milking early in the morning, run my filling station in the daytime, and pitch for Dallas at night."

AUDUBON GROUP BACK TRACKS ON 'FEATHER' LAW

BY BOB BECKER.

The National Audubon society, at last, is beginning to backtrack in its campaign to deprive the fly fisherman usage of regular line feathers in making his own patterns. This is the news received from its headquarters in New York.

Audubon society officials have been the target of criticism for several months following its lobby of "feather" legislation in New York state. Recently, tho, the organization issued a statement that it approves "a change in the wild bird plumage law of New York, thus making it possible for commercial fly tiers to obtain and sell legally the feathers of the Mandarin duck, golden pheasant, and grey junglefowl."

Waltonians Protest.

The society recently was given a broadside by the Izaak Walton league for sponsoring legislation which would practically make every fisherman who ties flies from any kind of feathers an outlaw. The law passed in New York has been called everything from ridiculous to "horsefeather legislation" because feathers being used by fly tiers largely come from chickens, barnyard geese, pheasants [millions killed legally every year], and similar common game-farm birds which hardly heed the protective hand of the Audubon group. No commercial tiers or sportsmen are hiring bird hunters to kill any of our wild birds for their feathers.

Ever since THE TRIBUNE published a story on what happened in New York, letters have been coming from fly fishermen asking for more information and also stating that they are ready to fight any proposed legislation of that type in the central states. The Audubon society has threatened to fight for feather legislation in other states, so sportsmen have been warned to watch for any such movement.

A Bit of Contradiction.

It seems strange to hear the Audubon group make the following statement after its terrific tirades against how the fly fishermen have been hurting [?] wild birds. The society said:

"The National Audubon society always has recognized the recreational value of amateur sport, such as fly fishing, and always has considered sportsmen, including fly fishermen, its co-workers in the field of conservation.

"In the judgment of the board of directors, provision for commercial transactions in the plumage of Mandarin duck, golden pheasant, and grey junglefowl raised as 'domestic game' under the breeders' license sections of the existing conservation law of the state of New York, would meet the essential requirements of the great majority of fly fishermen."

Illinois Wrestlers Beat Cornell College, 23 to 5

Mount Vernon, Ia., Feb. 9 [Special].—Illinois' wrestling team won its second victory of the current Iowa trip, defeating Cornell college here tonight, 23 to 5. The Illini won seven out of 8 bouts, only Peter Lukas, 175 pounder, falling victim to a Cornell man. He lost by a fall to Dale Thomas. Kirk Perry was the only Illinois man to win by a fall, throwing Wallace Littell in 6:58. Ted Seebrooke, standout man for the Illini, encountered difficulty with Charley Voyce in the 165 pound division, but finally won a decision, 8 to 5.

Wisconsin won its fifth game in eight starts last night, routing the University of Chicago, 54 to 20. It was the Maroons' 10th loss this season and their 26th straight Western conference defeat.

John Kotz scored seven baskets and four free throws for the Badgers to lead the scoring with 18 points and increase his season total to 132 points, an average of 16½ per game.

In the first half Kotz dropped in four baskets and two free throws to better the entire Maroon output, of which two of the four goals, plus the lone free throw, were by Bob Oakley. Kotz got a short basket and a pair of free throws and Ed Schiewe made a field goal and a free throw to give the Badgers seven points while their mates held the Maroons scoreless for five minutes. Wisconsin had a 26 to 9 lead at half time. Lineup:

Notre Dame, no pint sized quintet, looked anything but tall in comparison to the Bluejackets, whose team average is 6 feet 2 inches. Frank Baumholtz, sailor scoring star, is the smallest man on the squad. He is 5 feet 10 inches.

Among the earlier arrivals were Judge Michael L. Igoe and a party of four. The navy was out in force—and out early. Among those whose blue and gold uniforms stood out sharply against an expanse of empty seats, were Lieut. Comm. Robert A. Brown, public relations officer of the 9th naval district; Capt. De Witt Carr, executive officer of the training station, and Capt. E. A. Loftquist, chief of staff at the station.

One of the Great Lakes' keenest fans, Lieut. Comm. H. B. Edgar, recruit training officer, wore campaign ribbons, indicating expeditionary service in Nicaragua and China with the United States marines.

Helping to make last night's game a success was Lieut. Charles Southward of the Great Lakes public relations office. He was recently promoted from ensign. With him were Lieut. Comm. O. A. Doll, commissary officer; Lieut. Edward Monoghan, assistant classifications officer; A. G. Atwater, Wrigley company executive who has applied for a commission, and Lieut. [Jg] Ed Green, also of the public relations office.

At 8:30 the stadium was darkened, a blazing spotlight outlined the American flag, and the band played the national anthem. A navy welcome for the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame was asked over the public address system—and a real navy welcome was extended to the Irish by sailors in the auditorium. Then came a mighty cheer for the United States navy.

Rear Adm. Downes paid tribute to the Navy Relief society in a brief address at the half. He pointed out that in times of war casualties must be expected, and that it is the function of the Navy Relief society to care for the dependents of men killed or injured in action. "And Great Lakes is proud," he concluded, "that it can do its share toward helping the Navy Relief society fulfill its task of lightening the load of those in need."

Notre Dame players forgot all about dignity when the gun sounded ending the game. Overjoyed players embraced one another, pounded backs, clapped hands, and jumped up and down in sheer happiness. They were assisted in the celebration by Coach George Keogan, whose broad smile and handclasps bore testimony to his pride in his team which, by beating the Bluejackets, became the fourth quintet to turn the trick. Michigan State, Ohio State, and Creighton were the others.

Taylor Forward Gets 19 Points; Wheaton Loses

Upland, Ind., Feb. 9 (AP).—Don Odle, Taylor university's star forward, set a new season scoring record for his school tonight as Taylor's basketball team beat Wheaton [Ill.] college, 61 to 54. Odle's 19 points gave him 214 for the campaign, which still has five games to go, and boosted by 10 points the previous mark. Forward T. Hayes of the visitors did even better than Odle. He got 12 field goals for 24 points. Taylor led thruout the game.

GORDON LEAVES FOR CAMP.

Eugene, Ore., Feb. 9 (AP).—Joe Gordon, New York Yankee second baseman, left today for spring training in St. Petersburg, Fla. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gordon and their small daughter. Gordon said he had not received his 1942 contract, but expected it soon.

His Band Was Hot, Too!

Lieut. Comm. Eddie Peabody, conductor of the Great Lakes Naval Training station band, was one of the most popular persons in the Stadium as Notre Dame defeated Great Lakes, 46 to 43, last night in Navy Relief society game. Peabody led his musicians in a jam session after the contest to the cheers of the 12,236 who attended.

Motisi Beats Willie Joyce in 10 Rounds

Fight Decisions

At Detroit, Mich.—Harvey Dubs stopped Charley Eschman [5].
At Baltimore, Md.—Deacon Johnny Brown beat Phil Furr [10].

Tony Motisi, Catholic Youth organization welterweight, gave 1,433 fans a convincing demonstration that he is headed for major bouts by scoring an easy 10 round victory over Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., in the main event last night in Marigold Gardens.

The decision was unanimous. Motisi took the first five rounds. In the sixth Joyce appeared to have the edge, but the Chicagoan came back to take the eighth and ninth. The referee was Bernard Weissman, and the judges, James McManus and John Bray. Motisi weighed 146 and Joyce 138½.

Bill Pierce Wins.

In the semi-windup Bill Pierce, West Allis, Wis., lightweight, scored a five round decision over Vince Calzaretto of Palos Park. Ernie Pelaia Beaver Falls, Pa., middleweight, won from Don Wallenfang, West Allis, Wis., welterweight, in five rounds. Jerry Hoffman, lightweight from Milwaukee, Wis., beat Sam Scully of Chicago in four rounds, and Corp. Clay Rowan of Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., and John Turner of Chicago drew in four rounds.

Gross receipts were $2,021.

Bolden, Reeves Sign.

Nate Bolden and Jimmy Reeves, Golden Gloves graduates, have been matched for a 10 round bout in Marigold arena next Monday. The match originally was planned as a semiwindup to a contest between Lem Franklin and Bob Pastor in Cleveland Feb. 24. When Larry Atkins, Cleveland matchmaker, was unable to close it he substituted an eight round event on the card involving Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, Man., lightweight, who is a stablemate of Franklin, and Tony Ferrara of New York.

pions. That will be the end of their Golden Gloves campaign for this season because only the open division boxers go on to the Tournament of Champions. Many of the novices will be back next year with additional experience to try their luck among the veterans.

Watch This Charley Crump!

Every season new contenders come into the local battle to freshen up the fight in the open division. One of the strongest of these is Charley Crump, who has been training well in Trafton's gymnasium under Larry Amadee, an old time fighter who knows every angle of conditioning, ring tactics, and punching.

Crump has been boxing for only a year, but he has made very fast progress and has acquired tremendous hitting power. After developing well by sparring against Tony Zale, Lem Franklin, and other strong professional fighters, Crump didn't bother to start out in the novice division. He has had only seven fights in his brief career but he has won all of them—three by knockouts. His opponent in the light heavyweight class Thursday night will be James Arnold of the Savoy A. C.

Three Indiana Finals Tonight.

This is one of the busiest weeks of the entire campaign in the out of town centers where newspapers and radio stations are coöperating with Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in the sponsorship of eliminations. Dayton, Oklahoma City, and Des Moines held their finals last night and three Indiana cities—Fort Wayne, Muncie, and Richmond—will pick their champions tonight. There will be fighting this evening in 14 centers, including such widely separated points as Kansas City, Minneapolis, and Nashville.

Seventeen cities in addition to Chicago will hail their champions this week. Many more will be completed next week. Then teams from all over Golden Gloves territory will converge on Chicago for one of the most varied and spectacular shows to be found anywhere—the Tournament of Champions.

The busy Blackhawks will meet the Rangers in New York tonight in the first of three National Hockey league games to be played between now and Sunday evening. After their tiff in Madison Square Garden the Chicagoans will come back home to meet Detroit Thursday and Boston Sunday on the Stadium ice.

Before leaving for the east, Manager Paul Thompson of the Hawks said Bill Mosienko, sensational youngster who scored twice against the Rangers in less than a minute Sunday night, will be teamed up with Bob Carse and Red Hamill in a new front line combination. Despite the 20 year old rookie's two goals, the Hawks lost to the Rangers in the final minutes, 4 to 3.

All the players made the trip except Cully Dahlstrom, who will rest his injured knee a few days before putting on skates. Bill Carse and Doug Bentley, who have been out of the last several games, got back into the lineup Sunday and showed they were fit for hard duty.

All teams in the league in the next three days will be passing the 36 game mark in their schedule, which is the completion of three-fourths of the regular 1941-'42 schedule.

The only tickets remaining, 2,500, will be held for the 16 schools whose teams compete in the finals, March 19, 20, and 21. These tickets will be turned over to the principals of the 16 schools as soon as the results of the sectional tournaments are known. These meets are scheduled for March 11, 12, and 13.

In accordance with the regulations for distribution decided upon by the high school association, all general public orders which reached the ticket office by 5 p. m. today were placed on an equal footing and drawn.

COUNTY'S BUDGET STILL 4 MILLIONS OVER ESTIMATES

Revised Figures Ready; Near 22 Millions.

A revised 1942 Cook county budget totaling from 21½ to 22 million dollars will be submitted to the county commissioners for approval either today or tomorrow, officials said yesterday.

Altho this represents a reduction of more than 2 million dollars from original departmental requests of $24,173,000, it is still more than 4 million dollars in excess of prospective 1942 revenues. The county's revenues for this year were estimated at $17,463,000 by Assistant Controler Richard J. Daley. The 1941 budget totaled $20,828,283.

Unless the present budget estimates are revised, virtually all savings recommended by a special efficiency survey committee will be thrown into the discard.

Officials said the prospective 4 million dollar deficit for 1942 will be "balanced" by raising Daley's previous revenue estimates. This arbitrary boosting of revenue estimates has been criticized repeatedly by the Civic federation. In the last four years the commissioners have overestimated revenues by a total of $5,800,000. The county began the 1942 fiscal year with a deficit of $2,595,000.

PETITION FILED TO PUT SWINDLER IN BANKRUPTCY

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal District court yesterday against J. Dewey Abraham, promoter, who has admitted swindling friends and relatives out of $450,000 in a fake real estate, diamond, and securities scheme.

The petition was filed by three of his victims who claim losses of nearly $14,000. The creditors are Henry A. Lutz, 1950 Fletcher street, who invested $6,129; Mrs. Eleanor Witkowsky, 5126 Ingleside avenue, who invested $3,000, and Mrs. Rena Mayer, also of the Ingleside address, who invested $4,800.

Elbert A. Wagner, their lawyer, said he will appear today before Judge William Campbell and ask appointment of a receiver. This will enable a search for Abraham's assets, if any, to impound them for eventual distribution among creditors. Abraham is now in custody of the state's attorney's office, awaiting grand jury action.

ELEVATOR UNION BUYS $40,000 OF DEFENSE BONDS

The Elevator Operators' and Starters' union, local No. 66 [AFL], purchased $40,000 in defense bonds yesterday in observance of the union's 40th anniversary year, James L. O'Grady, president, announced.

A. T. Sihler, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, reported the sale of $604,505,000 in defense bonds thru Saturday. Postoffice sales totaled $24,725,218 in bonds and $7,475,648 in stamps, Ernest J. Kreutgen, postmaster, reported. Sales in The Tribune public service offices yesterday totaled $618.75 in bonds and $132.50 in stamps.

Joseph B. Fleming, president of the board of the Chicago public library, said that 991 library employés, 85 per cent of the entire staff, had pledged to buy $53,700 in defense bonds this year. Pay roll deductions will be made twice a month. The total amounts to 7½ per cent of the employés' yearly salaries.

TIRE THIEF GETS 1-10 YEAR TERM 'AS AN EXAMPLE'

Walter Millens, 29 years old, colored, 1524 Arnold street, Chicago Heights, was arrested for a tire theft early in January—before a new state law made any tire theft a grand larceny punishable by 1 to 10 years in prison. Millens admitted pawning the tires for only $4, but was charged with grand larceny on the ground that the tires were worth more.

Yesterday he was sentenced by Judge John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court to serve 1 to 10 years, the judge declaring that "an example must be made to discourage tire thefts."

The complainant was Hassell Goodner of Chicago Heights, who said he left his car with Millens to be repaired Dec. 17, and that both front wheels and tires were missing when he returned.

DIES OF INJURIES AFTER BEING HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Wayne Hoffmeyer, 34 years old, 3920 Broadway, a bowling alley employé, died in the Edgewater hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck by an automobile at Menard avenue and Irving Park road. The driver was Rudolph Christensen, 25, of 4700 Barry avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 101 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 79 were killed in Chicago, where 2,362 were injured in the same period.

RIVALS BLOCKADE SERVICE STATION OPEN AFTER 7 P. M.

Fifty competitive gasoline station operators last night blockaded the Waggoner No. 36 station at Madison street and Wesley avenue in Oak Park in an effort to force the station to heed the 7 p. m.-7 a. m. closing agreement as approved by the other operators.

The rival operators at first had failed to make their blockade effective because the station attendants, when the competitors handed them a bill of large denomination for a single gallon of gas, would give them the gas but charge them nothing.

Later, however, 30 autos owned by the competitors were driven onto the station drives and in front of the pumps, their occupants sitting there calmly and refusing to drive on. Prospective customers thus were prevented from buying gasoline.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

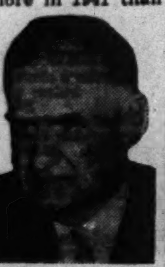
GOODYEAR'S '41 EARNINGS SET 12 YEAR RECORD

Report Sales Gain of 50 Per Cent.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron, O., earned more in 1941 than in any year since 1929 despite mounting taxes, the company reported yesterday. Of other large organizations reporting last year's results, Commercial Credit company also showed improvement but the burden of heavier taxes brought declines in income for United States Tobacco company, Coca-Cola International corporation and Consolidated Edison Company of New York.



Gen. Robert E. Wood, new Goodyear board member.

Equals $4.68 Per Share.

Goodyear last year earned $12,831,397, equal to $4.68 a share, compared with $10,309,788, or $3.44 a share, in 1940. Provision for federal and foreign income and excess profits taxes was $26,357,665, almost four times the $6,972,015 of 1940.

Goodyear's net sales for 1941 were $330,599,674, the largest in its history and an increase of approximately 50 per cent over the $217,540,079 in 1940.

The 1941 net income was computed after 7 million dollars was set aside for contingencies.

The report was made at a meeting of Goodyear's directors who elected Gen. Robert E. Wood, Chicago, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and Howard L. Hyde, Akron, Goodyear general counsel, as new board members.

United States Tobacco company, New York, disclosed it earned $3,051,334, equal to $1.58 a share, in 1941, compared with $3,977,376, or $2.08 a share, in 1940. The company has one of its plants in Chicago.

Coca-Cola International corporation, Wilmington, Del., holding company for a number of bottling subsidiaries, reported its 1941 net was $7,561,462, equal to $38.50 a share, compared with $7,894,446, or $39.15 a share, in 1940.

Consolidated Sales Up.

Altho electricity sales of the Consolidated Edison company of New York and its affiliates were the largest on record last year, demand for power from war industries has been relatively small, the company's annual report disclosed yesterday. Residential customers were largely responsible for a 3.9 per cent gain in sales.

Electricity sales totaled 6,847,168,000 kilowatt hours valued at $206,765,558, compared with 6,589,836,000, or $201,746,781 in 1940.

A slight gain in total operating revenues of the system in 1941 to $259,786,581 from $256,928,608 in 1940 was offset by a $4,366,034 increase in operating taxes and $2,255,144 in larger depreciation charges. As a result, net income declined almost 7 per cent to $33,920,911, equal after preferred dividends to $2 a common share, compared with $36,454,864 or $2.23 a share in 1940. The 1941 tax reserve of $62,965,964 was the largest in the system's history and was more than 7½ per cent larger than in 1940.

Credit Earnings Rise.

The 1941 net income of Commercial Credit company, Baltimore, Md., engaged in various financing activities and in factoring, was $9,081,949, equal to $4.65 a share, compared with $8,310,907, or $4.23 a share, in the preceding year. Provision for federal taxes was $5,398,918, against $2,852,076 in 1940.

Chairman A. E. Duncan said that even with the expected reduction in intalment financing and other changes "it now appears" the company and its subsidiaries should continue to show a "reasonable tho reduced profit under existing circumstances for at least one or two years."

Income Taxes Arouse Nation to Cost of War

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

With slightly more than a month left before income tax returns become due, the American public is beginning to translate into personal terms of "What will I have to pay?" the cost of the mammoth war program and the largest tax levies in history.

Income tax experts estimated that 5 million persons will be required to file returns for the first time, March 15, because of lowered personal exemptions. Of these about 2½ million will have to pay taxes. Altogether, more than 22 million persons are expected to file returns and 13 million actually will have to pay.

Tax Base Broadened.

The federal income tax will affect more families than ever before in our history. The impost on low income families and the heavier tax burden on moderate income families has broadened the tax base. Public finance authorities have asserted that this development is spreading the realization into all strata of American life that the costs of government are borne by the entire nation, not by the wealthy alone.

Altho increasingly heavy income taxes were indicated as long as two years ago, relatively few individuals have made any preparations for paying these taxes except from current income.

The government last year introduced a new type of security called tax anticipation notes. This provided a form of systematic saving of a tax reserve, but few persons of moderate income availed themselves of the interest-bearing investment. Large estates and corporations bought the notes.

Some Lower Living Standard.

A sample survey of what Chicagoans have done to anticipate bigger income tax bills this year revealed that some have already reduced their living standards and have attempted to reserve some funds for taxes. The case histories of several instances of the effects of the tax program follow:

Case No. 1 is that of a young lawyer who is married and has one child. His 1941 income was about $5,000. He expects to pay about $250 in income tax this year in four instalments.

Because his family has been living in the home of his wife's parents he has been able to save about 40 per cent of his 1941 income. He said he would be able to meet his taxes from current income.

Case No. 2 is that of a junior executive in a mercantile firm who earned $3,000 last year. He is married and has two children. His income tax will be approximately $80. He paid no tax on his 1940 income.

Sells Car to Save for Tax.

He has saved practically nothing from his salary. Most of the excess after paying for living expenses has gone into insurance. Last summer he became concerned about the lowered tax exemption and made some effort to reduce the family's expenditures. He sold his 4 year old car and restricted his amateur photography work. He has saved sufficient to pay his March 15 income tax bill.

Case No. 3 is that of a young woman secretary who earned $1,800 last year. She is unmarried. Her income tax will be approximately $95.

Altho she attempts to follow a budget, she finds that her apartment rent, clothing, and entertainment virtually consume her entire income and she is unable to save except a few dollars each week. She says that her income tax will be a severe burden this year, and she does not know how she can provide for it except by finding a cheaper apartment or reducing her clothing and entertainment expenditures.

Big Users Feel Effect of Curb on Sugar Sale

Warns Against Gouge

Housewives should pay no more than 6½ to 7 cents a pound for sugar in the Chicago district, John C. Weigel, regional director of the Office of Price Administration, said yesterday. The wholesale price of sugar has increased only 1/5 cent a pound since the first week of December, Weigel said. He reiterated the statement of Price Administrator Leon Henderson that consumers should protest if storekeepers ask prices much more than 1 cent higher on a five pound bag of sugar than in the first week of December.

Food manufacturers, candy makers, restaurants, and other large consumers of sugar reported yesterday they were beginning to feel the effects of restrictions on sugar sales.

Food manufacturers said gelatine desserts, prepared puddings, sweet chocolate, jams, jellies, preserves, and canned fruits are only a few of the food products of which output already has been cut sharply.

A maker of gelatine desserts and prepared pudding mixes described the output of these products as "slowed down" with further reductions in prospect.

Candy Firms Threatened.

Likely to be hard hit by the government's rationing order is Chicago's 100 million dollar a year candy industry—an industry that last year used close to 50 million dollars' worth of sugar. The jobs of more than 15,000 persons here are at stake, the candy makers said.

Company officials say every effort will be made to keep their plants in production. The result will be, however, that many familiar varieties of candy shortly will disappear.

The soft drink industry is another to suffer. Sales are made on a "rationing" basis. Demand has increased but since the products are largely sugar, output has fallen proportionately with sugar supplies.

Restaurants Study Effects.

Under Office of Price administration regulations restaurants are limited to 80 per cent of the sugar they used in 1941. In the meantime their business has increased.

The Chicago Restaurant association will meet today, according to Dario L. Toffenetti, president of the group, to make recommendations to the members on how to cut down sugar consumption.

Meanwhile several cafés already have started on their own reduction programs.

Some restaurants are serving two cubes of sugar encased in a small envelope to each customer. And others are still putting out the full bowl and taking their chances on running thru their quota.

Back in the kitchens new recipes are being prepared calling for the substitution of corn syrup for sugar whenever possible.

Demands Inquiry.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—An investigation of the "claimed" sugar shortage and "the failure of both industry and government agencies to convert surplus wheat and corn into badly needed industrial alcohol" was demanded today by Rep. James F. O'Connor [D., Mont.].

O'Connor drafted a resolution requesting creation of a five-man committee to make the inquiry.

"The sugar shortage could be alleviated by a more general use of surplus wheat and corn in the country for industrial alcohol," he said. "The industrial alcohol distillers, those who make it from sugar, appear to be in the saddle so far as the government is concerned. It is time that the farmers and the vast agricultural interests . . . had a look-in on this alcohol situation."

STEEL MILL AT GARY TO BE EXPANDED FOR NEW TINNING PROCESS

Decision to spend 5½ million dollars for expansion of United States Steel corporation's facilities for plating steel sheets with tin by new processes that save large amounts of tin was announced last night by Benjamin F. Fairless, president.

B. F. Fairless.

Plants in the Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Birmingham districts will share in the expansion program. One electrolytic tin plating production line and two supplemental production lines for chemically treating black plate will be installed in tin mills in each of the three districts.

One of the expansions will be at the Gary, Ind., mill of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, a subsidiary. The first such equipment ever used was installed at the Gary plant.

Total capacity of the new electrolytic facilities will be 225,000 tons a year. That amount of tin plate would require 3,375 tons of tin if the coating were done by the conventional method, but only 1,125 tons by the new process.

Pay Roll at Rock Island Arsenal Sets New Record

Rock Island, Ill., Feb. 9 [Special].—The January pay roll at the Rock Island arsenal totaled $2,296,548, an all-time month record, Brig. Gen. Norman F. Ramsey, commanding officer, announced today.

Canadians Get Same Priority as Americans

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—The War Production board today made priority assistance available to Canadian firms on a virtually equal footing with American companies.

Describing the action as "a further step toward coördinating the war efforts of the United States and Canada," WPB ordered that Canadian buyers of manufactured goods or materials for war or essential civilian use might apply priority ratings in ordering from American companies thru clearance machinery being set up in Ottawa.

The priority aid will be granted only for items unobtainable in Canada. For items under general preference rating orders, the Canadian firms must first make application thru the Canadian department of munitions and supply.

In other actions today, WPB forbade any sales of raw silk except by and to the government owned Defense Supplies corporation after Feb. 23, froze supplies of agar, a jellylike substance extracted from seaweed and used for medicinal purposes, and granted priority assistance to farmers for machinery repairs.

In line with its program to maintain wartime food output at a peak level, WPB ruled that the farmer who repairs his implements himself or the repairman who does it for him may use a military rating of A-10 to obtain anything from nuts and bolts to major machine parts.

Big Insurance Group Leases Space in Loop

BY AL CHASE.

One of the largest loop leases in years was closed yesterday when the America Fore group of six insurance companies rented approximately 62,000 square feet of floor space in the Field building for 10 years at a term rental of over 1¼ million dollars. Announcement was made jointly by Robert Carpenter, building manager, and E. A. Henne, vice president of the insurance group.

Purchase by the government last Friday of the 12 story America Fore building at 844 Rush street, for use by the Railroad Retirement board, necessitated removal of the insurance companies and other tenants as rapidly as possible.

LEASES FOR AGENCIES.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—The moving of federal agencies from Washington to create additional space for defense workers has led to the leasing or agreement to lease 1,145,000 square feet of office space in other cities, the Office of Decentralization said tonight.

The America Fore group will occupy all of the 18th and most of the 19th floors of the Field building. The space will be remodeled. The new tenants will move in about 60 days, it was said, bringing 500 employés into the loop.

In addition to the Field building space, the America Fore group will lease 10,000 square feet for company supply departments elsewhere in the loop.

The group comprises the following companies, with total assets of $221,796,725;: Continental Insurance company, Niagara Fire Insurance company, First American Fire Insurance company, Fidelity-Phenix Fire Insurance company, American Eagle Fire Insurance company, and the Maryland Insurance Company of Delaware.

Houses 33 Insurance Firms.

With the new lease the Field building becomes one of the major insurance locations in the country, housing 33 insurance companies and general agencies, Carpenter said. Yesterday's lease will bring the occupancy of the Field building to approximately 75 per cent, he added.

"Purchase by the government of the America Fore building should prove of tremendous value to the Chicago office building situation," said Carpenter. "It means that concerns now occupying the 250,000 square feet of America Fore building space will be forced to move elsewhere."

NEW WAR ADMINISTRATION GIVEN RULE OVER MERCHANT SHIPPING

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Control over all ocean-going merchant shipping of the United States was vested today in a new war shipping administration, with Rear Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, as administrator.

Adm. Emory S. Land.

The action was taken by President Roosevelt in an executive order which said that the move was made "to assure the most effective utilization of the shipping of the United States for the successful prosecution of the war."

All vessels placed under the control of the administrator were automatically pooled by the action and are subject to designation by the administrator for use either by the United States or the united nations aligned against the axis.

1,200 Ships Affected.

According to recent figures the ocean-going merchant fleet of the United States consisted of approximately 1,200 vessels totaling approximately 7 million gross tons.

"Vessels under the control of the war shipping administration shall constitute a pool to be allocated by the administrator for use by the army, navy, other federal departments and agencies, and the governments of the united nations," the executive order said. "In allocating the use of such vessels, the administrator shall comply with strategic military requirements."

Land also will represent the United States in dealings with the British ministry of war transport and with similar shipping agencies of other governments fighting the axis. The United States and Great Britain recently established a joint shipping board to coördinate control and allocation of shipping facilities.

Joint Boards Established.

At the time this board was created joint boards also were formed for pooling and allocation of raw materials and munitions. The British will

FOREIGN SEAMEN DESERT TO TAKE HIGHER PAID JOBS

New York, Feb. 9 (AP).—Desertions by seamen from ships of exiled governments have caused such concern among officials of the International Transport Workers' federation [independent] that they fear a general walkout might result, seriously affecting movement of vital war supplies by united nations vessels.

Jacobus H. Oldenbroek, assistant general secretary of the federation, which claims a membership of about 150,000 seamen, said today the men were being lured away by higher wages on shore jobs or on Panamanian ships than the exiled governments felt they could pay.

Oldenbroek said he had warned the United States Maritime commission a general walkout might result if the defections were not halted.

Urges Legal Ban.

"The United States Maritime commission should make it illegal for shipping lines and ship commissioners to sign men of the united nations," he said. "The commission should issue definite instructions to this effect, and then proceed, under the law, to deport to England those sailors who refuse to sign with us again. Sooner or later, these men must face the maritime courts of their own countries now functioning in London."

Oldenbroek emphasized that a majority of the men were loyal to their ships.

"The best men, of course, who know what they are fighting for do not quit their posts," he said. "At the same time they do not want to sail on undermanned ships."

Jealous of Shipmates.

He explained, too, that the men were weary from the hardships of wartime service and many were worried about relatives and friends in the axis occupied lands. Oldenbroek said these men did not like to stand by and see their erstwhile shipmates fare better in jobs ashore or on other ships.

Oldenbroek said that agents frequented bars and lodging places of sailors from vessels of Belgium, the Netherlands, Poland, Norway, Greece, and "Free France" and offered high wages for work ashore and on Panamanian freighters.

"The governments in exile cannot compete on a dollar basis with the lines of Panama registry because most of them have slender resources," he said.

SINGAPORE WAR NEWS REDUCES STOCK PRICES

Rails, Industrials Show Fractional Losses.

Again analysts were encouraged by the fact liquidation was relatively negligible. Transfers were 404,220 shares, compared with 431,960 last Friday, and were among the smallest since last October. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 of a point at 37.4, widest setback for this barometer since Jan. 21.

Lightening of commitments and the withdrawal of bids in many cases was attributed mainly to fears for the outcome of the Singapore siege.

Good Earnings Ignored.

Many good earnings statements, demonstrating the ability of some companies to overcome big tax charges, aided a few issues but generally were ignored. An upturn in this week's estimated steel mill operations was without a great deal of effect.

Du Pont dipped to a new low since 1938 and Dow Chemical touched a bottom level for the last year. Declining issues included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, New York Central, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Sears-Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, and Douglas Aircraft.

Holders of rails seemed disappointed that the Interstate Commerce commission did not hand down a freight rate decision last Saturday. Talk of a possibly lower boost than the 10 per cent asked by the roads put further brakes on carrier securities.

CHICAGO PRICES SAG.

Prices generally declined on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transactions of 14,000 shares. Of 90 issues traded, 8 advanced, 53 declined, and 23 closed unchanged. Commonwealth Edison, which closed ⅛ lower at 21⅝, was the volume leader with 600 shares traded.

Of other active stocks, Elgin National Watch and Noblitt-Sparks were unchanged, while both Butler Brothers and Studebaker declined ⅛. Anaconda, Indianapolis Power & Light, and Stewart-Warner declined ⅛ in the half hour after the close in New York.

NORTH WESTERN REORGANIZATION UPHELD BY COURT

Appeal of Stockholders for Share Denied.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals upheld in its entirety yesterday the approval and confirmation in federal District court of the Interstate Commerce commission's reorganization plan for the Chicago and North Western railway. The appeal from the lower court's orders had been made by the railroad and trustees of mortgage bond issues.

The appeal questioned the ICC finding that common and preferred stocks of the old company were without value. It questioned the sufficiency of evidence to support the finding that estimated future normal income of the road will not exceed $14,625,000 and will not support a capitalization of more than 450 million dollars, as provided by the reorganization. The railroad and trustees in the appeal also charged the ICC with failure to make necessary specific findings of values.

Ruling Comes as Surprise.

The decision came as a surprise in view of the Appeals court's ruling in the case of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific appeal early last December. The ICC reorganization plan was ordered in this instance to be returned for further specific findings of fact, altho the plan in general was found valid. Railroad attorneys at the time of the Milwaukee road decision freely predicted that a similar ruling would be made in the North Western case.

Yesterday's decision quickly dismissed the question of value for common and preferred stocks of the old North Western Railroad company, noting that since outstanding obligations exceed 450 million dollars there could be equity only if that figure can be increased. The ICC reorganization plan, the decision asserted, "bears evidence of much study and thoughtful consideration."

Admits Profit Is Uncertain.

The appeals court found that the "vulnerability" of the commission's figures is limited to its finding that probable income for a future normal year is $14,625,000, and added that "at best [this figure] must have the uncertainty common to all prophecy." With outstanding securities limited to 450 millions, interest reduced and, in part, made dependent upon income, the decision stated, even revenue of $14,625,000 would leave little for preferred stock, let alone common shares.

The court admitted that "there is the urge" to raise the ICC income estimate for the benefit of stockholders, but said it also is necessary to maintain interest payments.

"Good faith and honesty demand a plan to measure up to expectations," the decision declared. "Failure to do so and a return of the debtor to court for another major operation by the ICC may well witness the demise of the patient."

Approves Valuation Basis.

The maximum capitalization for the reorganized road was approved and declared to be supported by evidence convincing the court that the North Western could not carry a heavier debt burden. The ICC's use of earnings as a base in fixing values before original and reproduction costs was also approved.

The decision, which was written by Judge Evan A. Evans, made specific reference to the decision in the Milwaukee road case and noted that in this instance the ICC failed to make a finding of values detailed sufficiently for the court to give a ruling. It was noted that the appellants in the North Western case, "relying upon this [the Milwaukee] decision," sought a reversal of the lower court's orders and remanding of the case for more detailed findings by the commission.

The appeals court found that the North Western case differs from the Milwaukee case in that the North Western plan was approved by creditors of the road and therefore the court was not obliged to review merely the question of sufficient findings, but was reviewing a plan already approved by various groups of creditors. The court asserted that, since the creditors had approved the plan, "the problem of the court is solved."

No Better Plan Proposed.

The decision declared that the plan should be approved since all those who favored the plan in the lower court in effect waived more specific findings. Those who did not vote or express their views left it to the court to represent them, it was added, and interested parties have failed to produce a better plan.

The decision concluded by finding that there is no unfair allocation of new securities, as charged by the appellants, and no impairment of the property rights of any bondholder. The court challenged the right of the mortgage trustees to attack the reorganization plan in the face of approval by a majority of the bondholders. A railroad is a public servant, the decision stated, and a road "floundering about in overwhelming debts cannot give satisfactory service to the public."

Attorneys for the railroad and trustee interests said they anticipated an appeal of the Circuit court's ruling to the United States Supreme court.

Money in Circulation Sets All-Time Peak in January

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—Money in circulation, the treasury said today, reached a new all-time high of $11,174,683,758 in January. This was an average of $83.43 per person. A year ago the total was $8,592,832,072.

Fewer Business Failures Reported for Last Week

New York, Feb. 9 (AP).—Business failures in the week ended Feb. 5 numbered 241 compared with 248 the week before and 284 in the corresponding 1941 week, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

CHICAGO HOUSING PROJECTS GIVEN DEFENSE RATINGS

Approve Units as War Workers' Homes.

President Roosevelt's announcement that slum clearance housing thruout the country must be retarded substantially until after the war, will not affect the federal housing program in Chicago, Elizabeth Wood, executive secretary of the Chicago Housing authority, said yesterday.

The status of the 1,804 dwelling units scheduled for the five CHA housing projects has been changed from so-called "slum clearance" to "defense homes," Miss Wood said. This was done some time ago when CHA found it difficult to get bids on the Frances Cabrini Homes, north side project, until the government was assured the houses would be built for war workers.

Obtained Materials Priorities.

Classified as "defense homes," CHA had no difficulty in getting priorities on building materials, bids were obtained and work is under way.

This change in classification was extended to the west side project, known as "Illinois 22-S," which enabled it to get priorities. It also will apply to the three contemplated south and west side projects which are still in preliminary stages of planning.

Miss Wood reported 100 homes are scheduled for completion at the Frances Cabrini Homes by July 15 and the remaining 486 units before the end of the year.

Finish 150 Monthly.

At the "Ill. 22-S" project, Roosevelt road and Racine avenue, 100 homes are scheduled for occupancy by July 1 and 150 more monthly until the 834 units are completed by Dec. 31, 1942.

There are three other smaller projects announced but all are in the formative stage. At 43d and Lowe, $650,000 will be spent on 108 dwelling units; at 31st and Lituanica, 144 units will be built at a cost of $864,000, and at the northeast corner of California and 26th, $782,000 will be spent on 132 homes.

SENATOR WARNS INFLATION WILL RAISE WAR COST

New York, Feb. 9 (AP).—Declaring that "we are setting our sights to spend six or 8 million dollars an hour" in the war, Sen. Harold H. Burton [R., O.] said tonight that the nation must take all possible steps to ward off inflation and protect its financial structure.

"The question will be whether a self-governing nation can defend itself against inflation well enough to survive in as complex a civilization as that of today," he declared at the monthly meeting of the Ohio Society of New York. "The danger of this conflict is not fully understood in America.

"The last war cost us 31 billion dollars, but Bernard Baruch has estimated that 13 billions of this represents the rise in prices during that war," he said. "This was not uncontroled or runaway inflation. It kept within comparatively reasonable bounds, yet it increased the cost of the war in dollars from 18 to 31 billions."

ANNOUNCE RULES FOR PREMIUM ON METALS OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—The government announced today regulations by which mining companies will be paid premium prices for over-quota production of copper, lead, and zinc.

The quotas for each mine had not been prepared, but will be worked out by a joint committee of the War Production board and the Office of Price Administration, it was announced jointly by W. L. Batt, materials director of the WPB, and Leon Henderson, director of OPA.

The premium prices of 17 cents a pound for copper, 11 cents for zinc, and 9¼ cents for lead, will apply to all production over the prescribed after Feb. 1, regardless of when the tonnage payments are announced and actual payments begin.

"By continuing meanwhile to ship thru ordinary channels, producers will be assured premium prices for over-quota production," the statement said.

Saving and Loan Groups' Assets Top Six Billions

Resources of the nation's savings, building and loan associations at the close of 1941 reached 6 billion dollars, the highest in seven years, the United States Savings and Loan league reported yesterday. The total was 5 billion 800 million at the end of 1940; 6 billian 400 million at the end of 1934, and 8 billion 800 million at the end of 1930, when the all-time peak was reached.

AMERICANS' INCOME OF 89 BILLION IN 1941 IS ALL-TIME RECORD

Washington, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Department of Commerce estimated today that Americans received a record income of $89,425,000,000 last year.

This total, which included wages, dividends, profits, and other types, was about $13,700,000,000 more than in 1940 and about $7,000,000,000 more than in 1929.

Income payments, however, fell below national income last year, which was estimated at more than $92,000,000,000. The principal difference between the two figures is the amount of income produced but saved by business during the year.

Salaries and wages totaled $59,879,000,000, an increase of 22 per cent. While wages were generally higher and were paid to more people in most fields of labor, the major increase, 39 per cent, occurred in manufacturing industries. Farm income was about 35 per cent higher. Dividends gained 9 per cent. Relief payments were slightly lower.

WAR BOARD SET UP TO RULE U. S. MERCHANT SHIPS

Roosevelt Order Pools Ocean-Going Vessels.

direct operations of vessels under their control and the United States will manage shipping under American domination.

Broad powers are granted to Land in the executive order and many functions and powers of the United States maritime commission are transferred to the new board. Maritime commission officials said the commission will continue to operate and concentrate especially on the 4 billion dollar shipbuilding program, which will be supplemented by another 3 billion 800 millions, according to a request to congress today for a contract authorization of that amount for the maritime commission. President Roosevelt has set a goal of 8 million tons of additional shipping to be built this year and another 10 million tons next year.

Held Strategic Factor.

The foreign policy association declared recently that the potential control of world trade routes by the united nations is probably the greatest single military factor now favoring them.

In his executive order creating the war shipping administration, responsible only to him, the President drew upon the authority given him in the first war powers act, approved last December, and delegated the following powers to the shipping administration:

1. Control the operation, purchase, charter, requisition, and use of all ocean vessels under the flag or control of the United States, except combatant vessels of the army, navy and coast guard; fleet auxiliaries of the navy; transports owned by the army and navy, and vessels engaged in coastwise, intercoastal, and inland transportation under the control of the Office of Defense Transportation.
2. Allocate vessels under the flag or control of the United States for use by the army, navy, other federal departments and agencies, and the governments of the united nations.

Insurance Included.

3. Provide marine insurance and reinsurance against loss or damage by the risks of war.
4. Establish the conditions to be complied with as a condition to receiving priorities and other advantages.
5. Represent the United States in dealing with the British ministry of war transport and other government shipping agencies.
6. Maintain current data on the availability of shipping existing or under construction and provide such data to other departments and agencies.
7. Keep the President informed on the progress made in carrying out the order and perform other duties assigned by the President.

Authority to Be Complete.

"The administrator is authorized to issue such directives concerning shipping operations as he may deem necessary or appropriate, and his decisions shall be final with respect to the functions and authorities so vested in him," the order said.

The administrator was instructed, however, to consult the chairman of the War Production board, Donald M. Nelson, concerning the priority of moving cargoes of commodities and materials for the war effort and civilian economy.

Land was granted authority to use current government personnel and maritime commission funds in exercising his functions.

EXPECT STRIKING TOOL MAKERS TO RETURN TO JOBS

About 450 striking employés of the Armstrong Brothers Tool company, 317 North Francisco avenue, are expected to return to work today at the request of the War Labor board, to which the dispute was certified by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins on Saturday.

Anthony Doria, international vice president of the AFL United Auto Workers, local 732, which went on strike Thursday, said yesterday that union members will be notified of the board's action today and probably will return to work. About 100 employés kept on working despite the strike. The union is asking a closed shop.

FLORIDA ROUTE.

I would appreciate a review of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. Has the road participated in the general upturn of railroad revenues? Is it paying dividends on its common stock? Can you explain the difference between the common and class A common shares?—B. M.

Answer: For the 11 months thru November, 1941, the Atlantic Coast Line railroad had total operating revenue of $60,951,878 and net profit of $9,044,758, equal to $10.97 a common share. This compared with operating revenue of $44,976,127 and profit of $787,683, or 95 cents a share, in the corresponding 1940 period. The 1941 profit was the highest since the $11,921,507 for the full year of 1929. Comparative earnings follow:

1939	47,099,287	804,074	.96
1938	44,164,025	*1,858,450	......
1937	47,972,180	2,454,141	2.97

*Loss.

Atlantic Coast Line has 1,967 shares of 5 per cent noncumulative preferred stock, $100 par, and 823,427 shares of common stock outstanding. In 1941 the common received a dividend of $1 a share, the first since 1937.

Of the common stock outstanding 10,000 shares are designated as class A. The A shares originally were issued by the Richmond and Petersburg railroad, which became the Atlantic Coast Line in 1898. Since this stock was tax exempt, its owners preferred not to exchange it for Atlantic Coast Line common and it was given a separate designation in the railroad's charter. The common and class A common shares are both $100 par and have identical rights, interests, and privileges.

Atlantic Coast Line, with more than 5,100 miles of operated lines, is a leading system in the south. It provides a main route from northeastern states to Florida. The road carries the bulk of the Florida citrus fruit crop, the largest individual traffic item from the standpoint of revenues. Passenger business also is substantial. Funded debt totals approximately $152,000,000.

POSTAL SAVINGS.

Is interest on postal savings exempt from income tax? If it is not exempt, would I be required to report it as income if I did not withdraw it?—G. A.

Answer: Interest on money deposited in a postal savings account prior to March 1, 1941, is exempt from income tax. Interest on any funds deposited on or after that date is fully taxable. If interest is available to you, it is taxable as income whether you withdraw it or not. The same applies to interest on bank deposits.

BUYS AUTO PARK SITE WHEN RENT CUT IS REFUSED

Tire and car rationing and resultant decrease in the downtown parking business was the indirect cause for the purchase of the northeast corner of Wabash avenue and Van Buren street by Nicholas R. Dispenza, president of Downtown Parking Stations, Inc., from the Marshall Field estate, it was learned yesterday.

Dispenza, who has a lease on the corner expiring in 17 months, spent a reported $42,000 on a double deck parking structure, shortly after he rented the land, which is 100 by 104 feet, in 1934. Recently he asked a reduction in rent, basing his plea on a drop of 25 per cent in business. He met the estate's refusal with an offer of about $100,000 for the property. It was accepted.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—The Board of Economic Warfare today revoked all general licenses authorizing the exportation of cocoa beans, powdered cocoa, and chocolate to destinations other than Canada, Great Britain, Northern Ireland, Newfoundland, Greenland, and Iceland. The order is effective at midnight, Feb. 20.

ONE PLANE NOW WORTH TEN NEXT YEAR, NAM PRESIDENT DECLARES

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 9 (AP).—William P. Witherow, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, urged an increase in America's war effort tonight, and said "one plane today is worth 10 next year, one gun 20, and one ship a dozen."

W. P. Witherow.

In a speech before 700 members of the Ohio Valley Board of Trade, Witherow said the responsibility of arming America's forces "falls squarely on the shoulders of management and labor in every state of the union." He urged his audience to start planning immediately "how can we do more? How can we increase production? How can we save vital raw materials? How can we make better things?"

Witherow praised the present coöperation between government, labor, and management.

ACT TO PREVENT LACK OF FUEL OIL FOR EAST COAST

Davies Orders Gasoline Movement Delayed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—Because of a threatened shortage of fuel oil on the east coast government officials and the oil industry agreed today to convert additional transportation facilities to that service and undertake a voluntary civilian conservation program.

Cars and tankers now used for bringing gasoline and light petroleum products to the east coast were ordered converted into fuel carriers at once, tho it was admitted this would result in a corresponding decrease in stocks of gasoline and light products.

Asks Immediate Action.

Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum coördinator who issued the order, called attention of 1,500 oil companies to declining stocks on the Atlantic coast of fuel oil needed by war and other heavy industries. He asked the companies to telegraph him immediately what action they had taken and the extent of the relief that could be counted upon.

Pooling of oil products was ordered by Davies last week as a result of tanker sinkings and diversion of several tankers to military service. He authorized the industry on the coast to appoint a committee to obtain distribution of available supplies in a "manner that will assure filling of all military, war industry, and essential civilian requirements."

Plan Advertising Drive.

The nation-wide conservation program, to be promoted by the petroleum industry war council, will be based on the slogan:

"Oil is ammunition—use it wisely."

Individual companies will carry it on thru newspaper, radio, magazine, and billboard advertising, windshield stickers, station signs, and other means.

Fuel Oil Stock Falls.

New York, Feb. 9 (AP).—The American Petroleum institute's latest report on fuel oil stocks on the east coast showed that supplies of light fuel oil and distillate fuels had dropped to 13,400,000 barrels on Jan. 31 from 21,906,000 barrels last Dec. 6. Stores of industrial fuel oils slipped to 8,759,000 barrels from 12,151,000 barrels in the same period.

The light fuel figure of 13,400,000 barrels compared with 13,731,000 barrels a year ago, when stocks of heavy fuel oil totaled 9,543,000 barrels.

STATE RATE BODY MAY CHALLENGE RAIL FARE HIKES

The Illinois Commerce commission may make its next move today in fighting the 10 per cent increases in intrastate passenger fares which the railroads ordered put into effect at midnight last night in violation of an Illinois commission order, a spokesman for the state agency said yesterday.

The commission, scheduled to meet at 10 a. m. today in Chicago, probably will cite the railroads to show cause why they violated the commission's ruling, the spokesman said. Such a citation would be preliminary to any court action the commission may decide upon.

On authority of the Interstate Commerce commission all of the nation's railroads hiked passenger fares 10 per cent on tickets purchased after midnight. In violating the Illinois commission's order, the Illinois roads assumed authority of the Interstate Commerce commission over the intrastate rates.

President Signs Bill Giving Broader Gas Power to FPC

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed today legislation broadening the Federal Power commission's authority over expansion of natural gas facilities. The measure requires that an FPC certificate of necessity and convenience be obtained to engage in the transportation or sale of natural gas or the extension or acquisition of facilities. Existing law requires such certificates only for new construction or extension to a market already served by another company.

LOANS TO BUSINESS UP IN WEEK DESPITE LAG IN SOME AREAS

Business demand for bank loans expanded in some parts of the nation but declined in others in the week ended last Wednesday, with the result that the total of such loans reported by reserve system member banks showed only a moderate gain, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. The increase over the volume for the preceding week was 13 million dollars.

Following are the principal assets and liabilities of the member banks of the federal reserve system in 101 cities as at the close of business Wednesday [last six ciphers omitted]:

German Debt Trebled Since Start of War

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 9 (AP).—The German public debt increased to 128 billion 500 million reichsmarks at the end of 1941 from 37 billion 200 million at the start of the war, Minister of Finance Count Schwerin-Krosigk informed the Berlin Academy for the Administration of War Finances.

This figure "appears absolutely supportable," the finance minister said, in view of the rise in the national income from 46 billion reichsmarks in 1933 to 80 billion in 1938, and an estimated 110 to 115 billion in 1941.

[Taking the mark at its nominally quoted value of 40 cents in United States money, the top figure for the public debt equals 51 billion dollars and the higher amount estimated as national income equals 46 billion dollars.]

Uses "Self-Increasing" Tax.

Schwerin-Krosigk told the academy that control of the national economy at the beginning of the war was accompanied by "a radical transformation in the method of financing expenditures," and the government's policy of applying self-increasing taxes and reabsorbing buying power.

It was possible, he said, to cover war expenditures up to 50 per cent by taxation, compared with only 13 per cent before the start of the war, a proportion, he added, "never before achieved by any belligerent country."

The government's income from taxes, the finance chief said, increased from 6 billion 800 million marks in 1933 to more than 32 billion marks in 1941.

Vichy Borrows More.

VICHY, France, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Vichy government by official decree borrowed another eight billion francs [nominally 160 million dollars] today from the Bank of France to pay continuing costs of the German army of occupation.

The latest loan, without interest, brought the total advanced by the bank for occupation expenses to 150 billion francs, altho a ceiling of 85 billions had been set in a government decree Dec. 31, 1940. Actual payments to the Germans, however, have totaled more than 210 billion francs.

HOGS WITHHELD DESPITE RUMOR OF PRICE CURB

A sharp curtailment of hog supplies thruout the country yesterday was the answer of farmers to last week's threat of lend-lease buyers to force an "unofficial" price ceiling on hogs by placing price limits on pork products bought for shipment to England. The 11 leading markets received only 75,000 head, the smallest Monday total in four months.

Pressed to obtain supplies to keep their plants working normally, packers paid an average of $12.35 for the day's hog supply, 5 cents more than at the close of the week.

WHOLESALE EGG PRICES DECLINE AS RECEIPTS GAIN

Arrivals of fresh eggs from country shippers showed a 58 per cent increase yesterday over a week ago and wholesale prices broke as much as a cent a dozen. Prices have declined more than 6 cents since Jan. 28 and are at the lowest levels since last September. Best graded eggs sold at 28½ to 28¾ cents a dozen.

The weakness in wholesale prices was reflected in the futures markets, prices declining more than ½ cent on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Butter futures sold at the lowest levels in five weeks, closing .2 to .4 cent lower.

Chief of WPB's Auto Unit Appoints Two on Staff

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP).—Ernest C. Kanzler, chief of the War Production board's automotive branch, appointed William C. Klann of Detroit and E. C. Brandt of Pittsburgh to his staff today. Klann, who spent 32 years in the employ of various automobile manufacturers will supervise conversion to war production and expedite procurement of contracts. Brandt has been technical consultant of the machine tool and equipment division of the WPB in Washington and will serve Kanzler's organization in a similar capacity.

CIO AID ASSAILS DOLLAR-A-YEAR MEN'S PRACTICES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—A CIO representative told the house small business committee today that the practices of some defense dollar-a-year men constituted "a scandalous situation."

"It is a reprehensible practice to turn over governmental machinery to interested parties in industry," asserted Harold J. Ruttenberg of Pittsburgh, research director for the Steel Workers' Organizing committee.

Ruttenberg said the War Production board's scrap iron section was an example of "unfair" use of confidential information required from scrap iron dealers by scrap iron brokers holding governmental positions. The federal scrap control program, he asserted, had fallen into the hands of a dozen or so of the principal scrap brokers.

BILL TO PREVENT U. S. SALES UNDER PARITY OFFERED

Group Charges Drive to Curb Prices.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9 (AP).—Legislation drafted to prevent the sale of government held farm commodities at below parity prices was introduced today jointly by Senators John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.], Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.], and Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.], and also individually by Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.]. The Bankhead-Gillette-Thomas measure specifically would prohibit the Commodity Credit corporation from selling farm products at prices below parity.

Other governmental agencies would face the same prohibition under the terms of the bill, on sales of commodities obtained from the Commodity Credit corporation. Distribution of commodities by the agricultural marketing service for relief purposes would not be affected by the bill.

Nye charged there was "evidence of an intention by various officers and agencies in the executive branch of the government, by manipulative practices and otherwise, to prevent the prices of farm commodities from reaching or being maintained at parity levels."

Parity is a price calculated to give the farmer the same return he received in a basic period, usually 1909-1914.

Wickard Opposes Rise.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard recently said farm prices ought not to go above parity, altho the new price control law would permit them to reach 110 per cent of parity before ceilings could be imposed.

Farm bloc members have charged that the government intended to sell surplus crops under its control in an effort to keep prices down. Nye said any such action "would seriously disrupt the production of agricultural commodities essential to the successful prosecution of the war."

GIVEN WAR CREDIT

Edgewater Park, Miss., Feb. 9 (AP).—American farmers, given credit for keeping England in the war, were told today that it was up to them, thru continued production, to see that the allies were able to push the fight. "If it wasn't for American food, England would not be fighting in our common cause today," R. M. Evans, administrator of agricultural adjustment and conservation, told the AAA's southern regional conference here.

BIDS ON BONDS OF MILWAUKEE COUNTY OPENED

Halsey, Stuart & Co. was high bidder yesterday on $7,200,000 of Milwaukee county relief bonds due May 20, 1943, with a bid of 100.038 for 0.70s. On alternate bid for serial notes due April, 1943-'48 a group headed by National City Bank of New York was high with a bid of 100.069 for 1.40s. The National City group was high on $3,800,000 of Milwaukee county corporate notes due May 20, 1943, with a bid of 100.0105 for a 0.60 per cent coupon rate. Award of the issues is expected today.

The Interstate Commerce commission yesterday authorized the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company to issue and sell $5,150,000 of equipment trust certificates at 99.222 per cent. They will bear 1¾ per cent interest.

A syndicate headed by Eastman, Dillon & Co. today will offer $1,500,000 of 10 year 4½ per cent convertible sinking fund debentures of Cornell-Dubilier Electric corporation at a price of 100 and accrued interest. Proceeds will be used to retire outstanding notes and to provide additional working capital.

START BUILDING NEW PLANT FOR FANSTEEL UNIT

Construction was started yesterday on a government-financed plant to expand the production of tantalum by the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation. Tantalum is a metal used in the manufacture of munitions, metal cutting tools, radio tubes, spinnerets for rayon, and for other products.

The new plant will be owned by the Defense Plant corporation and operated by the Tantalum Defense corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of Fansteel. The site of the structure is on the north side of 22nd street near Sheridan road in North Chicago across the street from the Fansteel plant.

Robert J. Aitchison, Fansteel president, said the war department has not authorized the release of any information giving the cost, size, or the nature of the specific products which the new plant will make.

GRAIN MARKET LAGS; FRACTIONS CUT FROM PRICES

Minimum Interest Shown in Futures Trading.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Wheat for future delivery finished unchanged to ⅛ cent lower with May at $1.28½ a bushel. Corn was ¼ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher; oats, unchanged to ¼ cent lower; rye, ⅜ to ⅝ cent higher; soy beans, ⅝ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower and lard, unchanged to 5 cents per hundredweight higher.

Buying of grain futures was at a minimum as the threat to Singapore, the weaker stock market, and the loss of markets for cash grain to the government's low priced feed wheat, kept outside buyers away from the grain pits.

List West Coast Prices.

The Agricultural Marketing Service reported that the government feed wheat was offered for sale at Pacific coast points at $1.60 to $1.65 per hundred pounds. Sales of other grains at these points last week were made in the following range: Corn, $1.83 to $1.84 per hundredweight; oats, $2.10 to $2.35; and feed barley, $1.95 to $2. Grain dealers reported similar prices prevailed thruout the nation, explaining the loss of feed grain markets.

The Commodity Credit corporation, the government's grain company, disclosed it had sold almost 26 million bushels of wheat in January. Since then it has sold more than 10 million bushels of feed wheat. In the week ended Jan. 24, it sold almost nine million bushels of corn.

Supplies Not Expected to Last.

The CCC reported it had less than 100 million bushels of corn on hand and only slightly over 100 million bushels of wheat. At the rate the government grain was being consumed before it offered its feed wheat for sale, the grain men hadn't expected the government stocks to last long.

"The biggest worry of CCC officials between now and the end of April [when wheat loans fall due] will be how to keep their market advantage and maintain wheat prices at a level low enough to bring about default of the larger part of the 350 million bushels of loan wheat," commented a large brokerage house. "It must replenish its ammunition in the way of stocks to offers. Its wheat supplies are diminishing rapidly."

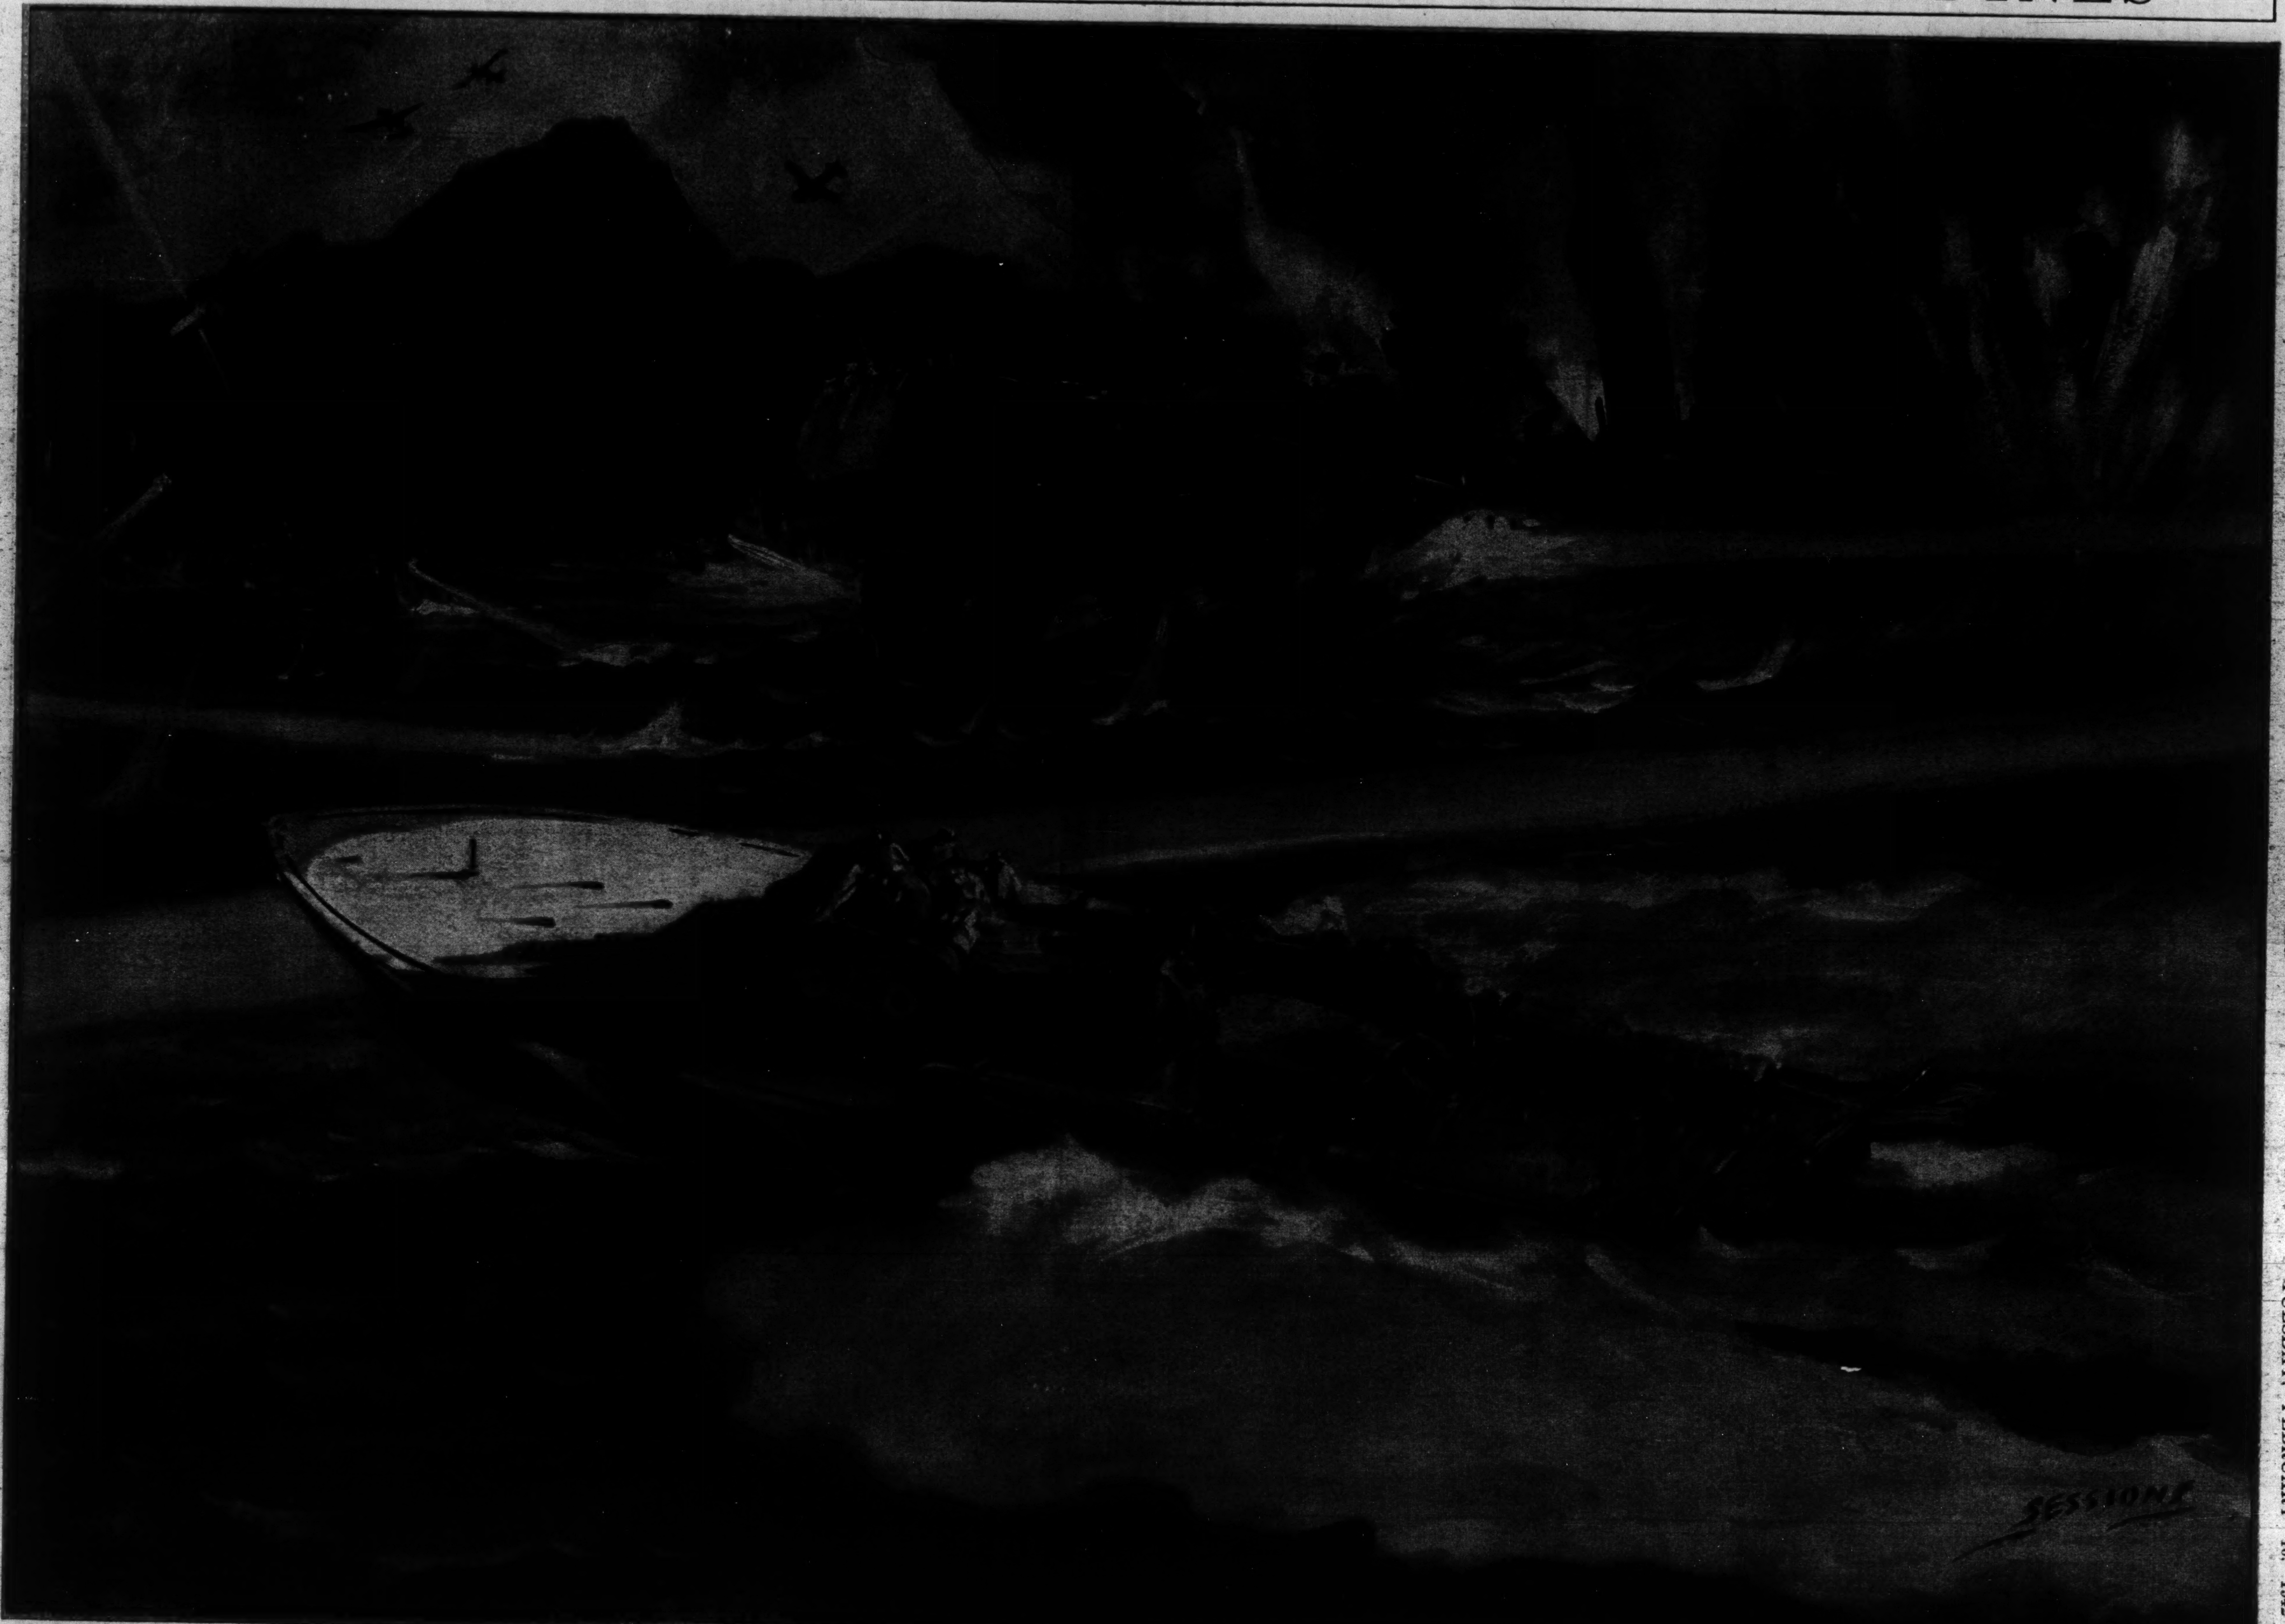
HEROISM IN THE PHILIPPINES



THIS IS THE ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the daring exploit of Lieut. John D. Bulkeley of the American navy, who destroyed a 5,000 ton Japanese vessel in Binanga Bay, within the entrance to Subic Bay, in the island of Luzon. In the dark of night with a crew of eight men in a small motor torpedo boat he dashed full speed into the bay, unleashed a torpedo, and saw it strike home in a blinding flash. All the while the mosquito boat was under fire of machine guns and three-inch shore batteries. Bulkeley, 30 years old and a graduate of the Naval Academy class of 1933, was commended for his gallantry in a government communique dated Jan. 20. Six days later another communique told of a similar successful exploit in Subic Bay, in which Ensign George Cox torpedoed a Japanese vessel. Bulkeley also took part in that affair.
